DOVER, DELAWARE, Sept. 24, 1970 -- U.S. Senator Bob Dole (R-Kans.), speaking tonight at a kick-off dinner for Senatorial candidate, Bill Roth (R-Del) in Dover Delaware, offered hope for the leadership of America.

Dole said, "We saw an example of leadership just last week in my own home state of Kansas."

"There the President spoke to 15,000 students and faculty of Kansas State University, and if we could not know from the simple eloquence of his address that a new day had come in America, then we certainly would have known from the surging response of those thousands of young people. Once again we could see that we had a man of vision to lead us -- that once again the nation was in safe hands."

"As our colleges and universities open their doors for another academic year, we as a nation have been conscious of rapidly approaching a time of decision -- a time when we must determine to save the great centers of learning in this nation -- of relinquish them forever to a generation of vipers; and with them relinquish forever our high destiny as a people."

Dole warned, "If we permit the apostles of atheism, and the ambassadors of anarchism to shroud the lamp of liberty in America, that light will die not only on our own shores, but around the world. And if that light dies, we will not see it rekindled in our time, nor in our children's time, nor in the time of our children's children."
