DOLE ON ADMINISTRATION ANNOUNCEMENT ON KRUGGERANDS

"The President kept his word, as we knew he would. I hope the critics who have been second-guessing the Administration's intention on this issue will take proper note of today's action."

"The President has now put into effect all of the immediate sanctions envisioned in the legislation which was pending before us. By fully joining the Congress on this issue, the President has made it clear to the South African authorities that all Americans speak with one voice against apartheid. It should also be increasingly clear that we took the right action in the Senate in deferring further action on the so-called sanctions bill," Dole said.
