DOLE NAMES ALAN COBB AND SCOTT HESSE AS DEPUTY STATE DIRECTORS

WASHINGTON - Kansas Senator Bob Dole has named Alan Cobb and Scott Hesse as Deputy State Directors. Cobb, an attorney in Wichita, will oversee the Senator's Kansas City office. Hesse, a Manhattan attorney, will oversee the Senator's Topeka office. Both will focus on constituent service.

"Alan and Scott will bring great energy and experience to our efforts to serve the people of Kansas," said Dole. "Both have built tremendous records of public service and I'm confident that their talents will help our team meet the personal needs and concerns of all Kansans."

"As Deputy State Directors, Alan and Scott will be active in reaching out to communities across Kansas," Dole added. "They will be available to travel, to work with local service clubs, to give speeches and to hold town meetings."

Alan Cobb, a Wichita native, is a 1988 graduate of Wichita State University. He earned a Masters degree in Government Administration from the University of Pennsylvania and a law degree from Washburn University in Topeka. A specialist in health care and business issues, Cobb has consulted state legislators on health, insurance, business and tax legislation.

Scott Hesse, a Rossville native, earned a B.S. in political science from Kansas State University in 1981 and a law degree from Washburn University in 1984. Hesse has previously served as Assistant Attorney General under Robert Stephan, Assistant Pottawatomie County Attorney, and as a committee member for the Republican Party of Kansas.
