GOP LEADERSHIP DINNER

GREAT HALL - LIBRARY OF CONGRESS

NOVEMBER 20, 1986

GOOD EVENING, MR. PRESIDENT, MRS. REAGAN, MR. VICE PRESIDENT, MRS. BUSH: ON BEHALF OF MY COLLEAGUES IN THE COLLEGE OF CARDINALS, I'D LIKE TO WELCOME YOU TO THE LIBRARY OF CONGRESS. UNFORTUNATELY, THE SISTINE
CHAPEL WAS ALREADY BOOKED FOR THE EVENING. BUT I THINK YOU'LL AGREE, THIS IS THE NEXT BEST ROOM IN TOWN.

I'M AFRAID WE'VE HAD TO ECONOMIZE A BIT ON THIS YEAR'S ENTERTAINMENT. GRAMM, RUDMAN AND DOMENICI RULED
OUT ANY GEORGIAN CHANTS. AND IF YOU MISSED THE SWISS GUARDS AT THE DOOR, WELL, THERE'S A LOGICAL
EXPLANATION. IT SEEMS THAT ADMIRAL POINDEXTER BORROWED
THEM FOR HIS OWN PROTECTION FOR A MISSION OF HIS OWN.

SEEMS HE HOPES TO ESTABLISH CONTACTS WITH CERTAIN MODERATE MEMBERS OF THE WASHINGTON PRESS CORPS.

MR. VICE PRESIDENT, I'M ESPECIALLY PLEASED TO SEE YOU HERE THIS EVENING. TOWARD THE END OF THE CAMPAIGN, I WAS KIND OF HOPING TO SEE A LOT OF YOU AROUND HERE THE NEXT TWO YEARS. AFTER ALL, WHO WANTS TO SPEND TIME IN HOLIDAY INNS, GOING TO MEETINGS, BEING INTRODUCED TO DELEGATES - WHEN HE COULD STAY HERE AND BREAK THE TIE OVER NATIONAL NASTURTIUM MONTH?

MR. PRESIDENT, WE ALL KNOW OF YOUR FONDNESS FOR CALVIN COOLIDGE. IN HIS AUTOBIOGRAPHY, COOLIDGE WROTE OF THE TRIALS HE EXPERIENCED IN PRESIDING OVER THE WORLD'S GREATEST DELIBERATIVE BODY. UPON ARRIVING IN WASHINGTON, HE DETERMINED TO ACQUAINT HIMSELF WITH ITS PRACTICES, TRADITIONS, AND PROCEDURES.

AS COOLIDGE PUT IT, "I SOON FOUND THAT THE SENATE

HAD BUT ONE FIXED RULE, WHICH WAS TO THE EFFECT THAT

THE SENATE WOULD DO ANYTHING THAT IT WANTED WHENEVER IT

WANTED TO DO IT. WHEN I HAD LEARNED THAT, I DID NOT

WASTE MUCH TIME ON THE OTHER RULES BECAUSE THEY WERE SO

SELDOM APPLIED."

SO MUCH FOR PAPAL INFALLIBILITY.

IN FACT, MR. PRESIDENT, I THINK YOU'LL AGREE THAT IN THE LAST FEW YEARS, WORKING TOGETHER, WE HAVE REWRITTEN THE WASHINGTON RULEBOOK. IN THE PROCESS, WE HAVE REDEFINED THE ROLE OF GOVERNMENT IN AMERICA.
MAJORITIES COME AND GO. CHAIRMANSHIPS MAY CHANGE
HANDS. OFFICES ROTATE. BUT HISTORY WILL RECORD THAT IT WAS A REPUBLICAN PRESIDENT AND A REPUBLICAN SENATE WHO REVERSED THE DECLINE OF AMERICAN FORTUNES AND DISPELLED
FOR ALL TIME ANY DOUBTS ABOUT OUR ABILITY TO GOVERN.

OVER IN THE ATRIUM OF THE HART BUILDING, WE'VE

JUST FINISHED PUTTING UP A GIGANTIC SCULPTURE BY

ALEXANDER CALDER. IT'S CALLED "MOUNTAINS AND CLOUDS."

AND MANY'S THE TIME AS I WALKED PAST IT THESE LAST FEW MONTHS, THAT I FOUND MYSELF WONDERING JUST WHY THEY

MADE THE CLOUDS SO BLACK.

ON NOVEMBER 4 I FOUND OUT.

THIS EVENING, INEVITABNLY, IS A TIME OF MINGLED FEELINGS. OF PRIDE IN A JOB WELL DONE, AND REGRET THAT WE WON'T ALL BE HERE NEXT JANUARY TO COMPLETE THE TASK. OF DELIGHT IN WELCOMING NEW FACES TO OUR COUNCILS. AND SORROW AT PARTING FROM CHERISHED FRIENDS AND COLLEAGUES.

Mr. President, we all know of your fondness for Calvin Coolidge. In his autobiography, Coolidge wrote of the trials he experienced in presiding over the world's greatest deliberative body. Upon arriving in Washington, he determined to acquaint himself with its practices, traditions, and procedures. As Coolidge put it,"I soon found that the Senate had but one fixed rule, which was to the effect that the Senate would do anything that it wanted whenever it wanted to do it. When I had learned that, I did not waste much time on the other rules because they were so seldom applied" So much for papal infallability. In the process In fact, Mr. President, I think you'll agree that in the last few years, working together, we have rewritten the Washington rulebook. even as we have redefined the role of government in America. Majorities come and go. Chairmanships change hands. Offices rotate. But history will record that a Republican President hand in hand with a Republican Senate reversed the decline of American fortunes and dispelled for all the time and the doubts about our ability to govern. PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: SENATE REPUBLICAN DINNER THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 1986

Bob and Elizabeth Dole, members of the Cabinet, honored guests, and my dear friends. First, I'd like to congratulate the new Republican leaders who will be on the point for the G.O.P. in the upcoming 100th Congress. Republican Leader Dole will again have a solid team to back him up: Alan Simpson, John Chafee, Bill Armstrong, Thad Cochran, and Rudy Boschwitz. We salute all of you and are proud of the qualities you bring to our leadership in the Senate. Also, a heartfelt welcome to Senators-elect Bond and McCain, new Members of the Senate, but both battle-hardened political veterans. Kit and John, we're happy to have you aboard.

This is one of those occasions when it's easy to get a little misty. We've been a team, men and women who've shared a vision and who've developed bonds of friendship while working to turn our goals for America into reality.

Tonight we honor, in particular, Senators Laxalt, Goldwater, and Mathias, and all those who will not be returning for the battles in the year ahead.

Paul Laxalt, as is no secret, has been close to me these last 6 years, and long before. I've managed to stay his friend, even if it meant having to eat those special dishes at his Basque barbecues. Paul, Nancy and I are grateful for all you've been tus.

Senator Goldwater, who was not able to be with us this evening, has been our inspiration, indeed, the Conscience of Conservatives. Six years ago, at this very dinner, I saluted Barry, saying then what remains true today: His principled stand in 1964, the ideals he expressed, the courage he displayed, captured our imaginations. He was a pathfinder, a point man. And in these last 6 years, his guidance, grit, and wisdom strengthened our resolve and kept us going.

Then there's Senator Mathias. Now, Mac, you are the kind of individual who has made Washington a fun place to work. We worked together when you were the chairman of my second inaugural committee. And ever since, whatever the issue of the day, no matter how hotly contested, you've always been a gentleman. Your goodwill, your thoughtfulness, and your sense of humor have been appreciated. Mac, we didn't always agree, but I always had the deepest respect for you. You will be missed.

Those of us in the class of 1980 came here 6 years ago dedicated to strengthening our country's economy, rebuilding her defenses, and restoring her confidence. To those of you who will leave the Senate next year, we can be proud of what we've accomplished, individually and collectively. Mark Andrews has stood by and fought for the farmer through difficult times. And thanks to the efforts of Jim Abdnor, this week I was able to sign a landmark water resources bill into law which will benefit Americans of present and future generations. Jim Broyhill has had a long and dedicated career in Congress. A keen parliamentarian, he brought leadership in the area of energy and commerce. Jerry Denton, an American hero, is a hero still. In the Senate he fought against terrorism and held up traditional family values. Slade Gorton played a key role as a member of the Budget Committee and helped to give us a stronger America. Paula Hawkins mobilized our country against drugs and child abuse. Mack Mattingly championed the line-item veto and was indispensable this year to our success in aiding the freedom fighters in Nicaragua.

Each of you has my thanks, and that of your colleagues. But more important, you have the gratitude of the Nation.

None of us came to Washington simply to have a job. We came here to get a job done. And that's what we did. America is a more prosperous land, a more secure land, and, yes, a happier land because of what we've done.

And let no one doubt, the fundamental beliefs that guided our decisions, the principles which we hold so dear, have not been rejected. On the contrary, they are still, unquestionably, in the ascendant. Our opponents in this campaign, in so many instances, paid us the ultimate compliment: They refused to discuss issues, ceding that turf, knowing that the American people still hold allegiance to our ideas.

Yet, no two ways about it, the outcome of the Senate races was a disappointment. We're a minority again in the United States Senate -- but we've been there before and know what must be done. As Everett Dirksen, a great Republican leader, said, "We must stand up and be counted in our generation."

Yes, the election results in the Senate may make our task more difficult. Many of you will be playing new roles in the struggle to direct the course of our country's future. But let us not forget that the underlying, long-term message of the election was positive. Governorships were won that will redirect State government and grassroots politics throughout our country. The Senate vote itself, contrary to what our opponents have been saying, reflected a continued evolution in our direction. With a change of 29,000 votes, control of the Senate would still be in our hands — and this in the face of historical trends that work against the party in power.

There is ample reason for optimism. At every rally across our country, young people in great numbers could be seen and heard. Their youthful idealism, their enersy, their zest for life made those rallies joyous occasions, especially for someone who used to cause a riot just by showing up on campus. I remember back in the days when I used to comment to Nancy that the only young people at our events looked like they couldn't get invited anywhere else. Well, that's all changed now. America's young people have responded to our message of opportunity, growth, and strength. They don't want to be told to lower their expectations. They don't want to give their lives over to central planners in Washington. They want the same kind of freedom we had and the same challenge to go as far and high as their hard work and talents will carry them. As long as we keep faith with them, this generation of Americans will keep faith with us.

What we've been doing these last 6 years, of course, has been for them. And when today's young people have grown a bit older, when we see them with families and children of their own, living in their own homes, with productive jobs, we can all feel pride in the job we've done these last 6 years. Our young people have been spared the ravages of war, and have enjoyed the same sweet liberty we possessed as young adults in the United States. Our reward is knowing we did our best for them, for our country, and for the cause of human freedom.

In a word, the challenge now before us is simply this: To complete the revolution that we have so well begun. Of course I'll be talking about this in detail in the days tom come. But you know of our commitments to the American people on the balanced-budget amendment and the line-item veto. You know the importance of keeping tax rates low and spending under control, and of appointing Federal judges who will interpret law, not make it. And yes, you know of the freedom fighters around the world who need our help -- and with whom we are determined to stand.

In the last 6 years, we've left the days of retreat and apology behind. We've again made America the bastion of freedom, the hope for a beleaguered mankind, that God intended her to be.

In tackling our agenda, I want to assure you of one important thing. Now more than ever, we'll need to depend on one another to achieve our goals for this country.

No -- I've never served in a legislature before -- that's true. But, after 6 years down the avenue here, I think I understand your problems pretty well. And I know that your problems are my problems too. We're one team. We've got to stick together -- even more effectively in the Congress to come.

So, in the years ahead, no matter where we are, we can be proud that we were members of the class of 1980 and that together we changed history. God bless all of you. You'll always have a place in my heart.

A CONSTITUENT HELPED CAN SEND YOUR HEART SOARING. AND THERE ARE OTHER DAYS - INCLUDING THE FIRST TUESDAY IN NOVEMBER - WHEN FORCES BEYOND YOUR CONTROL CAN BREAK YOUR HEART.

DESPITE THE VERDICT OF NOVEMBER 4, MR. PRESIDENT, I THINK YOU'LL AGREE THAT IN THE LAST FEW YEARS, WORKING TOGETHER, WE HAVE REWRITTEN THE WASHINGTON RULEBOOK.
IN THE PROCESS WE HAVE REDEFINED THE ROLE OF GOVERNMENT
IN AMERICA. AND WE HAVE RESTORED OUR COUNTRY TO HER PROPER PLACE ON THE GLOBAL FRONTIERS OF FREEDOM.
MAJORITIES COME AND GO. CHAIRMANSHIPS MAY CHANGE
HANDS. OFFICES ROTATE. BUT HISTORY WILL RECORD THAT IT WAS A REPUBLICAN PRESIDENT AND A REPUBLICAN SENATE
WHO REVERSED THE DECLINE OF AMERICAN FORTUNES AND DISPELLED -- FOR ALL TIME -- ANY DOUBTS ABOUT OUR ABILITY TO GOVERN.

THIS EVENING, INEVITABLY, IS A TIME OF BITTERSWEET FEELINGS. OF PRIDE IN A JOB WELL DONE, AND REGRET THAT WE WON'T ALL BE HERE NEXT JANUARY TO COMPLETE THE TASK. OF DELIGHT IN WELCOMING NEW FACES TO OUR COUNCILS. AND SORROW AT PARTING FROM CHERISHED FRIENDS AND COLLEAGUES.

MR. PRESIDENT, FOR YOU I KNOW THIS IS AN OCCASION OF SPECIAL POIGNANCY. FOR THIS IS, PERHAPS, THE LAST TIME THAT THE CLASS OF 1980 WILL CONVENE. IT IS A CLASS THAT CAME TO THIS CITY AT THE SAME TIME YOU DID. AND I HAVE NO DOUBT HISTORIANS ARE GOING TO BE GENEROUS IN MARKING ITS REPORT CARD.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN, I HAVE THE HONOR OF

PRESENTING THE HEAD OF OUR CLASS, THE REAL REPUBLICAN

LEADER IN THIS ROOM, THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED

Good evening, Mr. President and Mrs. Reagan, Mr. Vice President and Mrs. Bush, Cabinet colleagues and Senatorial breathren. This is a city that manufactures headlines without always appreciating the history they collectively add up to. A city whose monuments can sometimes dwarf the individuals they are meant to inspire. Tought, Louwens is different. For this evening is a very special reminder of the human element in a profession that can occasionally make inhuman demands. And It's also a chance to reflect with pride and affection upon the work of the last two years, and the friendships that will last a lifetime.

It's only fitting that we should convene here, in Congress' very own library. For in this, the world's greatest repository of harness ourselves ideas, we carry on in service to the world's greatest idea...the revolutionary concept that individual men and women might be from of government. Laule entrusted with their own, self-government. It isn't always very neat There are times who it talk too much and produces too little. But the And it's often contentious, unruly and verbose. In this, as in so - in this as in so - in this as in so - many-other ways, the political-life-reffects. But then, no one ever claimed perfection for human nature. And if the making of law is not always a pretty sight, then the workings of liberty can be excused for

He was unruly contentions, unruly imperfect society we are all sweam to sewe.

There are pundits and professors who will try to tell you that ours is an occupation for the head and not the heart, -Bon't-believe-it. - and that when it comes to legislating the future, facts count for more than faith. Don't believe it for a minute. For-this-is a life. There are days when an amendment passed or a constiuent helped can send your heart soaring. And there are other days - including the first Tuesday in November - when forces beyond your control can break your heart.
