NO SELECTIONS INVOLVING KANSANS THIS WEEK

WASHINGTON -- Senator Bob Dole (R.-Kansas) said today, "There appears to be some confusion about Kansans who have been mentioned as prospective members of the Reagan Administration. We have thoroughly checked with the Associate Director for Political Liaison, Presidential Personnel Office, at the Office of the President-elect (Keith Bulen), and others who have the responsibility for clearances on candidates for appointments in the Administration. We can say with certainty that there are no final selections being made at this time, nor are any interim or preliminary clearances being sought for any candidates."

Dole states he was assured that he would be contacted in the event any Kansans needed clearance.
