DOLE ANNOUNCES LOANS TO AID KANSAS DISABLED

Washington, D.C. -- Organizations aiding the disabled will receive Section 202 loans from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, Kansas Senator Bob Dole announced today.

"These loans are specifically earmarked for the construction of facilities to house the disabled," said Dole. "The disabled of our state deserve a place to live and these loans should help get construction under way for these projects."

Section 202 provides long-term direct government loans to private non-profit sponsors for the purpose of developing housing for the disabled. The loans may cover 100% of the development costs and may be repaid at below market interest.

The organizations, loan amounts and cities where the projects will be constructed are:

HUTCHINSON

Training and Evaluation Center for the Handicapped	$386,200
For: 14 units

NEWTON

Meadowlark Homestead, Inc.	$365,600
For: 12 units
