

April 10, 1964

Congressman Bob Dole (R-Kansas) stated today the "midnight spectacle" staged by the Administration in passing the "wheat-cotton" bill was an affront to all Americans. "I refused to be a party to the well planned scheme that gave 435 Members only one hour to discuss two bills affecting millions of farmers. The four-way deal is half completed," Dole said, "and it was a strange ^{Coalition} ~~coalition~~ which made it possible. The second half will see city Democrats voting to spend additional millions for cancer research to bail out Agriculture Committee Chairman Harold Cooley, and the curtain will fall when Southern Democrats 'change position' and vote themselves and their city brethren a fat Congressional pay ~~pay~~ raise in the near future."