KANSAS GAS ALLOCATION "GOOD NEWS"

WASHINGTON, D.C.--Senator Bob Dole says he has been in contact with Federal Energy Office officials in Washington and has learned that "we can expect the gasoline allocation announcements which are expected later today to be good news for Kansas."

Dole has been in regular contact with FEO officials over the past week to make sure that Kansas is treated fairly in any gasoline allocation redistributions. "The official announcements are expected later today by the FEO, but by every indication, it appears that the allocation changes which had been expected will not cost Kansas the gasoline supply loss which had been rumored."
