Overland Park, Kansas.....Speaking at a Johnson County Republican Rally last night, Congressman Bob Dole, Republican candidate for the U. S. Senate, predicted that "despite the many differences in the Democrat Party, every effort will be made in the final days of the campaign to regroup their forces.

"The Democrat hawks and doves will be flying together and the most conservative and most liberal elements of the Democrat Party will go all out to save Hubert Humphrey."

Dole challenged Republicans to make a maximum effort in the final week to promote the candidacy of Dick Nixon, who, he said, was the most qualified man in America for the Presidency.

"The greatest single issue in this campaign," Dole stated, "is leadership for America and the free world, and only Richard Nixon offers real hope, while Humphrey offers more of the same, and Wallace nothing at all."

Dole chided his opponent for spending huge sums of money for radio and television advertising in an effort to confuse Kansas voters. He made specific reference to his opponent's attacks on his voting record pertaining to education. The Republican candidate displayed a brochure containing his complete record on votes pertaining to education and challenged his opponent to discuss the entire record.

"I can only conclude," Dole said, "that my opponent would vote for everything that came to Congress, regardless of the consequences and regardless of the amount of federal control such legislation might authorize. There are too many rubberstamps in Congress now, and the American people, regardless of their Party, cannot afford those like my opponent who advocate bigger and bigger federal expenditures and bigger and bigger federal programs for every problem that comes along."
