FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE 19 Aug 70

U. S. Senator Bob Dole (R-Kans.) today reported to the Senate the names of TV stations responding to his request for air time to present contrasting views to answer commercials of the "Amendment to End the War" committee.

Dole gave the names of 36 stations running contrasting views and said, "These stations understand the 'Fairness Doctrine' and are presenting to their viewers arguments on both sides of this particular issue."

The Kansas Senator also commented on those stations refusing to broadcast views opposite those of the paid commercials, "A number of other TV stations have refused to present contrasting views, but some have indicated that they are adhering to the requirements of the 'Fairness Doctrine'. A few responses, unfortunately, indicate only those with money are entitled to express their views on this powerful public media." He then gave the list of those stations refusing to run contrasting views.

Dole concluded, "Now that the principal sponsors of the so-called 'Amendment to End the War' -- which should be designated the 'Lose the Peace Amendment' -- have entirely rewritten their proposal, I shall again contact the stations which previously declined. The amendment is now more meaningless than ever and it occurs to me that the sponsors should return the hundreds of thousands of dollars solicited from the public based on the original text of the amendment."
