PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS ON HAITI
STATEMENT OF SENATE REPUBLICAN LEADER BOB DOLE

OMAHA, NEBRASKA -- Senate Republican Leader Bob Dole tonight issued the following statement:

"All Americans want to see an end to the Cedras regime and to human rights abuses in Haiti. However, the President did not make a convincing case that an invasion to return Aristede to power is worth the risk of any American lives. If the President can not make his case to Congress and the American people, the United States should not invade Haiti. The President has not exhausted all of his options, and he should continue to search for a peaceful resolution."
