FOR RELEASE: AUGUST 7, 1971, SUNDAY

WASHINGTON, D.C., Aug. 7 --- Michael E. Egan, son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Egan, 151 Fairdale Road, Salina, returns home today following a five-week internship in the Washington, D.C. office of U.S. Sen. Bob Dole (R-Kans.)

Egan, who is a junior in economics and pre-law at Kansas State University, is active in campus politics and is a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon, social fraternity, where he serves as pledge trainer.

While in the Dole office, the K-State student assisted with constituent inquiries concerning pending legislation.

In addition to his regular duties in the office, Egan observed the proceedings of the Senate Committee on Labor and Public Welfare and the Joint Economic Committee. While in Washington, he conducted independent research on the economic effects of federal fiscal policy.

Egan had the opportunity to hear numerous nationally known speakers as a part of the special summer intern program. Some of these men included U.S. Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.), U.S. Sen. Edward M. Kennedy (D-Mass.), U.S. Sen. Edmund S. Muskie (D-Maine) and U.S. Sen. Peter Dominick (R-Colo.) Egan and the other interns in the Dole office met and talked with Majority Leader Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.) and U.S. Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson III (D-Ill.) in their offices.

Egan plans to spend the remainder of his summer in Salina and Manhattan except for one week in August when he will be attending the Tau Kappa Epsilon National Conclave in Ashville, N.C.
