

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

July 18, 1980

Dear Bob:

Just a year ago, I presented to the Congress and the Nation a series of energy initiatives designed to reduce our country's dependence on foreign oil and assure our energy security. The passage of the Energy Security Act, which I signed into law on June 30, 1980, is the highlight of our efforts to implement a comprehensive energy policy which incorporates both present reality and a vision of the future.

In grateful recognition of your vital leadership in the development of this legislation, I want you to have the enclosed pen commemorating my signing of this bill. Thank you for putting your own energy to work for our Nation's best interests.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script, appearing to read "Jimmy", written in dark ink.
