SENATOR DOLE

Thank you Blanquita.

I would first like to take a moment to recognize someone here tonight. For 18 years he was a colleague in the United State Senate -- for 4 of those years he was my Majority Leader. He also chaired this dinner for three years and is this year's honorary chairman. A great Republican, a great statesman and a TRUE leader -- Howard Baker.

It is truly exciting to be here tonight. You know Bill Clinton keeps talking about change, and I have a feeling tonight that he's going to get it -- although it might not be what he had in mind.

We are on the verge of a great change in Congress.

I told George Mitchell that he didn't have to retire just to make room for me in the Majority Leader's office.

But I guess he realized that Americans are looking for real change. Not the kind that Bill and Hillary are selling, but the kind of positive, real changes that the Republicans are offering:

- Cuts in government spending and taxes like the ones we offered in 1993 that the Democrats shot down. Our plans would have cut the deficit without raising taxes, but they didn't like that idea.
- Incentives for Americans to save and invest, not to spend their hard-earned dollars on wasteful government programs the produce nothing and create only government jobs.
- Meaningful health-care reform, not a huge new nationalized government bureacracy that hijacks one-seventh of the U.S. economy.

That's what we stand for and that's why when I move back into the Majority Leader's office next January.

The Magnificent Eleven have won by offering Americans real alternatives to the failed policies of the Democrats. That's why, as I stand before you tonight, I can say without fear of contradiction, change is coming.

SENATOR BOB DOLE
1994 REPUBLICAN SENATE-HOUSE DINNER

Thank you.

One of the reasons why Paul Coverdell did an outstanding job as Dinner Chairman this year is because he had a great teacher. And on behalf everyone here this evening, I want to thank this year's Honorary Chairman--and the Chairman of this dinner the past three years--a great Republican, a great statesman, and a true leader--Howard Baker.

Howard and I share something in common. We both served as Senate Majority Leader. And we both served as Senate Minority Leader. And after a great deal of thought, we decided which job we liked best.

Normally, I like to stand by and watch Democrats squabble, but I am willing to lend a helping hand in a little fight they're having. As you know, there's a contest among the Democrats on who is going to succeed George Mitchell as Majority Leader.

Well, with your help, we can end their squabble. Because with your help, the next Senate Majority Leader will be Bob Dole.

President Clinton promised the American people change. And what they got is change back to the big-spending, high-taxing days of the past.

But with Bob Dole as Senate Majority Leader and Newt Gingrich as Speaker of the House, the American people will get change--change for the better.

Instead of higher taxes, and more spending, our agenda will include a balanced budget amendment, a line item veto, and a cut in the capital gains tax rate.

Instead of putting government bureaucrats in charge of your health care, we will fix what needs to be fixed, and leave health care decisions where they belong--in the hands of you and your doctor.

And instead of turning foreign policy decisions over to the United Nations, we will never forget what we learned on the beaches of Normandy fifty years ago--that the world needs American leadership.

That's what the Republican Party stands for, and that's what America will get with Republican majorities in Congress.

Thank you.
