DOLE ANNOUNCES NEW STATE DIRECTOR FOR SENATE OFFICES

Washington, D.C. -- Senator Bob Dole (R-Kansas) today announced that Ron Wineinger, currently serving as Agricultural Assistant in the Washington office, has been named to replace Steve Coen as State Director of his Kansas Senatorial offices.

Coen has accepted a position as Director of Planned Giving with the Wesley Foundation in Wichita. As such, he will provide legal counsel and financial planning services and assist with the establishment of foundations for rural hospitals.

"Steve has made many contributions to Kansas during his tenure on both the Washington and Kansas staffs," said Dole, "I wish him much success in his new endeavors at the Wesley Foundation."

"Ron brings sound Washington experience to the position in the Wichita office and a particularly strong background in business and agriculture. I am looking forward to having him on-board in the state."

Prior to joining the Dole staff last February, Wineinger was employed with Farmland Industries, Incorporated in Kansas City, Missouri, where he served in the human resource and commodity finance departments. He is an agricultural economics graduate of Kansas State University and a former National President of the Future Farmers of America (FFA). Wineinger is a native of Marion, Kansas.
