DOLE PROGRESSING WELL; RELEASE FROM WALTER REED EXPECTED NEXT WEEK

WASHINGTON -- Officials at Walter Reed Army Medical Center today reported that Senator Bob Dole (R-Kan.) was progressing well, and that he will probably remain at the hospital until some time next week.

Dole is recuperating from surgery last Friday for removal of a kidney stone.

It is not yet known when the senator may return to his Senate duties, but doctors at Walter Reed indicate that he will need an additional period of recovery following release from the hospital.
