MEMORANDUM

DECEMBER 21, 1993

TO: SENATOR DOLE
FROM: JO-ANNE

Thursday, January 13. 12:00 noon, Des Moines, Iowa. Associated General Contractors of Iowa annual convention. 250 contractors plus spouses. Bill Hansen is extremely anxious to have you do this event (calls about 3 times daily). (Has a turboprop he can make available for your transportation, and is looking for a jet.) I have checked with Judy Brown and Iowa Republicans, both of whom report there is no other activity of significance around this date. However, Iowa Republicans would like to put together a fundraiser for their major donors to renew their membership for 1994, probably hosted by John Ruan.

Re: Iowa Appearance @ Assoc. General Contractors Convention
Thursday noon, January 13, 1994
Airport Hilton Inn-Des Moines, Iowa

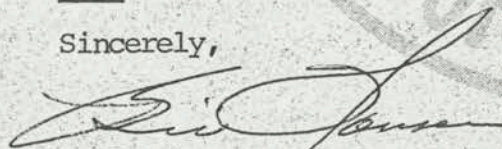

Dear Senator Dole:

You were well received at both of our previous conventions in 1987 and 1988. Our contractors statewide became strong supporters of yours in the 1988 caucus in Iowa and were pleased to be a part of your victory in this state that year.

As I'm sure you're aware, the parade of candidates for '96 Caucus has already begun, with various lesser Republican potentials making their appearance at some of the trade association meetings. However, the AGC of Iowa still holds you in high regard and during this past year you have enhanced your image in sparring with the Clinton agenda. For that reason, we'd like to invite you back as our featured speaker on Thursday noon, January 13, 1994. Our location is just across the street from the Des Moines, Iowa airport.

We would be pleased to incur your costs and support your favorite PAC. I hope that you can fit this into your schedule.

Attention: Yvonne L. Hopkins, Executive Assistant

Dear Senator Dole:

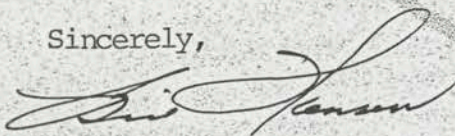

In August of this year, we extended a speaking invitation to you on behalf of the Associated General Contractors of Iowa for our annual convention on Thursday noon, January 13, 1994 at the Airport Hilton in Des Moines, Iowa. More than 250 Iowa highway contractors will be attending and will receive you with the same strong reception that they gave you at our conventions in 1987 and 1988.

I have visited with Jim Greenfield, Executive Director of the Iowa Republican party who is willing to work with your staff in pursuing additional appearances at that same time, if this would be helpful.

Enclosed find a clip from this week's Des Moines Register, in which their political writer talks about the visits and impact of other Republican contenders. It is just one more reason why I'm anxious to have you speak at our annual convention.

With our convention now slightly more than 30 days ahead, we'd like to firm up the arrangements. Please let us know if you can schedule us as we'd really like to have you in Des Moines, Iowa.

Alexander sightings in Iowa

Alexander gets good marks from many GOP leaders for his folksy, easy-going style.

Those of us who watch Iowa politics have learned to keep an eye on out-of-office former Southern governors with little to do but run for president. And so it is that we've spotted former Tennessee Gov. Lamar Alexander, quietly making the rounds in Iowa as he prepares to run for the Republican presidential nomination in 1996.

Alexander, who served as Education secretary under George Bush, is getting good reviews from GOP moderates in Iowa. While it's far too early for them to make predictions about how he'll finish in 1996, many party leaders say they expect him to do well here.

Alexander gets good marks from many GOP leaders for his folksy, easy-going style. He is picking up a lot of early help from key moderates in Iowa, including Marvin Pomerantz, Dick Redman and Mary Louise Smith.

Alexander has more than those folks going for him in Iowa. First, he comes off as a moderate sort of guy in a party increasingly dominated by right-wing kooks. Second, the conservative vote inside the GOP could easily be split among Bob Dole, Jack Kemp, Phil Gramm and maybe others. In

ON CAPITOL HILL

David
YEPSEN

1980, George Bush parlayed strong support among moderates into a plurality victory as the conservatives fractured their vote.

Third, Alexander has a lot of time to spend in Iowa campaigning — the way Jimmy Carter had in 1976 and Bush did in 1979. He's not bogged down in Washington. Fourth, he has campaigned in Tennessee, a rural state where retail, one-on-one campaign skills are required just as they are in Iowa. Five, he understands education and agriculture, issues Iowa voters value.

In addition to good retail political skills, Alexander has impressed Iowa Republicans with his television prowess when he did his monthly satellite GOP TV show out of West Des Moines. His use of state-of-the-art campaign television technologies enable him to pump his message far and wide. Innovative use of new campaign technologies has been an early sign of a winner for a long time in U.S. politics.

The 1996 Iowa GOP caucuses are likely to be as important as ever, according to Democratic National Chairman Dave Wilhelm, who was also back in the state recently. With California moving its primary up from June to March of 1996 and with the creation of a Midwestern regional primary, Wilhelm said the small states of Iowa and New Hampshire again become places where candidates look for a win to boost their media attention and money as they head into big states.

Gramm calls it "the slingshot" effect. With the calendar so bunched, it means the Republican nominee for president in 1996 will likely be decided

So no one is surprised to hear that former Labor Secretary Lynn Martin has scheduled a visit to Iowa on Jan. 25 to look at a presidential campaign. If she gets in, she would crowd Alexander for votes of GOP moderates.

Great Mentions and Trial Balloons: House Majority Leader Brent Siegrist, a Council Bluffs Republican, is mulling a bid for Congress against Neal Smith in 1996. Republicans believe Smith is vulnerable in his new district but no big-name candidates have surfaced for the 1994 fight. Besides, Smith has a ton of money and GOP resources are going to be deployed in the race for governor.

Siegrist figures if any Republican is going to knock off Smith it will most likely have to be a moderate Republican from outside Polk County. Such a candidate can sew up the anti-Des Moines vote while still appealing to suburban independents and evangelical Republicans living in Polk County.

Also, Republican sources say they're hearing that former state Representative Paul Johnson, a Decorah Democrat, is in line for a top appointment at the USDA. Johnson is a farmer with a lot of credibility in the environmental community and the GOPers say he might be tapped for a job at the Soil Conservation Service. Johnson's environmentalism tends to drive the fence-row-to-fence-row types bonkers.

The Republican victories in Davenport have energized the GOP and there's talk of trying to knock off Democrat Bob Arnould, the former House speaker and minority leader. Arnould has a "safe" Democratic district but some of those precincts were voting Republican in City Hall races earlier this month.

If nothing else, fielding a solid GOP challenger against Arnould is considered a worthwhile political exercise because it would force him to campaign at home instead of traveling around the state helping to elect other Democrats. That would work to the benefit of state Representative Phil Wise, D-Keokuk, who is trying to replace Arnould as Democratic leader.

How to Get a Law: The Legislature approved a big ethics bill last year and members went home talking about how they were cleaning up the sleaze.

We'll see. This year they'll get to pay

Campaign Disclosure Board has presented the governor and lawmakers with a budget to implement the new law and the tab is $133,000. Look for those who don't like the law — and there are plenty — to kill the request for more money to ensure the law has no teeth.

It does no good to have disclosure requirements without the auditors and equipment needed to monitor the disclosure. Honorable lawmakers, who complain they get tarred with the same brush as the duds, will have an opportunity to prove they are interested in cleaning up politics.

Gov. Terry Branstad's much-touted "health-reform committee" is drawing poor marks from Democrats, who say they were conned into thinking it would be a balanced group. Instead, they say it was dominated by the interest groups sent to produce a study that will make the governor look good.

"I'm really sad," said state Representative Mark Haverland, D-Polk City. "Like Charlie Brown, I believed the hype, ran up there and they pulled the football away. I shouldn't be as naive as I am, but I wanted it to work so bad."

No Heavy Lifting, Either: State Representative Steve Grubbs, a Davenport Republican, has been named head of the GOP's legislative campaign committee, the group that tries to elect Republicans to the assembly. He cut his teeth as a student body president at the University of Iowa and said, "Comparing my time in both positions, I would say that not only is the pay better as a state representative, it is also a far easier job."

Iowa's bureaucrats still haven't learned how to speak English. According to a report from the Legislative Service Bureau, the "intermediate criminal sanctions task force's resources analysis subcommittee" has concluded that two judicial districts "could maximize the use of incarceration resources by reducing the numbers of persons sentenced to prison and increasing utilization of community-based resources."

Or as they say in Lake Mills: Let more criminals out on the streets.

FROM Governor Branstad's "State of the State"

IOWA - A QUALITY PLACE TO LIVE

High quality of life is another essential component to Iowa's foundation for the future. Iowa offers a high quality of life represented by excellence in health care, a strong family support structure, low incidence of crime and a balance between natural resource utilization and preservation. Promoting Iowans' well-being by enhancing our commitment to making Iowa a quality place to live and visit will support our efforts to increase Iowa's population.

Health Care Reform

The issue of health care reform is being debated across the nation. Access to quality, affordable health care for Iowans is a key goal of Governor Branstad's health care reform proposals. Threats to the achievement of this goal, such as escalating costs and the number of uninsured Iowans, must be met head on.

The Iowa Health Reform Council

The Iowa Health Reform Council was created by Governor Branstad in the spring of 1993 to develop a health care reform plan for Iowa. The Council was made up of 60 members with diverse backgrounds and interests in health care, including providers, insurers, consumers, representatives of labor and business and legislators.

Membership of the Council reflected the Governor's desire to be inclusive, bi-partisan and responsive to the concerns of all Iowans. It also recognized the need to develop a consensus-based proposal with solutions to address Iowa's unique needs, focusing particularly on the state's rural and elderly populations.

While the membership of the Iowa Health Reform Council was large and diverse, Governor Branstad believed development of a successful reform plan would require the involvement of even more Iowans. Nearly 500 Iowans served on 16 subcommittees created to study and make recommendations relating to specific health care issues. Further input was provided by more than 5,000 Iowans who participated across the state at public hearings designed to solicit citizens' views on health care reform.

Consensus-Building Process

To provide a basis for developing its reform recommendations, the Iowa Health Reform Council first identified the problems that need to be addressed in our health care system.

- Health care costs are out of control. Inefficient and inappropriate use of services, fear of medical liability and lack of consumer information and education were among the reasons cited by the Council as contributing to the increasing costs of health care.

- Access to care is not adequate. High costs, health insurer risk selection and rating practices and a shortage of health care professionals in rural areas have created barriers to access for many Iowans.
- Health care quality is not well defined. Inadequate information exists to assist health professionals, consumers and purchasers of health care to define and monitor the quality of health care delivered.
- Responsibility by all parties in the current system is lacking. The current system encourages irresponsible decision making by consumers who are disconnected from the costs of health care and providers who overserve to protect themselves from the risk of lawsuits.
- The administrative system is confusing. Consumers and health care providers are frustrated and confused by the amount of paperwork and government regulation they encounter in the health care system.
- Changes in society are not adequately addressed. The current health care system does not respond quickly or efficiently enough to changes in our society.

Principles which envision a reformed system that would provide access to affordable, quality health care for all Iowans were also developed. The Council believed agreement on the problems and principles was essential to finding consensus on the solutions.

The Iowa Health Care Reform Plan

The Council recognized that not all of the problems we are experiencing in our health care system lie within the reach of state law. Over half of Iowa employees fall under the jurisdiction of the federal Employee Retirement Income Security Act, known as ERISA, which governs self-funded employee benefits. Some of the problems, like low Medicare reimbursements, are actively caused by federal law. However, the Council members agreed that Iowa can and should move forward to make changes in our system to address the problems of cost, quality and access. Doing so will enable us to influence the reform debate at the federal level and position us well to implement changes when federal reform occurs.

Based on the recommendations made by the Iowa Health Reform Council, Governor Branstad proposes the following as Iowa's Plan to make quality health care more accessible and affordable for all Iowans.

Access

The Iowa Plan will make health care more accessible to all Iowans, so that coverage will continue during breaks in employment or during serious illnesses by:

- Giving all employees access to more affordable group insurance by requiring all employers to offer standard group insurance coverage (Employer conduit);

- Keeping Iowans from losing their insurance when they become sick by requiring that everyone, regardless of medical condition, be eligible for insurance that cannot be canceled or dropped (Guaranteed issue);
- Keeping Iowans who wish to change jobs from losing their health care by requiring that insurance coverage be portable and continuous, without exclusions, waiting periods or new health underwriting or reviews (Portability and continuity of coverage); and
- Making insurance more affordable and stable for all purchasers by moving to a modified community rating of insurance, where previous experience, preexisting conditions and a number of other problematic factors will no longer be used to price insurance coverage, but specifically allowing health choices to be considered (Modified community rating).

Cost

The Iowa Plan will make health care more affordable for all Iowans by:

- Changing the way health insurance is purchased by authorizing and encouraging Health Insurance Purchasing Cooperatives which will increase the market clout of and lower the administrative costs for small buyers, especially individuals and small businesses (Voluntary purchasing cooperatives);
- Changing the way health care is delivered by authorizing and encouraging Accountable Health Plans where hospitals, doctors and other health professionals can combine in more efficient networks to provide care on a pre-planned and pre-funded basis. They will operate within an overall budget tied to the locally negotiated capitated fee per enrollee (Capitated Accountable Health Plans);
- Changing the way we administer the health insurance system by adopting a single claim form and electronic payment system that will significantly reduce administrative costs and allow health professionals to get away from the practice of paper pushing and back to the practice of medicine (Administrative simplification and savings);
- Changing the medical liability system through reduction of the practice of defensive medicine and costs of liability insurance by capping non-economic damages, decreasing the statute of limitations for minors, moving towards binding alternative dispute resolution systems and other tort system reforms (Medical liability reform).

Quality

The Iowa Plan will assure that Iowans receive enhanced quality and greater value for their health care dollar by:

- Developing a statewide health accounting system and corresponding expenditure target so the state can, for the first time, track how well it is doing on health care costs, quality and access (Statewide health accounting system);

- Providing a standard benefits package to facilitate comparison shopping and to assure fair access to all (Standard benefits package);
- Requiring reports to consumers on how well the insurer health plan is doing in terms of key performance indicators and consumer satisfaction and annually allowing consumers free movement between plans to reward those that provide better health care for less money (Health plan report cards); and
- Ensuring that preventive services will be provided without co-pays, deductibles or cost sharing to capture future savings (Preventive care).

Equity -- Rural Access and Tax Equity

The Iowa Plan will assure fair and equal access for all Iowans to quality health services by providing:

- Rural Access developing and supporting a strong rural health care network aimed at:
  - Providing a state income tax credit to new physicians locating and practicing in communities with populations of less than 10,000. The income tax credit would be for an amount up to $10,000 per year for a maximum of ten years;
  - Allowing Iowa hospitals access to the Iowa Communications Network to provide telemedicine services to Iowans in rural and urban areas;
  - Seeking Congressional reform of the federal Medicare program to eliminate the anti-rural reimbursement bias which underpays Iowa providers by over $200 million annually;
  - Expanding the existing family practice residency program to provide rural health practice experience for more physicians, as well as nurses, dentists and pharmacists. Also, a respite program would be developed to make substitute practitioners available to physicians practicing in rural areas to reduce potential burnout. An appropriation of $330,000 is proposed to support these programs;
  - Creating a rural health system program in the Department of Public Health to assist local communities in recruiting physicians and other health professionals; and
- Tax Equity to move aggressively, where Iowa can, to improve the tax environment for health insurance by authorizing tax advantaged medical savings accounts and equal deductibility of health insurance purchases for big business and the self-employed small business person or farmer.

FROM: Vicki Vicki
RE: Health Meeting in Iowa

Senator Grassley's office provided some information that may be helpful in your meeting with the physicians and insurance folks in Iowa.

Principal Financial Agency is the largest financial service corporation in Iowa, servicing predominately small businesses in their pension funds and health benefits funds. You will be meeting with Dick Olson from this group. His CEO is Dave Hurd who is Chairman of the Board of Bill Gradison's group, HIAA. Dave Hurd is a Democrat who supported Senator Grassley's opponent in the last election.

The major concerns for Principal Financial Agency are mandatory alliances and premium caps on insurance. These are the same concerns of the Iowa Medical Society. It is for these reasons that they oppose the Clinton plan.

The major issues for the physicians will also be price controls and anything that would limit a patient to choose his or her doctor. The physicians are very much in favor of Medical Savings Accounts and plans that encourage individual responsibility.

Iowa has a particularly large uninsured population. Because of that, the physicians are very opposed to the Medicare cuts in both the Clinton and Chafee plans. They do not have a large enough privately insured population to offset these reductions in Medicare reimbursement. The Medicare cuts in the Nickles bill are much smaller ($67 billion).

Of note: Senator Grassley attended some town meetings on December 6, 7 and 8. At these meetings many people voiced their support of the Gramm plan since Senator Gramm had been to Iowa only one week before.

SENATOR DOLE
TALKING POINTS FOR IOWA MEETING
JANUARY 13, 1994

- ◆ ONLY IN THE LAST TWO YEARS HAS THE COUNTRY COME TO AGREE THAT OUR HEALTH CARE SYSTEM IS BROKEN. SOME BELIEVE THAT PRESIDENT BUSH WAS DEFEATED BECAUSE HE FAILED TO DEMONSTRATE ANY REAL INTEREST IN THE SUBJECT.
- ◆ CLINTON GRASPED THIS OPPORTUNITY AND MADE IT THE CENTERPIECE OF HIS CAMPAIGN. WITH CLINTON'S ELECTION VICTORY AND HIS PROMISE TO DELIVER A HEALTH PLAN IN "100 DAYS", AND HIS PUTTING HIS WIFE IN CHARGE OF A HUGE TASK FORCE MEETING SECRETLY, THE LEVEL OF EXPECTATION ROSE DRAMATICALLY. THE CONSTANT HYPE AND THE FLOATING OF TRIAL BALLOONS SERVED TO PUT THE ISSUE ON THE FRONTS OF OUR NEWSPAPERS ALMOST DAILY.
- ◆ AS A RESULT, I BELIEVE THERE WILL BE SOME HEALTH CARE BILL THIS YEAR BECAUSE THE POLITICAL RISKS OF NOT DOING IT OUTNUMBER THE POLITICAL RISKS OF DOING IT. THE DEMOCRATS, CONTROLLING BOTH THE CONGRESS AND THE WHITE HOUSE, CANNOT GO HOME FOR THE 1994 ELECTIONS AND BLAME "GRIDLOCK" THIS YEAR.
- ◆ HAVING SAID THAT, MY CONCERN IS THAT THE REFORM WE FINALLY GET WILL BE NOT SO MUCH A CAREFULLY CRAFTED OVERHAUL OF ONE-SEVENTH OF OUR ECONOMY AS IT WILL BE A CAREFULLY CRAFTED POLITICAL SOLUTION TO A TOUGH ISSUE THAT CAN NO LONGER BE AVOIDED.
- ◆ AS YOU ARE TOO PAINFULLY AWARE, THE ORIGINAL CLINTON STRATEGY WAS TO SCORE A QUICK, PREEMPTIVE BLOW AGAINST THE SPECIAL INTEREST GROUPS. THE ADMINISTRATION WANTED TO PREEMPT THE OPPOSITION BY DEVELOPING, BEHIND CLOSED DOORS, A PLAN THAT WOULD ENTIRELY RESHAPE THE FINANCING AND DELIVERY OF HEALTH CARE AS WE KNOW IT IN THIS COUNTRY.
- ◆ BUT, A FUNNY THING HAPPENED ON THE WAY TO REFORM. TO OUTFLANK THE "SPECIAL INTERESTS" THE PRESIDENT NEEDED THE SUPPORT OF THE AMERICAN PUBLIC -- THOSE THAT ELECTED HIM AS A "NEW DEMOCRAT".
- ◆ HOWEVER, FALSE STARTS, INCLUDING THE FAILED STIMULUS PACKAGE, AS WELL AS THE BUDGET RECONCILIATION PACKAGE THOUGHT BY MANY TO BE HEAVY ON SPENDING AND LIGHT ON CUTS, MADE THE PUBLIC EVEN MORE CYNICAL.
- ◆ AS A RESULT, THE DEBATE HAS SHIFTED. IN ADDITION TO THE ADMINISTRATION'S PLAN, THERE ARE MANY OTHER IDEOLOGICAL INTERESTS COMPETING FOR A SEAT AT THE TABLE.
- ◆ WHILE THE PRESIDENT HAS A MORE SIGNIFICANT ROLE THAN ANY GROUP IN THE CONGRESS, IT IS CLEAR THAT HE HAS NO FIRM PUBLIC CONSENSUS BEHIND HIM. IN ADDITION, THERE IS A GREAT DEAL OF PUBLIC CONCERN AND CYNICISM ABOUT HOW HE CAN DELIVER ON ALL OF THE PROMISES HE IS MAKING.

- ◆ THIS LACK OF CLEAR SUPPORT, EVIDENCED BY EARLY POLLS WHICH, EVEN AFTER ALL THE HYPE AND PUBLICITY, COULD NOT MUSTER MORE THAN FIFTY OR SIXTY PERCENT SUPPORT RATINGS, HAS ONLY EMBOLDENED THE OPPOSITION.
- ◆ IN THE END, THE PRESIDENT MUST HAVE BOTH DEMOCRATS AND REPUBLICANS ON HIS SIDE. THE BUDGET BATTLE PROVED THAT AN ISSUE AS FAR REACHING AND COMPLEX AS HEALTH CARE REFORM CANNOT BE ACCOMPLISHED WITH A PARTISAN DEBATE.
- ◆ WHILE REPUBLICANS SHARE THE PRESIDENT'S GOALS FOR REFORM, WE HAVE SOME FUNDAMENTAL DIFFERENCES WITH HIM ON HOW BEST TO ACHIEVE REFORM.
- ◆ REPUBLICANS DO NOT ENDORSE A ONE-SIZE-FITS-ALL APPROACH. WE DO NOT BELIEVE THAT THE GOVERNMENT SHOULD FORCE ALL AMERICANS TO PURCHASE INSURANCE THROUGH STATE-RUN MONOPOLIES.
- ◆ WE ALSO DISAGREE WITH THE PRESIDENT'S PROPOSAL TO IMPOSE GOVERNMENT COST CONTROLS ON HEALTH CARE. REPUBLICANS OPPOSE PRICE CAPS AND WE CERTAINLY DO NOT WANT TO RELY ON THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT, WITH ITS TRACK RECORD, TO MANAGE ONE-SEVENTH OF THE ECONOMY.
- ◆ WHILE THE CLINTON PLAN WOULD MAKE GOVERNMENT A POWERFUL REGULATOR, THE COMPETING PLANS SEE GOVERNMENT MORE AS A REFEREE MAKING THE SYSTEM MORE FAIR AND EFFICIENT.
- ◆ THE CREATION OF MONOPOLIES IN THE FORM OF MANDATORY ALLIANCES IS A CRITICAL DIFFERENCE THAT EXISTS BETWEEN THE PRESIDENT'S BILL AND THE REPUBLICAN ALTERNATIVES.
- ◆ ANOTHER KEY DIFFERENCE IS THE EMPLOYER MANDATE TO PROVIDE INSURANCE WHILE THE OTHER PLANS BUILD ON THE CURRENT EMPLOYER-BASED SYSTEM, MAKE REFORMS IN THE INSURANCE INDUSTRY, AND DEAL WITH THE POOR WITH SUBSIDIES AND VOUCHERS.
- ◆ THE MEANS BY WHICH COSTS CAN BE CONTROLLED AND UNIVERSAL COVERAGE CAN OCCUR WILL BE AT THE CENTER OF DEBATE OVER THE FINANCING OF THE PLAN. THE CLINTON PLAN'S FINANCIAL ASSUMPTIONS ARE COMING UNDER INCREASED SCRUTINY, EVEN AMONG POWERFUL MEMBERS OF HIS OWN PARTY.
- ◆ EARLY ON SENATOR MOYNIHAN LABELED THE ADMINISTRATION'S NUMBERS AS "FANTASY". MORE RECENTLY HE HAS ASSERTED THAT "THE RAPID PACE OF SCIENTIFIC AND TECHNOLOGICAL DEVELOPMENTS... MAKE IT VIRTUALLY CERTAIN THAT EXPENDITURES WILL EXCEED ESTIMATES."

- ◆ WHATEVER THE POLITICAL OR MARKET SOLUTION, THE NAME OF THE GAME IS TO BE THE LOW-COST, QUALITY PROVIDER. REFORM IS BEING DRIVEN BY THE SIMPLE ECONOMIC PREMISE THAT HEALTH CARE SERVICES COST TOO MUCH, LEAVING MANY IN THEIR OWN "PERSONAL" HEALTH CARE CRISIS.
- ◆ HAVING AGREED ON THAT, REPUBLICANS CONTINUE TO ASSERT THAT WITH AN EQUAL MIX AND HEALTHY DOSE OF CHOICE AND COMPETITION, BALLOONING HEALTH CARE COSTS CAN BE DEFLATED WITHOUT JEOPARDIZING THE CURRENT HIGH LEVELS OF QUALITY CARE IN THIS COUNTRY.

PRESIDENT CLINTON'S HEALTH CARE PLAN

KEY AREAS OF AGREEMENT

- Universal coverage
- Malpractice reform
  - Includes:
    - Alternative dispute resolution
    - Caps on non-economic damages
- Paperwork simplification
- Tort Reform
- Small market insurance reform
  - Includes:
    - Portability -- if you change jobs
    - Limit on pre-existing conditions
    - Open enrollment

KEY AREAS OF DISAGREEMENT

- Employer mandates
  - Seventy-three percent of NFIB's members say a mandate would force them to cut or freeze wages, 26 percent say they would go out of business. In Kansas, it could mean a loss of up to 190,000 jobs.
- Price Controls
  - Premium caps
- Large new role for government
  - Mandatory single health alliances
  - National Health Board with broad regulatory powers.
- Financing
  - Commits to spending before savings realized
  - Assumes $238 billion in medicare and medicaid cuts -- a faster decline in medicare and medicaid than is realistic.
  - Assumes over $50 billion of savings are unspecified budget cuts that may or may not happen.
- New Entitlements
  - Federal responsibility for all early retirees (55 - 65 years old).
  - New medicare drug benefit estimated to cost in excess of $72 billion over 5 years.
  - New medicare long-term care program estimated to cost over $80 billion over 5 years.

CONSUMER CHOICE HEALTH SECURITY ACT

FACT SHEET

November 20, 1993

WHAT IT DOES

The Consumer Choice Plan

- Provides the security of universal health care coverage for all Americans, guaranteeing them access to insurance that is portable, and available regardless of pre-existing conditions. It would take effect on January 1, 1997.
- Provides individuals and families with a maximum choice of health insurance plans with a wide variety of benefits and costs, including the ability to keep the employer-sponsored benefits they have now. That's more choice than most Americans have now.
- Individuals and families are provided with the resources to purchase the health insurance plan that best fits their needs with tax credits in place of the current employee tax exclusion for health care expenses. People whose health expenses consume a larger percentage of their incomes would get a bigger tax credit.
- Controls rising health care costs by empowering consumers with choice and individual responsibility and infusing real competition between insurance companies for the consumer's health care dollar.
- Further reduces rising health care expenses with real reform of medical malpractice laws, including capping awards for noneconomic damages.
- Creates Medical Savings Accounts, or MSAs, which can be used to pay medical bills or to pay for extra benefits.

- Modeled after the 33-year-old Federal Employee Health Benefit Program (FEHBP), giving consumers the same option of choice now enjoyed by U. S. Senators and Representatives. The FEHBP's annual cost increases have averaged a third less than other private health insurance programs.

What it does NOT do

- The plan has no new, job-killing mandates on employers to provide and pay for health insurance for their employees. Employers must only give their employees the option of retaining their current benefits, or "cashing out" their benefits and joining another plan.
- The plan requires no new taxes.
- The Consumer Choice and Health Security Act does not wipe out existing health insurance policies, unlike the Clinton plan, which would outlaw nearly every health insurance plan now in existence. Under the Consumer Choice Act, people who are happy with their employer-sponsored coverage can keep it.
- The plan places no price controls or "premium caps" on insurance plans that could reduce the quality of coverage and even result in the rationing of health care.
- The plan creates no new national health board or government bureaucracies.
- There is no government coercion to purchase benefits not wanted or needed, beyond a minimum catastrophic insurance requirement.

HOW IT WORKS

Insurance Reforms to Guarantee Access

- The Consumer Choice and Health Security Act provides for guaranteed issue of health insurance policies. Insurers could not exclude coverage of any preexisting medical condition of any applicant who switches from one insurance plan to another or of any currently uninsured person who buys insurance.
- Insurers cannot cancel or refuse to renew coverage of a health insurance policy except for non-payment of premiums or fraud or misrepresentation. Insurers could not offer bonuses to brokers for selling insurance to "healthy" people or avoiding the sale of policies to people with preexisting conditions, or engaging in any other discriminatory sales practices.

- Health insurance underwriting would be limited, allowing insurers to vary premiums only on the basis of age, sex and geography. However, because of the importance of prevention and healthy lifestyles, the legislation would allow insurers to give incentive discounts to promote healthy behavior, prevent or delay the onset of illness, or provide for screening or early detection of illness.
- Certain state laws pertaining to mandated benefits and services, anti-managed care laws, and mandated cost-sharing would be preempted.

Tax Credits

- Individual tax credits would replace the current tax exclusion for company-sponsored health plans.
- Tax credits, which would become available on January 1, 1997, would be structured to give all Americans a basic level of tax relief on all of their health expenses, with greater tax relief targeted to those individuals and families who, because of illness or below average incomes, face proportionately higher health expense relative to their income. The credits would be structured as follows:

Health Insurance Premiums and Unreimbursed Medical Expenses as a Percent of Gross Income

Percent Reimbursed

Below 10 percent	25 percent
10 to 20 percent	50 percent
20 percent or more	75 percent

- At a minimum, for every $100 which is spent on health insurance premiums, or contributed to a Medical Savings Account (MSA), or spent on ANY out-of-pocket medical expenses, the individual or family would pay $25 less in taxes. The greater the ratio of health costs to income, the greater the tax benefits. Low-wage persons with higher percentage health costs would receive greater benefits. The tax credit would be as much as $75 per $100 spent on health care, and would be refundable as explained below.
- The credits are refundable, meaning that if the value of the credit is more than an individual's or family's tax liability, the government would pay the difference. Much like the treatment of the Earned Income Tax Credit (EITC), employers would reduce their tax liability and provide the tax credit as additional income in the employees' paycheck, so they could purchase insurance.

Family Security Benefit Requirements

- Society should not have to pay the price for irresponsible individuals who refuse to purchase insurance and then expect us to pick up the tab when they become seriously ill or injured. Every individual and family would be required to have minimum health insurance coverage to cover medically necessary "acute medical care," including:
  - Physician services
  - Inpatient, outpatient, and emergency hospital services and appropriate alternatives to hospitalization
  - Inpatient and outpatient prescription drugs
  - A maximum deductible amount of $1,000 for an individual and $2,000 for a family and an out-of-pocket limit of $5,000. These amounts would be indexed to inflation in future years.
- For Medical Savings Accounts, or MSAs, the Consumer Choice plan would provide the same basic 25% tax credit for deposits. Each household would be permitted to have one MSA and to make an annual deposit no greater than the sum of $3,000 plus $500 for each dependent. The funds in an MSA could be used to pay medical bills not covered by their insurance plans, and to pay health insurance premiums.
- Transitional Rules: In order to provide individuals and families with secure, portable benefits, insurers and employers who currently provide health insurance coverage would be required to offer policyholders the option of converting their existing coverage to an individual or family plan. Employers would also be required to add the value of the coverage they now offer to their workers' wages. Thus, workers could take their coverage with them when they changed jobs or could use the money to buy a different plan that better suited their needs.

Employer Provisions

- Individuals and families could still purchase health insurance through their employers. This would not be their only option, since they would be able to receive the same tax relief if they purchased coverage on their own or through other groups such as unions, churches, farm bureaus, business coalitions, professional associations, or through some other group — similar to the choices that more than 10 million Federal employees, retirees and their families have today.

- To ensure that individuals and families are able to make regular premium payments on their health insurance, employers would be responsible for withholding premiums from their employees' paychecks and sending these premiums to the employees' chosen insurer. Employers would also be responsible for adjusting their workers' tax withholding to reflect the new tax credits. Thus, taxpayers would not need to wait until they filed their tax returns to claim back the new tax credits.
- Individuals who fail to enroll in private health insurance plans would be ineligible to claim the personal exemption on their federal income taxes. Employers would adjust their withholding to reflect this increased income tax liability.

Financing the Consumer Choice Plan

- Because the Consumer Choice tax credit is more generous than the tax deductions and exclusions that it would replace, it will result in a net revenue loss to the federal government of $133 billion between 1997 and 1999. To offset this revenue loss, the bill calls for savings in the Medicare and Medicaid programs of $139 billion over five years.
- Federal Medicaid payments to states for acute care would be distributed on a per capita basis beginning in fiscal year (FY) 1995. The capitated amounts would be set at 20 percent above the FY 93 level in FY 95. In subsequent years, the capitated payment would rise by one percent above the consumer price index (CPI). Total federal Medicaid acute care payments to a state for FY 95 could not exceed the payment for FY 93 plus 20 percent. In subsequent years, the total federal acute care payment to any state could not exceed the previous year's payment plus CPI plus 2.5 percent. This will produce a five-year savings of $72 billion. States would be given broad latitude in how they deliver acute medical care services to their Medicaid population.
- Medicare savings will be achieved by eliminating payments to "disproportionate share" hospitals, reducing payments to hospitals for indirect medical education costs, continuing the transition to a prospective payment system (PPS) for outpatient services, and by updating PPS payments on January 1 of each year, rather than on October 1. Further savings would be achieved by placing a 20- percent coinsurance requirement on laboratory and home health services. These changes will save the Medicare program $67 billion over five years.

Comparison of Savings Achieved The President's health plan and the Consumer Choice plan

Program	Consumer Choice	President
Medicare	$67 Billion	$152 Billion
Medicaid	$72 Billion	$225 Billion

joint ventures that would increase access to health care, enhance health care quality, establish cost efficiencies from which consumers would benefit, and otherwise make health care services more effective, affordable and efficient.

- The Attorney General also is required to establish a program through which certain providers may obtain certificates exempting from anti-trust laws activities relating to the provision of health care services.

Long-Term Care

- Amounts withdrawn from individual retirement accounts (IRAs) and 401(k) plans for long-term care insurance are excluded from income. The bill also provides that certain exchanges of life insurance policies for long-term care insurance policies are not taxable. It also exempts from taxation any amount paid or advanced from a life insurance contract to a terminally or chronically ill individual who is confined to a hospice or nursing home.

THE COMPREHENSIVE FAMILY HEALTH ACCESS AND SAVINGS ACT

by Senator Phil Gramm
September 28, 1993

I. ENHANCE SECURITY FOR THOSE PRESENTLY INSURED BY MAKING PRIVATE INSURANCE PORTABLE AND PERMANENT:

Workers and families presently insured will be guaranteed continued medical insurance coverage by allowing those who leave jobs where insurance coverage was provided to continue their present coverage for an 18-month grace period (or until such individuals can qualify for other coverage) by paying the full premium directly. People who are no longer with their spouses but were previously covered under their spouses' plans or people who have recently become legally independent and are no longer covered by their families' plans will be allowed to continue their current health insurance arrangements for the same grace period by paying their pro rata share of the premium. In addition, all policies would be guaranteed renewable, belong to the family or individual, and premiums could not be raised based on the occurrence of illness. Insurance companies would not be able to cancel a policy except when the policy holder fails to pay the premiums or when the insurance company ceases to sell health insurance in the policy holder's state.

II. EXPAND FAMILY HEALTH INSURANCE CHOICES TO PROMOTE COMPETITION AND CONTROL COSTS:

As under present law, employer contributions for the purchase of medical insurance coverage will be excluded from employee income; however, employers must offer employees at least three options:

- A) Maintain current insurance coverage;
- B) Switch to HMO coverage or any other health care arrangement -- such as a voluntary health alliance, a preferred provider organization, or managed care -- by having the employer pay the current employer-paid share of existing health insurance costs into the alternate plan that the employee chooses; or
- C) Switch to a Medical Savings Account program with the employer contributing the amount currently being expended on existing health insurance.

- 1) A new Medical Savings Account program would be established through enabling legislation allowing current employer and employee contributions to go first toward the purchase of a $3,000 deductible catastrophic insurance policy, which would be chosen by the employee from among plans offered by private insurers and paid for by the employer and employee in the same ratio as conventional insurance is now purchased, with remaining amounts currently spent on conventional insurance coverage going into a Medical Savings Account. Tax-free withdrawals from the Medical Savings Account could be made to pay for qualifying out-of-pocket medical expenses which apply toward the insurance policy's deductible. If the funds in the Medical Savings Account are not spent so that as new deposits are made, the sum grows beyond the $3,000 deductible, the employee can withdraw the excess and treat it as income.

The individual employee would contract with the HMO or Medical Savings Plan and pay those costs in excess of the employer's current contribution for the purchase of health insurance coverage. Employees will have a 2-month period each year (an "open season") to choose a new option for the following year. Should the cost of the HMO or Medical Savings Account program be less than the employer currently pays for conventional insurance, the employee can keep the difference.

Each employer shall determine whether the employer's contribution into the alternate plan shall be based on the average cost of providing coverage for its employees under the current plan or the actual cost per individual employee. Whichever method the employer selects shall apply to any employee leaving the employer's current plan and selecting an alternative plan. In addition, whichever method the employer chooses shall be used in determining the cost of coverage that employees leaving the employment of the company must pay to continue bridge coverage during the grace period or until other coverage can be obtained.

III. PROVIDE EQUAL TAX TREATMENT FOR THE SELF-EMPLOYED, UNINSURED WORKERS, AND ALL OTHERS:

Self-employed workers, who currently are permitted to deduct 25 percent of their expenses for medical insurance coverage, and those without employer-provided health insurance coverage will now be allowed to exclude from income a percentage of their medical insurance coverage costs equal to the national average that employers contribute. This percentage will be recalculated annually and will ensure that anyone without employer-based health insurance coverage will be treated equitably. The exclusion will be phased in over five years up from 25 percent to the national average for the employer's payment. The tax exclusion will apply to the purchase of conventional health insurance, HMO coverage, Medical Savings Account contributions, or any other prepaid medical plan.

IV. ASSIST HIGH RISK INDIVIDUALS WHO HAVE PRE-EXISTING CONDITIONS:

Those uninsured due to unavoidable pre-existing conditions that preclude affordable insurance cannot be denied coverage but will be expected to pay premiums up to 150 percent of the average premium paid by those of the same age, sex, and geographic area. The federal government will pay that amount of the premium which exceeds 150 percent of the average, but only if the entire cost of the coverage exceeds 7.5 percent of the individual's or family's income. Such assistance shall be given for the purchase of a high-deductible catastrophic policy and private insurers shall bid for the policy in a risk pool.

V. ENCOURAGE RESPONSIBLE BEHAVIOR BY THE FINANCIALLY CAPABLE:

Financially capable individuals (those with incomes above 200 percent of the poverty level--$13,864 for individuals and $27,848 for a family of four) who choose not to purchase at least a catastrophic insurance policy that covers major medical services with a deductible no higher than 20 percent of their adjusted gross income or $3,000, whichever is higher, will not be eligible to receive federal premium assistance based on any pre-existing condition after the first year of enactment of this legislation. In addition, such an individual who incurs medical expenses will be the "payer of first resort." Only after he has exhausted all his assets will the government or any institution receiving federal funds provide assistance.

VI. PROVIDE ASSISTANCE TO LOW-INCOME WORKERS:

85 percent of Americans currently have health insurance coverage. By providing equal tax treatment to those who purchase their own insurance coverage without employer-provided assistance, by having the federal government partially subsidize the cost of insurance coverage for high-risk individuals, by providing incentives for financially capable individuals to obtain health insurance coverage now, and by making all health insurance policies portable and guaranteed renewable, we will ensure that most of the remaining 15 percent will have health insurance coverage.

To achieve total coverage, a credit will be available to families and individuals not eligible for Medicaid and having income below 100 percent of the poverty level. This will allow them to fully fund the cost of a catastrophic insurance policy covering major medical services with an annual deductible equal to the higher of 20 percent of adjusted gross income or $3,000 and a preventive package for immunizations, pap smears, mammograms, prostate exams, and other basic preventive care. This credit will be reduced as family income rises and will be eliminated at 200 percent of the poverty level. This credit will be phased in over five years.

Those receiving a partial subsidy who refuse to purchase health insurance will not be eligible to receive federal premium assistance based on any pre-existing condition after the first year of enactment of this legislation. In addition, if such an individual incurs medical expenses, he shall be the "payer of first resort." Only after he has exhausted all his assets will assistance be provided.

VII. REWARD PREVENTIVE MEDICINE AND HEALTHY LIFESTYLES:

Nothing in this act shall prohibit insurance companies from charging different rates based on the willingness of the insured family or individual to use preventive medicine, including vaccines and physical exams. Insurance companies can charge lower rates to those who restrict their use of health harming substances, such as alcohol, and live healthy lifestyles.

Those working people with moderate incomes receiving federal assistance will be required to pay more if they are overweight, smoke, drink excessively, or engage in other activities that are harmful to their health. These extra payments will be based on the differentials that develop in the private insurance market.

VIII. REFORM MEDICAID AND MEDICARE:

A) Medicaid payments to states will be made on a per capita basis. That is, states will receive an annual payment, indexed for medical inflation, from the federal government equal to the average federal cost per Medicaid enrollee nationally. The payment will vary by major risk categories. States will then be allowed the flexibility to design their own systems which could:

- 1) continue the existing Medicaid coverage;
- 2) enroll recipients into a private Health Maintenance Organization or other health care arrangements; or
- 3) establish a Medical Savings Account plan to cover the recipient's medical expenses, where, except for qualified medical expenses, no amount can be withdrawn from the Medical Savings Account which takes the account below the annual catastrophic deductible amount.

Also, states would be permitted to develop other innovations and requirements, including use of copayments.

- B) Those currently covered by Medicare could keep their present coverage or receive annual government assistance up to the expected cost of their annual Medicare coverage for the individual retiree to enroll in a private Health Maintenance Organization or other health care arrangement or buy a Medical Savings Account.

Those choosing to opt out of the current Medicare system who are able to purchase coverage for less than the expected cost of their current Medicare coverage will be permitted to keep one-half of the difference.

Upon becoming eligible for Medicare (currently at age 65), individuals would have one year to decide whether or not to stay in the current Medicare system. This decision is final.

Under the Medical Savings Account option, the expected Medicare annual expenditure would be paid on an annual basis and would be used to purchase the retiree's catastrophic coverage from a private vendor, with the remaining funds going into the retiree's personal Medical Savings Account. Additional Medical Savings Account contributions or out-of-pocket expenses could be made by the retiree or anyone else on the retiree's behalf. The Medical Savings Account would also be established and maintained with a private vendor.

IX. PROVIDE MEANINGFUL MEDICAL LIABILITY REFORM:

- A) Before having standing to demand judgement against a health care provider for malpractice, the plaintiff would have to first prove negligence. Failure to do so will result in an automatic judgement against the plaintiff rendering the plaintiff liable for the cost incurred by the health care provider in defending himself, including any losses as a result of being away from his practice defending himself.
- B) The widespread practice of suing for "joint and several liability" will be restricted. No longer will the negligence of one individual be permitted to provide grounds on which many uninvolved or marginally involved people and institutions can be sued.
- C) A health care provider can negotiate with the buyer of health care services a waiver of medical liability in return for lower fees. Even with the waiver, the patient retains a full right to sue in cases of gross negligence. "Gross negligence" means actions which are a clear violation of generally accepted procedures and established medical ethics.

X. OFFSETTING THE COSTS

COSTS:

The taxpayers costs of the three new health care benefits contained in this proposal -- the universal health insurance tax exclusion; the high-risk insurance pool subsidy; and the low-income worker tax credit for insurance purchase -- will be put into effect under the following conditions:

- A) None of the benefits shall take effect until savings accrued by the reforms contained in this plan have actually occurred.

B) Phase-in priorities based on achieved savings shall be as follows:

- 1) high-risk insurance pool subsidy.
- 2) universal health insurance tax exclusion will be phased up in annual 10 percentage point increments to 75 percent.
- 3) low-income worker tax credit for insurance purchase will be phased in first for families in poverty, then singles in poverty, and lastly, for families and singles above the poverty level.

Phased-In Costs
(in billions of $)

	1994	1995	1996	1997	1998	1999	TOTAL
High-Risk Pool		$4	$4.2	$4.2	$4.2	$4.2	$20.8
Health Insurance Exclusion		$6.2	$8.7	$11.4	$14.6	$18.2	$59.1
Low-Income Worker Tax Credit		$0	$4.3	$10.3	$19.6	$30.1	$64.3
TOTAL COSTS		$10.2	$17.2	$25.9	$38.4	$52.5	$144.2

SAVINGS:

A) MEDICAID

Medicaid savings are achieved in three ways. First, Medicaid spending is "capitated," meaning that states would receive an annual federal payment based on the number of Medicaid recipients and the risk classes they fall into. States would then be given the flexibility to institute the reforms outlined in section VIII. The payment to states would grow each year by the increase in the medical price inflation index.

	Savings (in billions of $)
	1994	1995	1996	1997	1998	1999	TOTAL
Medicaid Savings from Capitation and State Flexibility	$5	$11.1	$18.6	$27.5	$38.5	n.a.*	$100.4

Second, with the introduction of price competition in health care through expanded consumer choice contained in sections II and VIII, the current differential between the medical price inflation index and the consumer price index is projected to decrease by one-half over five years. The resulting Medicaid savings are as follows:

	Savings (in billions of $)
	1994	1995	1996	1997	1998	1999	TOTAL
Medicaid Savings from Lower Medical Inflation	.3	.9	2.0	3.8	6.4	n.a.*	13.3

Lastly, with the introduction of a high-risk individual subsidy and a universal tax exclusion, many Medicaid recipients will be brought under private plans. The resulting savings are as follows:

	Savings (in billions of $)

Transfer out of Medicaid to Private Insurance	.6	1.3	1.4	1.5	1.6	n.a.*	6.5

B) MEDICARE

The introduction of price competition in health care generated by the reforms in sections II and VIII is assumed to cut the current difference between the medical price index and the consumer price index in half over five years. The resulting Medicare savings are as follows:

	Savings (in billions of $)
	1994	1995	1996	1997	1998	1999	TOTAL
Medicare Savings	$3.5	$7.5	$11	$16.5	$23	n.a.*	$62

C) OTHER OFFSETS

With creation of the risk pool coverage and universal access to catastrophic health care coverage, the use of the present deduction of health care costs in excess of 7.5% of income will drop dramatically. This estimate assumes a total reduction of 50%.

	Savings (in billions of $)

Less Use of Medical Deduction	$2.8	$2.9	$3.1	$3.3	$3.6	n.a.*	$15.7

TOTAL SAVINGS (in billions of $)

	1994	1995	1996	1997	1998	1999	TOTAL

Deficit Reduction

$53.5 Billion

* "n.a." refers to not applicable. Savings in the sixth year are not applicable because the first five years of achieved savings will be used to fund benefits paid in each of the following years.

Gramm Sketches Another GOP Alternative

By Helen Dewar
Washington Post Staff Writer

Sen. Phil Gramm (Tex.) unveiled yet another Republican alternative to President Clinton's health care reform proposals, one Gramm said would rely almost entirely on market forces to cut costs and expand coverage.

As outlined by Gramm in a breakfast meeting with reporters, the plan would require employers to offer health care options to their workers, assure coverage of people with preexisting health conditions, continue coverage for workers who change jobs and provide some assistance for the working poor.

It bears little, if any, resemblance to Clinton's plan and differs significantly from an alternative outlined last week by a group of Senate Republicans led by Sen. John H. Chafee (R.I.).

In keeping government intervention to a minimum, it more parallels a plan proposed by House Republicans.

Gramm described the choice between Clinton's plan and his own as "collectivized medicine" versus "bringing price competition into the health care market." Gramm would provide no new benefits until savings were assured.

While it appears to have little chance of passage, Gramm's plan is likely to sharpen the debate by presenting a clear conservative alternative to what many see as a gradually evolving consensus between Clinton and Chafee, who has signed up 22 colleagues as cosponsors on his proposal. Gramm said he has not yet tried to get cosponsors for his proposal, although he said he is working with about 20 Republican senators on the plan.

The president will unveil his broad reform proposal to a joint session of Congress today at 9 p.m.

Gramm's proposal would require employers to offer workers at least three health care options, including continuation of current coverage, transfer to other plans including health maintenance organizations (HMOs) or creation of "medical savings accounts" on behalf of individual employees. The deposits in those accounts would come from money that employers would otherwise have paid for health insurance. Employees who chose such accounts would have to be provided a catastrophic-illness insurance policy.

Self-employed workers or those without employer-provided insurance would receive tax breaks equivalent to the national average of employer-paid benefits. Medicaid and Medicare would be continued but with the option of enrolling beneficiaries in HMOs or medical savings accounts. Pools would be set up to cover high-risk workers, with some government subsidy for poorer workers, and credits for catastrophic coverage would be provided for those not covered by other aspects of the bill.

Gramm, who is also chairman of the Republican senatorial campaign committee, said Clinton's plan, if adopted without change, would "bankrupt" the country and doom the Democrats. "People would be hunting Democrats with dogs by the end of the century," he said.

TALKING POINTS FOR INTERVIEW WITH GLORIA BORGER

♦ THERE IS MUCH THAT IS AGREED UPON BY ALL REPUBLICANS -- AND LITTLE OVER WHICH WE DISAGREE.

♦ SENATOR GRAMM AND OTHERS BELIEVE THE INDIVIDUAL SHOULD BE GIVEN MAXIMUM FLEXIBILITY IN THE CHOICE AND DESIGN OF THEIR HEALTH PLAN -- I DON'T DISAGREE.

♦ THE PROPOSAL I HAVE JOINED IN DESIGNING WITH SENATOR CHAFEE AND 23 OTHERS TRIES TO INCORPORATE THE USE OF IRA'S AND CATASTROPHE COVERAGE AS AN OPTION.

♦ WHERE WE DIFFER WITH SENATOR GRAMM IS THE EXTENT TO WHICH EMPLOYERS SHOULD OR COULD REMAIN IN THE BUSINESS OF PROVIDING COVERAGE, AS WELL AS FINANCING. WE THINK MUCH OF TODAY'S EMPLOYMENT-BASED INSURANCE MAY CONTINUE TO MAKE SENSE.

Employer Mandate	Yes; 80/20: Employer must pay 80% of average premium for employees and dependents. Part time employees pro-rated. Employer contributions capped at 7.9% of payroll, except those with 75 or fewer employees whose average wages are $24,000 or less. The Iowa Legislature is made up of 100 House seats and 50 Senate seats. All 100 House seats are up for election in 1994, along with 1/2 or 25 of the Senate seats. Republicans control 74 of the 150 seats.

In 1990 the Republicans picked up seats in the legislature for the first time in 10 years. We gained 6 seats in the House of Representatives. In 1992, we picked up 6 more seats in the House and took control with a slim 51 to 49 majority and 2 seats in the Senate, which put us close at 23 to 27. With the policies of the Clinton administration, we are/were hoping in 1994 to pick up 2 more house seats to give us breathing room and to pick up 3 seats in the Senate to give us control.

However, we have 8 House Republicans and 4 Senate Republicans not seeking re-election. We have a minimum of 6 incumbents in the House and 3 incumbents in the Senate that are in vulnerable positions. Going into the general election, we have 21 seats to protect just to maintain the status quo.

Our incumbent Republican Governor is in a primary with a strong 8 year Congressman from the most Republican Congressional District in the state, Fred Grandy. The Democrat challenger is currently the Attorney General for the State of Iowa. There will not be a primary contest on the Democrat side for the first time in over 20 years.

Factoring in what is happening with the retirements and the Gubernatorial primary, we are in danger of losing control of the House of Representatives and losing seats in the State Senate. We will probably have less incumbents seeking re-election in both Houses than the Democrats.

The House Democrat Minority Leader announced that he will not be running for re-election. This helps us in his seat, but probably hurts us overall in that there will be five or six Democrats trying to run for Speaker of the House by electing more Democrats.

GREG

We have three Republican Incumbent Congressmen running for re-election in 1994: Jim Leach, Jim Ross Lightfoot and Jim Nussle. In the 4th Congressional District, a prominent Des Moines reconstructive surgeon is challenging 36 year Democrat incumbent Neal Smith. In the 5th Congressional District (Grandy's seat), we have two announced candidates; State Senator Brad Banks and a long time Republican State Central Committee member Tom Latham. This promises to be a very spirited race.

All of the Statewide Executive Committee is up for re-election. Our Republican State Auditor Dick Johnson is running for re-election and we currently have announced candidates for Attorney General, Secretary of Agriculture, Secretary of State and State Treasurer. These offices are currently being held by Democrats.

The Democrat Secretary of State has announced that she will run against Congressman Jim Lightfoot again, so that will leave the Sec. of State seat open. There will be a primary on the Democrat side, with the only announced Republican candidate being State Senator Paul Pate. The Democrat State Treasurer, the Deputy State Treasurer, along with a Democrat State Senator are being sued by a former employee in the State Treasurer's office. The plaintiff alleges that she was terminated because of her blowing the whistle on the "Iowa Trust Scandal" in 1991. The Republican candidate is an attorney from West Des Moines, Jay Irwin.

The Democrat Attorney General has announced that she will run for Governor. She has consistently taken shots at Governor Branstad in the media and in her speaking engagements. A popular former Attorney General, Democrat Tom Miller, is the only announced Democrat candidate. This will leave us with 2 open Statewide contests.

As you can see, we have our work cut out for us. Democrats have a registration advantage of +90,000 over Republicans, statewide. The fact that Republicans tend to vote in greater percentages of their numbers in off year elections than do Democrats, would potentially help us, but Democrats are increasing their percentages that vote every election cycle. We must maximize the numbers of Republicans voting in the 1994 elections to maintain our Governorship, our Congressmen, control of the Iowa House and make gains in the executive branch and the State Senate.

Re: Ganske Biography

As requested please find the biography that follows. Dr. Ganske briefly met Senator Dole last year in Des Moines at a State GOP event.

Over the past few weeks, Dr. Ganske has received numerous calls from the national media, and was featured on the front page of Roll Call. On Thursday the CBS evening news will be following Dr. Ganske throughout the day. Greg would very much appreciate a few minutes to talk about his campaign with Senator Dole. We would offer the CBS crew an opportunity to shoot the first five minutes of the meeting but then would prefer a few minutes in private with Senator Dole.

Thank you.

FEATURE

WORDS OF POLITICAL CANDIDATE GREG GANSKE

Q. Why are you running for Congress?

A. Because I fear my three children will not have the opportunities their parents and grandparents had.

Greg Ganske was only 9 years old when Des Moines Attorney Neal Smith was first elected to Congress. The year was 1958. Dwight D. Eisenhower was the US President, Elvis Presley was in the Army, and cars had fins. Now, at age 44, Dr. Greg Ganske is running for Congress in Iowa's 4th District, determined to unseat Neal Smith.

Dr. Ganske, A Des Moines Plastic & Reconstructive Surgeon, says, "Professional politicians in Washington like Neal Smith are mortgaging our children's future." "They've created a $4 trillion national debt that threatens our financial security and greatly inhibits our ability to address other serious problems."

Dr. Ganske grew up in small town Iowa, sacking potatoes in his father's grocery store and competing on his high school wrestling team. He competed at the state wrestling tournament where he shared a locker with future Olympic Champion Dan Gable (who contributed to Greg's campaign). "All I need to do to get enthusiastic about this political campaign is to watch Dan Gable's motivational videotape!" exclaims Ganske.

After obtaining his undergraduate degree in Political Science and medical degree from the University of Iowa Medical School, he later completed postdoctoral training at the University of Colorado, University of Oregon, and Harvard Medical School. While attending medical school, he met his wife, Corrine, a family practice doctor who teaches in a Des Moines family practice residency program.

Most political pundits would agree that defeating a 35-year incumbent congressman is no easy task, but Greg Ganske thinks Iowa voters are ready for change. "When I talk to people around the 4th Congressional District, it's clear there is a great deal of dissatisfaction with business as usual in Washington. Most people don't like the idea of paying more in taxes just so career politicians like Neal Smith can vote themselves a huge pay raise. And, they don't like the idea that 60 cents of every dollar we pay in income taxes goes to pay the interest on the national debt."

To reduce the national debt, Dr. Ganske says government should reduce spending and review the cost/benefit ratio of all government programs, including automatic increases in entitlement. "Neal Smith has voted for nearly every tax increase and spending bill in the last 35 years, including the largest retroactive income and estate tax increase in history," continues Ganske. "Clearly, Congressman Smith is out of touch with the voters in his district."

As a physician, Ganske is obviously concerned about health care reform. "I believe price controls, and overregulation, as proposed in the Clinton Health Plan, will only lead to decreased quality, long waiting lines, obsolete facilities and uncaring bureaucracies," says Dr.

Ganske. "We need to cut back on paperwork and decrease unnecessary defensive medicine."

"In the last four years, we have seen the private insurance sector coming to grips with the problem of health care costs either through increased deductibles or HMOs."

"In addition, we have succeeded in re-establishing some sense of personal responsibility for the private sector in terms of consumers and providers. That is reflected in a medical inflation rate in the private sector that is approaching the nation's inflation rate," says Ganske.

He continues, "Interestingly, Medicare and Medicaid are experiencing dramatic increase because these government programs have not effectively addressed the issue of personal responsibility in terms of health care costs." Greg favors free market approaches such as medical savings accounts, but he thinks that whatever system evolves will need input from "someone who has been there."

Dr. Ganske feels crime is one of the issues that most clearly defines the differences between himself and Neal Smith. "I've been on the front line taking care of those crime victims. I want to make crimes more costly to the criminal."

"Neal Smith has consistently protected criminal's rights at the expense of law abiding citizens," continues Ganske. "Mr. Smith voted against mandatory minimum sentences for criminals who use firearms to commit crimes and he opposed both the Brady bill and a nationwide computerized network intended to prevent convicted felons from purchasing handguns. He also favors allowing convicted criminals a seemingly endless number of appeals at taxpayers' expense."

Dr. Ganske says he still very much enjoys practicing medicine and plans to return to his practice after serving in Congress. "I strongly believe in term limits," Ganske adds. "The time has come to return to a citizen legislature comprised of people from all walks of life, not just career politicians."

Even though he will not officially announce his candidacy until 1994, Ganske has already received support from some key Des Moines business leaders as well as numerous physicians across the US. He also received a vote of support from the Iowa Medical Society's Board of Directors. ♦

A prominent plastic surgeon in Des Moines, Republican Greg Ganske (left) says he's running because he fears Rep. Neal Smith will embrace the Clinton Administration position on health care.

Physicians Line Up To Run in '94 Cycle

By Tim Curran

Nearly two dozen medical doctors — most of them Republicans — are planning bids for Congress next year, hoping to join just two physicians who now serve in the House.

Reps. Roy Rowland (D-Ga), a general practitioner, and Jim McDermott (D-Wash), a psychiatrist, are the only doctors who will bring practical medical experience to the health care debate that will dominate the second session of the 103rd Congress.

But the 104th could be different.

Morton Levine (R), for instance, is gunning to unseat Rep. Dan Hamburg (D) from the northern California district he won last year, but the only pediatrician in Lake County said last week he could not finalize a bid until he finds someone to take over his practice.

Rep. Neal Smith (D-Iowa), an 18-term veteran and chairman of the Appropriations subcommittee on commerce, justice, state and judiciary.

Ganske, 44, is a prominent doctor in Des Moines who won an undergraduate degree in political science from the University of Iowa before going to medical school at Harvard.

As a doctor, Ganske said, he's used to solving problems. "When they walk out my door, they're fixed," he said. "I like to take a problem and see if I can help fix it."

'The issue of health care is much less complicated than the Administration would have you believe,' says Irwin Savodnik, a psychiatrist.

Like many of the other physician-candidates Roll Call contacted, Ganske cited health reform as a major concern but said it was no more important than such other issues as crime, the economy, and the debt. He promised to serve only a few terms before returning to his medical practice if elected.

Most of the physicians planning runs for Congress say they are skeptical about the Administration's ability to tackle health care responsibly.

Levine cited Hamburg's co-sponsorship of single-payer legislation as a reason for his challenge. "The present incumbent scares me," Levine said last week, branding Hamburg "a socialist."

"I thought the voice of a conservative should be heard," said Levine, who favors, with some modifications, the managed-competition approach of Rep. Jim Cooper (D-Tenn).

But Levine could have trouble next year in a primary if former Rep. Frank Riggs (R) launches a rematch, or in a general against Hamburg in a district that gave Bill Clinton a 17-point win last year.

Irwin Savodnik is a Torrance, Calif., psychiatrist angling for the GOP nomination to face freshman Rep. Jane Harman (D) in a swing district.

"Health care was certainly one of the things" drawing him into the race, Savodnik told Roll Call last week, but he was also energized by the 36th district's high unemployment rate.

"The issue of health care is much less complicated than the Administration would have you believe," he said. Savodnik criticized the Administration's plan "to take control of the entire enterprise" of American health care, warning that the result will be that doctors will "lose a great deal of autonomy and their patients will not enjoy the same level of care."

Like many of the physicians planning bids, Savodnik is prepared to use his personal financial resources to boost his campaign. "We've put in about $280,000 and we're prepared to go beyond that," he said. "I think we're going to have to spend more than $1 million."

Harman spent $2.3 million last year, most of that from her own pocket, and Savodnik will also likely face a contested primary.

Brenda Fitzgerald (R), an obstetrician/gynecologist, is making her second run for Congress. About six weeks ago, she closed down her Carrollton, Ga., practice to campaign full-time for the nomination to face Rep. Buddy Darden (D).

Last year, Fitzgerald, 47, lost a primary for the same seat but feels her health care expertise will be an asset this time around. The nomination to face Darden will be a rich prize, as the incumbent will be high on GOP target lists after voting for the Clinton budget and against revealing names on discharge petitions.

"The Clinton health plan will destroy the ability of doctors to take care of patients in the best way," Fitzgerald said. "I think we have to have a system of personal health ownership" where consumers "make their own personal decisions."

Fitzgerald, who will be the only woman in a crowded primary that includes former US Attorney Bob Barr, said the "other important thing about being a doctor is that most of us are small business people" who must also be employers schooled in the tax structure and business regulation issues.

She argues that her experience also ties into another key issue. As a doctor, Fitzgerald said she has "seen firsthand the impact on victims" of crime and violence and recognizes the need to "take the strongest measures possible so that we will be safe at home and on the streets."

John Steel said he is willing to give up his spot as chief of staff at Scripps Memorial Hospital in San Diego because he's "just mad as hell about what's going on."

Hoping to take on another freshman, Rep. Lynn Schenk (D), Steel railed against her vote for Clinton's budget and said, "My vote, had I been there, would have tied it and thrown it out of the House."

Steel, a Navy jet pilot before going to medical school, called the Clinton health plan "the biggest socialized push I've ever seen" and echoed Fitzgerald's sentiment that if it passes, both doctors and patients will see "freedoms removed."

John Steel is giving up his chief of staff job at a San Diego hospital because he's 'just mad as hell about what's going on.'

"I'm just very upset. I have a lot invested in this country," Steel said. "There's nobody like me behind Hillary's closed doors who understands this," he said.

Perhaps the best known of the physicians eyeing a seat in Congress is Bernadine Healy, a cardiologist and director of the National Institutes of Health in the Bush Administration who is seeking to replace retiring Sen. Howard Metzenbaum (D-Ohio).

Healy will have a tough road, and her fledgling campaign fell flat on its face recently when three of her staffers were implicated in the misappropriation of the state GOP's donor list and forced to resign.

She has already benefited from the focus on health care, however, and was much in demand on both the national and state talk-show circuit when details of the Clinton plan first emerged.

Lt. Gov. Mike DeWine (R), coming off an unsuccessful campaign against Sen. John Glenn (D), is the favorite for the GOP nomination, and state Sen. Gene Watts is also running. Another GOP physician joined the race for the nomination recently, when David D. Nitzsche filed campaign documents.

In Tennessee, Bill Frist (R), a surgeon and director of the Vanderbilt University organ transplant center, is looking to win the nomination next year to face Sen. Jim Sasser (D), the Budget Committee chairman. Frist's reputation as an expert on health care cuts across partisan lines: Gov. Ned McWherter (D) appointed Frist to head his task force on Medicaid reform last year. He's an underdog, but the emphasis on health care in next year's elections can only help him.

Democrats also have a handful of physicians running, including gastroenterologist David Doman in Maryland's 8th district, where he'll be hard-pressed to take out popular Rep. Connie Morella (R).

Other Democratic contenders include Stewart Turnanski, an underdog to succeed Rep. Jon Kyl (R-Ariz), and Joseph Randolph, facing an uphill climb to succeed Rep. Rick Santorum (R-Pa).

Other Republican doctors planning House campaigns include: Edward Miller, seeking the nod to take on Rep. Ed Pastor (D-Ariz); family practitioner Ed Elkowitz, who's bidding for Rep. Gary Ackerman's (D-NY) seat; and internal medicine specialist Noel Collis, bidding to unseat Rep. Collin Peterson (D-Minn).

Also, immunologist and emergency specialist Kevin Vigilante, in the open-seat race to replace Rep. Ron Machtley (R-RI); orthopedic surgeon John Elliott, in the race against Rep. Jack Reed (D-RI); Dr. Eugene Fontenot, who is also a lawyer, in the open-seat contest to follow Rep. Mike Andrews (D-Texas); and oral surgeon John Farnham, who will run for the nomination against Independent Rep. Bernie Sanders in Vermont.

In Georgia, Charles Norwood (R) is trying to become the third dentist in the House, joining Reps. Ron Packard (R-Calif) and Rep. John Linder (R-Ga). He faces a primary for the right to face freshman Rep. Don Johnson (D), who has been widely criticized for supporting the Clinton budget. Maryland state Del. Ron Franks (R), running to face Sen. Paul Sarbanes (D) is also a dentist.

Brenda Fitzgerald has already shut down her gynecological practice in Georgia to gear up for a bid for the GOP nod to face Rep. Buddy Darden. "The Clinton health plan will destroy the ability of doctors to take care of patients in the best way," she says.

One person was found dead and another person was found alive but injured early today in a house at 1321 E. 33rd St. in Des Moines early today.

The names of the victims were not immediately available.

Police said initial reports from officers indicated that the two people may have been poisoned by carbon monoxide inside the house.

One officer on the scene told commanders by radio, "It might be fumes, although, we don't smell anything. We're going to keep checking."

Police were notified shortly before 1 a.m. today. The call for help came from someone inside the house, police said.

Gov. Terry Branstad used his speech Tuesday on the condition of the state to court the Republican constituencies he needs to win his June primary fight with U.S. Rep. Fred Grandy.

While Statehouse politicians disagreed over the policies he proposed, they all gave him high marks for the electioneering he did with the speech — which was broadcast live to voters over state-owned public television and radio stations.

"He certainly took a more conservative tack through that speech than he has in the last couple of years. He was trying to make every conservative happy," said Rep. Mary Lundby, a Marion Republican who has endorsed Grandy. "It will serve him well."

House Majority Leader Brent Siegrist, a Council Bluffs Republican, said, "The primary voter is going to be comfortable with this speech. He solidified his base. At this point this race is the governor's to lose. He's the incumbent."

Republican primaries are won by putting together coalitions of conservatives, evangelicals and rural voters. In his speech, Branstad veered to the right and wooed them all by:

- Invoking numerous references to God. He opened the address by describing how he was reading the Bible as he prepared his speech. It was all a clear move to court evangelical voters influenced by the Christian Coalition. Polls show half of the state's registered Republicans consider themselves to be evangelicals or born-again Christians.

- State Rep. Steve Grubbs, a Davenport Republican who is leaning toward endorsing Branstad said: "He had references to the Bible, which the farmy values folks like. He's definitely reaching out to groups in the Republican primary coalition."

In addition, Branstad courted the religious right by not discussing women's issues. "There was no reference to women's issues," Lundby said. "We've been struggling along with the ERA and issues crucial to women and there was no mention of women's issues."

- Not mentioning gambling. Many on the religious right oppose expanded gambling. Yet key GOP business leaders in some of Iowa's larger communities support it.

"The fact he left out gambling was significant," Grubbs said. "As you talk to primary voters, it's clear he's caught in a crossfire on gambling."

DES MOINES — State lawmakers agree with the diagnosis that Iowa's health care system is ailing, but they enter this year's session widely divided on the best cure or whether they could afford to fund the prescription for change.

Reform proponents say the state must move forward with a health care plan this year that widens coverage for an estimated 288,000 uninlawmakers will be forced to settle on a modest approach that looks good in election-year campaign brochures but does little to attack chronic problems of access, affordability and quality.

Finding a health care solution that will fit in with federal reforms being studied in Washington is one of a host of thorny social issues that could further divide the split-control Legislature.

Included among those controversial issues languishing from last year are parental notification in cases where minor girls seek an abortion, reinstating the death penalty and a host of others likely to flare during an election-year session.

AT-A-GLANCE

Here are highlights of the health care reform package that Gov. Terry Branstad intends to recommend to legislators when the Iowa General Assembly convenes next week:

- Require insurance companies to offer a basic package of benefits to allow consumers the chance for comparison shopping; the package would have to include offering preventive health care with a co-payment from the purchaser based on a modified community rating of insurance.

- Require all businesses to offer a basic health care plan to workers, but the businesses would not be required to pay for coverage.

- Encourage creation of voluntary health care purchasing networks to obtain coverage at better rates for smaller businesses and individuals.

- Require that insurance coverage be portable and continuous, without exclusions, waiting periods or new health underwriting or reviews to help Iowans who change jobs avoid losing their coverage.

- Simplify the claims process, allow electronic filing and use of standardized forms, and establish new accounting and auditing procedures to gather information on cost and quality of health care systems.

SUBJECT: IOWA TRIP--BANKING

As you know, you are scheduled to meet with Sharon Sievers and Neil Milner of the Iowa Bankers Association. Some issues they may raise with you:

1. Community Reinvestment Act Reform. On December 8, 1993, in response to a request from President Clinton, the federal bank regulatory agencies proposed a major revision to the Community Reinvestment Act ("CRA") regulations. The proposal contains a streamlined CRA examination system for banks with under $250 million in assets. This is designed to reduce the regulatory burden on community banks.

However, under the streamlined procedures, for community banks to be rated "satisfactory" for CRA purposes, they must have a loan-to-deposit ratio of at least 60%. Community bankers claim that the use of this 60% ratio, or any fixed ratio, fails to take into account other relevant factors such as local and regional economic conditions and loan demand.

Community bankers want to delete the ratio and use a "reasonableness" standard instead. The regulations have been published in the Federal Register and are now subject to a comment period.

2. Regulatory Consolidation. The Administration is advocating legislation that would abolish the Office of Thrift Supervision (OTS) and the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (OCC) and consolidate the regulatory functions of the FDIC and the Federal Reserve Board into a new super-agency called the Federal Banking Commission. The Federal Banking Commission would have five members--a chairman appointed by the President; the Secretary of the Treasury; the Chairman of the Federal Reserve Board; an outside member from the President's own party; and an outside member from the opposition party. In a sense, four of the five members of the proposed Federal Banking Commission are "political."

Many small bankers, including the Independent Bankers, support the current regulatory structure, with the exception of the merger of the OCC and the OTS under the Treasury Department.

Another concern: Do we really want to concentrate all this regulatory authority in a single bank regulator--the Federal Banking Commission? Look at Clinton's record with the S&L industry when he was governor of Arkansas.

3. Community Development Banks. The Banking Committee has reported the Administration's "community development bank" proposal. Senator D'Amato supports Riegle's efforts.

The bill authorizes $382 million over four years for a Community Development Financial Institutions Fund (the "Fund"). The Fund is designed to provide financial assistance to organizations whose "primary mission is community development." These organizations may include credit unions, minority-owned banks, and "micro-enterprise" funds. The bill also includes a number of provisions designed to reduce the paperwork burden on banks. In addition, the bill incorporates Senator D'Aamto's proposal to allow banks to package loans to small businesses and sell the package of loans as securities.

Senators Mack and Shelby will probably offer a series of floor amendments designed to provide the banking industry with greater regulatory relief. You can also offer as amendments provisions taken from your bill, the Credit Crunch Relief Act. Please see attached summary.

STATEMENT OF SENATOR BOB DOLE
CREDIT CRUNCH RELIEF ACT OF 1993
JUNE 24, 1993

MR. PRESIDENT, LATER TODAY, THE SENATE WILL ADOPT THE LARGEST TAX PACKAGE IN AMERICAN HISTORY--A WHOPPING $264 BILLION.

NO DOUBT ABOUT IT, WITH MAJOR TAX INCREASES LOOMING ON THE HORIZON, THE AMERICAN PEOPLE ARE UNCERTAIN ABOUT THEIR ECONOMIC FUTURE. AND, UNTIL THIS UNCERTAINTY GIVES WAY TO CONFIDENCE, THEY ARE POSTPONING THE HIRING, SPENDING AND INVESTMENT DECISIONS THAT COULD GIVE THE ECONOMY A MUCH-NEEDED JUMP-START. THIS IS A BIG REASON BEHIND OUR SLUGGISH ECONOMY.

ANOTHER REASON IS THE LACK OF AVAILABLE CREDIT, PARTICULARLY FOR SMALL BUSINESSES. UNFORTUNATELY, REGULATORY BURDENS AND OVERLY-RESTRICTIVE EXAMINATION PRACTICES BY THE BANK REGULATORS HAVE DISCOURAGED BANKS FROM MAKING EVEN PRUDENT LOANS, THEREBY CHOKING OFF CAPITAL TO CREDITWORTHY BUSINESSES AND FARMS. THE RESULT IS FEWER JOBS AND LESS ECONOMIC GROWTH.

THAT'S WHY I AM JOINING TODAY WITH MY DISTINGUISHED COLLEAGUE FROM NEW YORK, IN INTRODUCING THE CREDIT CRUNCH RELIEF ACT OF 1993. THIS IMPORTANT LEGISLATION OUTLINES A SIX-POINT PLAN TO HELP EASE CREDIT, REDUCE THE UNNECESSARY REGULATORY BURDENS ON OUR STRONGEST BANKS, AND PUT OUR COUNTRY BACK ON THE ROAD TO ECONOMIC RECOVERY.

"MINIMAL DOCUMENTATION" LOANS

THE FIRST PROVISION WOULD ALLOW THE STRONGEST BANKS TO MAKE LOANS TO SMALL BUSINESSES WITHOUT HAVING TO FULFILL ALL THE PAPERWORK REQUIREMENTS THAT BANK EXAMINERS NORMALLY REQUIRE. THESE REQUIREMENTS ARE OFTEN UNNECESSARY, PARTICULARLY WHEN A BANK WOULD LIKE TO EXTEND CREDIT TO AN INDIVIDUAL OR AN INSTITUTION WITH A LONGSTANDING REPUTATION OF CREDITWORTHINESS WITHIN THE LOCAL COMMUNITY.

TO PROVIDE SOME SAFEGUARDS, THE TOTAL OF THE "MINIMAL DOCUMENTATION" LOANS AT A SINGLE INSTITUTION WILL BE LIMITED TO 40 PERCENT OF ITS TOTAL CAPITAL. NO INDIVIDUAL LOAN MAY EXCEED $900,000 OR 5% OF THE LENDING INSTITUTION'S TOTAL CAPITAL, WHICHEVER IS LESS. THE FEDERAL BANKING REGULATORS MAY ALLOW A BANK TO EXCEED THESE LIMITS, CONSISTENT WITH SAFETY AND SOUNDNESS CONSIDERATIONS.

THIS PROVISION REFLECTS THE VIEW OF PRESIDENT CLINTON, WHO RECENTLY ORDERED THE FEDERAL BANKING REGULATORS TO ALLOW THE STRONGEST BANKS TO MAKE "MINIMAL DOCUMENTATION" LOANS. I COMMEND THE PRESIDENT FOR HIS LEADERSHIP ON THIS ISSUE. BY GOING THE STATUTORY ROUTE, RATHER THAN RELYING EXCLUSIVELY ON REGULATORY ACTION, THIS PROVISION GIVES THE PRESIDENT'S DIRECTIVE SOME ADDED PUNCH.

PRESIDENTIAL AUTHORITY

THE SECOND PROVISION IS ALSO AIMED AT GIVING THE PRESIDENT THE TOOLS HE NEEDS TO GET THE JOB DONE. SPECIFICALLY, IT VESTS WITH THE PRESIDENT THE AUTHORITY TO SUSPEND ANY BANK STATUTE OR REGULATION THAT HE DETERMINES IS UNNECESSARY, IMPOSES COSTS THAT OUTWEIGH ITS BENEFITS, OR HAS A NEGATIVE IMPACT ON THE AVAILABILITY OF CREDIT. THIS PROVISION WAS INTRODUCED EARLIER THIS YEAR BY SENATOR D'AMATO AS THE PRESIDENTIAL CREDIT AVAILABILITY AND ECONOMIC RECOVERY ACT.

PRESIDENT CLINTON HAS SPOKEN ELOQUENTLY ABOUT THE NEED TO "REINVENT GOVERNMENT" AND FOR A MORE RATIONAL APPROACH TO REGULATION, PARTICULARLY BANKING REGULATION. THIS PROVISION WILL HELP THE PRESIDENT ACCOMPLISH THIS IMPORTANT GOAL: IF HE BELIEVES THAT A PARTICULAR BANKING REGULATION RESTRICTS THE AVAILABILITY OF CREDIT, THEREBY SLOWING ECONOMIC GROWTH, THE PRESIDENT WILL HAVE THE UNDISPUTED AUTHORITY TO SUSPEND THAT LAW'S APPLICATION.

COMPLIANCE WITH THE COMMUNITY REINVESTMENT ACT

THE THIRD PROVISION ESTABLISHES A STATUTORY PRESUMPTION THAT A BANK IS MEETING THE CREDIT NEEDS OF ITS COMMUNITY AND IS IN COMPLIANCE WITH THE COMMUNITY REINVESTMENT ACT, IF THE BANK HAS RECEIVED A CRA RATING OF "SATISFACTORY" OR "OUTSTANDING" IN THE MOST RECENT EVALUATION OF ITS RECORD. THIS PRESUMPTION IS REBUTTABLE BY "CLEAR AND CONVINCING" EVIDENCE THAT A COMMUNITY'S CREDIT NEEDS ARE NOT BEING MET.

WHEN A BANK SEEKS TO BUY A NEW BRANCH OFFICE, IT SHOULD NOT HAVE TO RELITIGATE THE ISSUE OF CRA COMPLIANCE IF IT ALREADY HAS A "SATISFACTORY" OR "OUTSTANDING" CRA RATING. MANY BANKERS WONDER WHY THEY SEEK A CRA RATING IN THE FIRST PLACE, IF THE ISSUE OF COMPLIANCE IS RELITIGATED AGAIN...AND AGAIN...AND AGAIN. A STATUTORY PRESUMPTION OF CRA COMPLIANCE WOULD HELP PREVENT NEEDLESS LITIGATION AND ULTIMATELY REDUCE COSTS FOR BANK CONSUMERS.

REGULATORY IMPACT STATEMENT

THE FOURTH PROVISION PROHIBITS EACH OF THE FEDERAL BANKING REGULATORS FROM ISSUING NEW REGULATIONS UNTIL THE AGENCY HAS CONDUCTED AN ANALYSIS OF THE IMPACT OF THE REGULATION ON SMALL BANKS AND CONSUMERS, INCLUDING SMALL BUSINESS BORROWERS. BEFORE A PROPOSED REGULATION BECOMES EFFECTIVE, THE BENEFITS OF THE REGULATION MUST OUTWEIGH ITS COSTS.

MR. PRESIDENT, THIS MAY SOUND LIKE COMMON SENSE, BUT COMMON SENSE IS OFTEN A RARE COMMODITY IN WASHINGTON.

DELAYING THE EFFECTIVE DATE OF SECTION 132

THE FIFTH PROVISION DELAYS, UNTIL JANUARY 1, 1996, THE EFFECTIVE DATE OF SECTION 132 OF THE FEDERAL DEPOSIT INSURANCE CORPORATION IMPROVEMENT ACT OF 1991. SECTION 132 REQUIRES FEDERAL REGULATORS TO SET NATIONAL STANDARDS FOR A WIDE ARRAY OF INTERNAL BANK PROCEDURES--ALL REGARDLESS OF WHETHER THESE STANDARDS ARE APPROPRIATE FOR INDIVIDUAL INSTITUTIONS.

ALTHOUGH ORIGINALLY DESIGNED AS A REFORM MEASURE, SECTION 132'S "ONE-SIZE-FITS-ALL" APPROACH TO BANK PROCEDURES COULD HAVE A NEGATIVE IMPACT ON BANK LENDING. AS FEDERAL RESERVE BOARD CHAIRMAN ALAN GREENSPAN RECENTLY EXPLAINED, AND I QUOTE: "THE NECESSARY REGULATORY RESPONSE...AND THE ANTICIPATED INDUSTRY RESPONSE TO THE NEW REGULATIONS HAVE AND WILL DIVERT SCARCE RESOURCES AT REGULATORY AGENCIES, ADD TO THE REGULATORY BURDEN ON THE INDUSTRY, AND CREATE UNCERTAINTIES, ALL OF WHICH REDUCE THE INCENTIVES OF BANKERS TO TAKE ON RISK, PERHAPS EVEN REASONABLE BUSINESS RISK."

DELAYING THE EFFECTIVE DATE OF SECTION 132 WILL GIVE BANKS, PARTICULARLY COMMUNITY BANKS, MORE TIME TO GRAPPLE WITH THE NEW REGULATORY REQUIREMENTS. THIS WILL HOPEFULLY REDUCE THE UNCERTAINTY AND SPUR PRUDENT LENDING.

CONSUMER SURVEYS

THE SIXTH AND FINAL PROVISION DIRECTS EACH FEDERAL BANKING REGULATORY AGENCY TO CONDUCT A SURVEY OF BANK CUSTOMERS TO DETERMINE WHETHER THOSE LAWS THAT CONGRESS DESIGNED TO PROTECT CONSUMERS ARE, IN FACT, ACHIEVING THEIR INTENDED GOALS. THE LAWS THAT WILL BE SURVEYED INCLUDE THE TRUTH-IN-SAVINGS ACT, THE TRUTH-IN-LENDING ACT, AND THE COMMUNITY REINVESTMENT ACT. THE SURVEYS MUST BE COMPLETED WITHIN SIX MONTHS OF THE ENACTMENT OF THIS BILL.

ALL TOO OFTEN, CONGRESS PASSES LAWS UNDER THE BANNER OF "CONSUMER PROTECTION" WITHOUT HAVING A CLEAR SENSE OF WHETHER THESE LAWS WILL WORK AS ADVERTISED. I SUSPECT THAT SOME CONSUMER PROTECTION LAWS ACTUALLY END UP HARMING CONSUMERS IN THE LONG-RUN, AS THE ADDITIONAL COSTS OF REGULATION ARE PASSED ON TO THEM. TO DETERMINE WHETHER BANK CONSUMERS ARE, IN FACT, BENEFITTING FROM THE LAWS WE PASS, CONGRESS AND THE REGULATORS SHOULD DO WHAT ANY BUSINESS WOULD DO--CONDUCT A SURVEY AND ASK THE CONSUMERS THEMSELVES.

WON'T END THE CREDIT CRUNCH OVERNIGHT

MR. PRESIDENT, I ASK UNANIMOUS CONSENT THAT THE FULL TEXT OF THE CREDIT CRUNCH RELIEF ACT OF 1993 AND AN EXECUTIVE SUMMARY OF THE ACT BE INSERTED IN THE RECORD IMMEDIATELY AFTER MY REMARKS.

About Your Bill...

Insurance and Payment Information

General Information

Mayo Medical Center consists of Mayo Clinic Rochester, Rochester Methodist Hospital and Saint Marys Hospital. Each facility bills for its own services.

Patient accounts representatives are available to help you file insurance claims at Cashiers Offices at all three locations. You also can reach a representative by calling the numbers listed below:

Mayo Clinic Rochester

Rochester Methodist Hospital
(507) 284-1550

Saint Marys Hospital
(507) 284-1550

Medical and Hospitalization Insurance

Mayo will file insurance claims for you. Please supply the name, address and policy number of your insurance company.

Mayo cannot predict what insurance benefits will be paid by individual insurers because coverage varies among policies. Many insurance companies limit payments using "Usual, Customary and Reasonable" (UCR) allowances. This may not cover all Mayo charges because Mayo Medical Center does not accept usual and customary payments as payment in full. In addition, coverage may vary with hospitalization insurance plans. We suggest you check with your employer or insurance agent about coverage.

If you have coverage with more than one insurance carrier, it is your responsibility to coordinate billing and payment information with them.

If you do not have health insurance, you may be asked for a pre-service deposit.

Pre-certification, Pre-authorization and Second Surgical Opinion

To assure maximum coverage, many insurance companies and employer-group plans require an approval ("pre-authorization" or "pre-certification") before your doctor performs certain tests or admits you to the hospital. Your policy may also require a second opinion before your insurance company will agree to pay for a particular surgical procedure. It could be beneficial for you to check with your insurance company or employer about specific authorization requirements before your appointment.

You can receive help with all pre-authorization and pre-certification requirements at Hospital Pre-Admissions (Desk West-1), main floor of the Mayo Building, (507) 284-3980. Pre-certification is not a guarantee of coverage. Please contact your employer or your insurance company's customer service representative if you have questions about coverage. You are responsible for payment of services not authorized by your insurance company.

Medicare

Medicare has two billing components, Part A and Part B. Part A includes hospital charges and Part B includes physician charges.

Mayo is a participant in Part A Medicare, therefore, if you are hospitalized at Saint Marys Hospital or Rochester Methodist Hospital, your Part A claim will be filed with Medicare on your behalf. Medicare payments will be sent directly to the hospital, however, you will still receive an explanation of Medicare benefits. Hospital personnel will also file your supplemental hospital insurance claim on your behalf.

And although Mayo is a non-participating provider with Part B Medicare, they will file the Part B claim with Medicare on your behalf. Part B does not pay your claims directly to Mayo Clinic, instead payments are sent to you along with an explanation of Medicare benefits. You will also receive an itemized statement and supplemental claims filing instructions.

Please note on your Mayo itemized statement that a separate claim for clinical laboratory services will be submitted to Medicare. Clinical laboratory services are not charged to your personal balance at the time of billing. If the clinical laboratory services are covered, Medicare will make payments directly to Mayo. However, you are responsible to pay for clinical laboratory services that are not covered by Medicare.

Health Maintenance Organization (HMO)

If you are a member of an HMO, you may need to get pre-authorization before receiving services at Mayo. Please contact Mayo's HMO Referral Office at (507) 284-4366 for an appointment. You are responsible for payment of services not authorized by your HMO. A pre-service deposit is required for visits not pre-authorized.

Medical Assistance (Medicaid)

Mayo provides services to patients ("participants") with the state Medicaid programs of Minnesota, Iowa, Wisconsin, Michigan, North and South Dakota, Montana, and Nebraska. If you are covered by any of these programs, your

DES MOINES REGISTER PHONE INTERVIEW:

CALL GEORGE ANTHAN (202) 347-9111

Wants to discuss farm and Ag policy and the large role you have played in its development leading up to the 1995 farm bill. Depicting you as one of the single most important framers of ag policy in Congress since your House days.

* MIKE TORREY AND STACY TALKING POINTS ATTACHED

January 12, 1994

TO: Senator Dole
FROM: Mike Torrey
SUBJECT: Des Moines Register interview

Below is a summary of your involvement in farm program activities dating back to the 1970's.

OVERVIEW OF FARM BILLS

1973 FARM BILL

--The target price and deficiency payment concept was started this year. Also, an income supplement was placed on top of the loan rate which the farmer got in spite of crop prices.

1977 FARM BILL

--The Farmer Owned Reserve (FOR) was started. Also, target prices were increased. The 70's were a good year for exports. However, exports started to slack off and farmers asked that target prices be increased to help off set lost income.

1978 EMERGENCY ASSISTANCE ACT

--This was in response to the tractorcade. Essentially, it expanded credit programs for farmers and increased loan rates which was later regretted in that this move increased the price of U.S. grain on the world market.

1981 FARM BILL

--The Administration unsuccessfully proposed the elimination of farm programs. Looking back, 1981 was probably the worst Farm Bill. Both Target prices and loan rates were high. At the same time, the world economy went into a slump and the dollar was weak which eventually priced the U.S. grain out of the world market. Consequently, the U.S. started to build grain stocks. Two years later, PIK was instituted to get rid of surplus stocks. Basically, the bill was inflexible which made it difficult to respond to the farm crisis and the world economy.

1985 FARM BILL

--You were the primary author of this bill. It was a market oriented piece of legislation which decreased loan rates and froze target prices. In order to get rid of surplus grains, the Export Enhancement Program was stepped up. This was also the beginning of the green revolution for Farm Bill's. The Conservation Reserve Program was instituted and every farmer in the program was required to have a conservation plan in place. This bill cost $26.6 billion in 1986 but was eventually phased down to between $10-12 billion in 1990.

1990 FARM BILL

--This bill continued down the path of the 1985 farm bill. In addition, this legislation was on a two track process with the Budget Reconciliation Package. Target prices were again frozen and savings were picked up in the Budget package through triple base (15% of a farmers base does not receive government payments). The green revolution continued through the implementation of sod buster and swampbuster.

1995 FARM BILL OUTLOOK

--One of the messages in 1995 could be to simplify. The 1981 farm bill was 151 pages, the 1985 farm bill was 206 pages and the 1990 bill was 719 pages. Every year, the Congress keeps adding more and more requirements and regulations. In addition, some commons sense will be necessary. A lot of things have been tried over the years and by now we should have learned what works and what doesn't. Of course, the environment will be a big issue. We probably won't get a bill out of committee unless the environmentalists are happy with it. The bill will also face budget pressure and some will try to eliminate farm programs altogether. However, as long as the U.S. is competing against a world market that is subsidized, we have to provide a way for our own farmers to compete in this unfair trading atmosphere. Finally, the CRP ground will start to come out of production and decisions will have to be made regarding its use.

DOLE ACCOMPLISHMENTS REGARDING FARM LEGISLATION

--Responsible for Reagan Administration decision to lift 1980 embargo on agricultural trade with the Soviet Union in April 1981.

--In 1983, proposed the use of surplus, government-owned commodities as bonuses to all foreign buyers of U.S. farm products (Export Enhancement Program).

--Supported adoption of the marketing loan concept for rice and cotton in the Farm Bill, and included marketing loan authority for wheat, feed grains, and soybeans.

--Strongly supported including the Conservation Reserve Program in the 1985 Farm Bill as a cost-effective and environmentally-preferable alternative to annual acreage set-aside and diversions.

--Long-time supporter of P.L 480 (the Food for Peace Program) and other international food assistance plans, and of domestic hunger and nutrition programs.

--Responsible for including no-cost sugar program in the 1985 Farm Bill.

--Strongly supported establishing voluntary check-off programs for major commodities, including wheat, corn, soybeans, dairy, beef, and pork, as effective "self-help" tools to increase domestic consumption and develop foreign markets for U.S. farm products.

--Strongly pushed the Administration to reduce paperwork to farmers by 50 percent by 1995.

United States Senate

WASHINGTON, DC 20510

January 12, 1994

The Honorable William Clinton
President of the United States
Washington, D.C. 20500

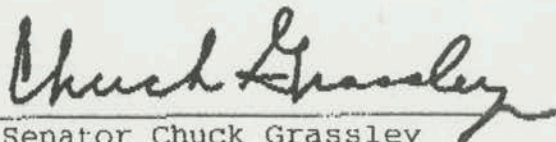

Dear Mr. President:

We understand that the Administration is currently reviewing all agricultural export assistance programs and may recommend to eliminate, or severely limit, export assistance under the Export Enhancement Program (EEP), the Sunflower Oil Assistance Program (SOAP), the Cottonseed Oil Assistance Program (COAP) and the Dairy Export Incentive Program (DEIP).

Notwithstanding the successful conclusion of the GATT talks, we question the need for the United States to unilaterally disarm in such a fashion. U.S. export programs have helped create an $18 billion trade surplus. Moreover, the European Community (EC) is likely to increase their own subsidies between now and July 1, 1995 -- the date when the agreement goes into effect. Given that the EC insisted on a gradual reduction of export subsidies over six years, the EC will certainly subsidize greater quantities of commodities into the world market even after the agreement enters into force. Without a doubt, the EC will themselves utilize any and all export subsidy options available. It is only fitting and proper that the United States utilize all policy options available to fight predatory pricing and unfair trading practices of our competitors. Should the United States curtail the EEP, SOAP, COAP, and DEIP programs at this time, we would be abdicating our commitment to gaining market share for our farmers and ranchers, and cede valuable markets to our overseas competitors.

We urge the Administration to continue to aggressively utilize all of its available export tools to open export markets for American pork, rice, wheat, eggs, oilseeds and poultry. Export programs have played a key role in capturing and maintaining world market share, and we would urge you give every due consideration to their continued viability.

Sincerely,

Senator Chuck Grassley
