ACTUALITY

The Senate today give final approval to the School Lunch bill which, in addition to providing extra assistance to school lunch programs across Kansas also contains an amendment I introduced on the Senate floor to restore almost $8 million in federal impact aid funds to Kansas schools and thereby save the state taxpayers between $7 and $8 million next year.

I was pleased that my amendment was passed by the Congress, and am hopeful that it will be signed into law by the President as soon as possible to avoid any curtailment of school operations in federally impacted Kansas school districts.
