DOLE URGES AMERICANS TO HONOR THOSE ON MEMORIAL DAY

Washington, D.C. --- In recognition of May 29 as Memorial Day, Senator Bob Dole(R-Kansas) noted:

On this Memorial Day, I join with all Americans honoring those who have fought and died for our country, thankful that ours is a nation at peace, even if ours is not a peaceful world.

Our defenders should be remembered, honored, and revered for their contribution to the continued existence of our Republic and the freedoms which make it worth defending.

I urge everyone to set aside time to reflect on these sacrifices -- and to remember what these people fought for. Likewise, as we take this time to reflect, let us look to the challenges of the future, vowing to remain always ready to protect for future generations the liberty that our forefathers have protected for us.
