DOLE SALUTES KANSAS FINANCIAL INSTITUTION LEADERS

FOR HELP ON DOLE WITHHOLDING COMPROMISE

WASHINGTON -- Kansas Senator Bob Dole, Chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, today saluted a group of Kansas bankers and savings and loan officials who played a significant role in forging a compromise on the withholding on interest and dividend income issue.

Dole noted that the compromise, based on input from Kansas financial institution leaders, was adopted by the Senate on Thursday, April 21, by a 91-5 vote.

"I am proud of the cooperation my staff and I received from these Kansans on this important tax compliance issue. Much of the compromise comes directly from a meeting I had with these bankers and S&L representatives on March 30 in Topeka," Dole said. "For that reason, I prefer to call the Dole compromise amendment the 'Kansas amendment'."

"While I remain a solid supporter of the President's withholding law, I feel the compromise, rather than outright repeal, will salvage some much-needed revenue. Now that withholding has moved out of the Senate, I am not certain what will happen in the House or what the President might do if a compromise eventually reaches his desk," Dole said.

Senator Dole's statement on the Kansas bankers and savings and loan officials is included in the Congressional Record. The statement and a list of the Kansans are contained on the back of this release.

Congressional Record

WASHINGTON,
THURSDAY, APRIL 21, 1983

I wish to make the record clear that even though I have been less than charitable toward the ABA and its staff, I think for the most part members of the banking and S&L community in our States have been willing to be responsible. There were specific recommendations that were made to my staff and to me following a 2½-hour discussion with a group of Kansas bankers and S&L representatives that indicated that at the grass roots level there was a willingness to try to work it out. This was so notwithstanding the massive lobbying campaign of deception and distortion carried on at the staff level in Washington.

I ask unanimous consent to include in the record a list of the bankers and

S&L executive, who were present at our Topeka, Kans. meeting on March 30, 1983, and others who were not present but subsequently played a significant role in drafting the Dole compromise.

There being no objection, the list was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

KANSAS BANKERS AND S&L EXECUTIVES WHO PLAYED A SIGNIFICANT ROLE IN DRAFTING THE DOLE COMPROMISE ON WITHHOLDING

BANKERS

Gerald Shadwick, John Sullivan, Tom Clevenger, Emery Fager, John McNay, Andy Chandler, Dave Owen, Joe Jackson, Bill Oakes, and Harold Stones.

S&L EXECUTIVES

Joe Morris, Jack Dicus, Arky Vaughn, Tom Monk, Ken Brasted, Dave Hanna, Jim Scaletty, and Jim Turner.
