Dear Senator Dole:

Welcome to Peoria and the Hotel Pere Marquette. I am very pleased to have the opportunity to welcome you, and I hope you will enjoy your brief stay with us.

Best regards,

SENATOR BOB DOLE

WORLD PRESIDENTS'

ORGANIZATION

NAPLES, FLORIDA

THANK YOU. IT'S A PLEASURE TO BE HERE TODAY
AND TO SEE SO MANY TAXPAYERS.

I WANT TO THANK BILL
VERNON FOR INVITING ME. BILL
AND I HAVE BEEN FRIENDS FOR QUITE A WHILE. HE WAS A GREAT HELP IN IOWA A FEW YEARS BACK. AND, GIVEN HIS SUCCESS THERE, I'M THINKING OF ASKING HIM TO MOVE TO NEW HAMPSHIRE.

I'LL TAKE JUST A FEW MINUTES THIS MORNING
HIGHLIGHTING SOME OF THE
TOP ISSUES ON THE
CONGRESSIONAL AGENDA, AND THEN OPEN IT UP TO
QUESTIONS SO I CAN HEAR
WHAT'S ON YOUR MIND.

HEALTH CARE

LET ME START WITH HEALTH CARE. WE'VE FOCUSED ON HEALTH CARE FOR OVER A
YEAR--YET THE DEBATE IS STILL IN THE "FIRST QUARTER"...WE'VE GOT A LONG, LONG, WAY TO GO.

IN MY VIEW, AMERICA HAS
THE BEST HEALTH CARE SYSTEM IN THE WORLD.

PEOPLE COME HERE FROM ALL
OVER THE WORLD TO BE TREATED BY OUR DOCTORS AND OUR HOSPITALS.

DESPITE THAT, HOWEVER,
THERE IS NO DOUBT THAT OUR SYSTEM ISN'T PERFECT. THERE ARE PEOPLE IN RURAL AND
URBAN AMERICA WITH A SICK CHILD, OR A SICK PARENT IN

REAL NEED.

AND I BELIEVE OUR GOAL SHOULD BE TO ENSURE THAT
ALL AMERICANS HAVE ACCESS TO OUR SYSTEM.

THIS GOAL CAN BE REACHED
WITHOUT MASSIVE NEW TAXES AND MANDATES, AND WITHOUT
TURNING OUR HEALTH CARE SYSTEM OVER TO THE FEDERAL

GOVERNMENT.

THERE'S BEEN A LOT OF TALK THESE LAST FEW WEEKS
ABOUT THE "COOPER
PLAN"...AND I'D ADVISE
BUSINESSMEN AND WOMEN AND BUSINESS GROUPS TO BE VERY CAREFUL IN ENDORSING THAT PLAN.

YES, IT'S BETTER THAN THE PRESIDENT'S PLAN...BUT IT IS NOT ABOUT TRUE COMPETITION,
FREE MARKETS, OR CHOICE--
AND THOSE ARE THE GOALS
THAT MUST BE INCLUDED IN ANY HEALTH CARE REFORM.

CRIME

THE PRESIDENT TALKED A GREAT DEAL ABOUT CRIME IN HIS STATE OF THE UNION
SPEECH, BUT SINCE THEN, WE HAVEN'T HEARD MUCH ABOUT
IT. AND I THINK EVERYONE
HERE WOULD AGREE THAT THERE IS A VERY SERIOUS

VIOLENT CRIME PROBLEM IN THIS COUNTRY.

THE SENATE HAS ALREADY PASSED A TOUGH BILL--IT'S NOT PERFECT, BUT IT DOES HAVE
SOME GOOD TOUGH
PROVISIONS--LIKE MANDATORY
SENTENCES FOR USING A GUN
IN THE COMMISSION OF A CRIME...AND LIKE A SYSTEM OF

10 REGIONAL PRISONS WHERE STATES CAN SEND THEIR VIOLENT CRIMINALS--BUT ONLY
IF THEY ADOPT TRUTH IN SENTENCING.

IN OTHER WORDS, IF YOU
RECEIVE A 20 YEAR SENTENCE,
THEN YOU MUST SERVE AT LEAST 85% OF THAT SENTENCE.
YOU CAN'T BE LET OUT AFTER 5

OR 10 OR 15 YEARS TO COMMIT OTHER CRIMES.

NOW, I MET WITH THE GOVERNORS A FEW WEEKS
AGO, AND SOME OF THEM DON'T LIKE THAT PLAN. THEY THINK
THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT IS TELLING THAT WHAT TO DO. SO,
WE'RE GOING TO WORK WITH THEM TO SEE IF WE CAN THINK

OF SOME WAY TO GET CAREER VIOLENT CRIMINALS OFF THE STREETS.

BECAUSE THERE'S ONE THING THAT NO SOCIAL SCIENTIST CAN ARGUE WITH.
AND THAT'S THE FACT THAT CRIMINAL CAN'T COMMIT
CRIMES IF THEY'RE BEHIND BARS.

FOREIGN POLICY

LET ME CONCLUDE WITH A FEW REMARKS ABOUT FOREIGN POLICY. YOU DIDN'T HEAR
MUCH IN THE 1992
PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION ABOUT FOREIGN POLICY. BUT PRESIDENT CLINTON IS DISCOVERING THAT IT DOES MATTER.

AND, UNFORTUNATELY, OUR
IMAGE AND POSITION ABROAD
IS ON THE SAME DOWNWARD
SPIRAL AS DURING THE CARTER YEARS WHEN THE UNITED STATES WAS FEARED BY NONE, RESPECTED BY FEW, AND IGNORED BY MANY.

PERHAPS THE GREATEST FAILING OF THIS

ADMINISTRATION IN THE
FOREIGN POLICY ARENA, IS ITS OBSESSION WITH THE UNITED NATIONS AND ITS WILLINGNESS TO SUBORDINATE U.S.
INTERESTS TO THE U.N.
AGENDA.

BOUTROS BOUTROS GHALI, AN UNELECTED INTERNATIONAL
BUREAUCRAT, SEEMS TO HAVE

MORE POWER THAN THE
SECRETARY OF STATE OR THE
SECRETARY OF DEFENSE--HE CAN VETO AIRSTRIKES IN BOSNIA, CHANGE THE MISSION
OF U.S. TROOPS IN SOMALIA,
AND PLACE AMERICAN FORCES
UNDER FOREIGN COMMAND.

THE AMERICAN TAXPAYER IS BEING ASKED TO PAY AT LEAST

$3.2 BILLION FOR U.N.

PEACEKEEPING IN THE FIRST

TWO YEARS OF THE CLINTON

ADMINISTRATION. U.N.

PEACEKEEPING IS THE FASTEST

GROWING INTERNATIONAL

ENTITLEMENT PROGRAM, WITH

OPERATIONS IN MORE THAN 20

COUNTRIES--MOST HAVING NO

STRATEGIC IMPORTANCE TO

THE UNITED STATES.

THE BOTTOM LINE IS THAT AMERICA, UNDER THE CLINTON ADMINISTRATION, IS ABDICATING LEADERSHIP--AT
THE UNITED NATIONS, AT NATO, AND AROUND THE GLOBE. IF THERE IS ONE THING THE COLD
WAR TAUGHT US, IT WAS THAT ONLY AMERICAN LEADERSHIP

CAN ENSURE THE PROTECTION OF AMERICAN INTERESTS.

THANKS FOR HAVING ME
HERE TODAY, AND I'D BE HAPPY TO TAKE QUESTIONS.

A century of leadership and service

The history of the Creve Coeur Club of Peoria is marked by quiet beginnings, tremendous growth, civic and business leadership, and service to the entire community. This tradition began in 1894 when 12 prominent Peoria citizens met "to talk over the matter of organizing a Young Men's Club." Their desire was "to promote the business interests of the City of Peoria and the social enjoyment of the members of said Club." The name derives from Fort Creve Coeur (French meaning "broken heart") the French settlement established in the Peoria area in 1680 by Rene Sieur de La Salle.

Originally located in a renovated home on South Jefferson, the Club built new quarters at 300 SW Jefferson in 1904. In 1971, a modern facility was constructed on the same site. The Club is currently located in the Hotel Pere Marquette in downtown Peoria. While the orientation of the Club emphasizes business and personal entertainment at luncheon time, social activities and dinners in connection with community events remain prominent on the calendars of members, their families and guests.

One of the Club's most lasting contributions to the city has been the annual Washington Day Banquet. Now in its 96th consecutive year, the banquet is one of Peoria's most prestigious social occasions. Prominent speakers from politics, government, religion, sports, entertainment, and the arts have demonstrated the Club's continuing commitment to civic leadership.

A Salute to Robert H. Michel

In the hierarchy of political figures from the Peoria area, few have attained the stature of Congressman Robert H. Michel. Recognized by both political parties for his skills as a negotiator and consensus-builder, Mr. Michel has given his congressional district a strong voice in Washington for nearly four decades. The words of this evening's distinguished speakers will be delivered in tribute to Mr. Michel's faithful service to the community and the nation.

Born in Peoria in 1923, Mr. Michel attended Peoria public schools, served with distinction in WWII, and graduated from Bradley University. Since 1957, he has represented Illinois' 18th Congressional District. His first leadership role was in 1972 when he was elected Chairman of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee. He became the Republican Whip in 1974, and Republican Leader in 1980. He served as permanent Chairman of the 1984, 1988, and 1992 Republican National Conventions.

For the past 13 years he has been House Republican Leader. In 1989, President Ronald Reagan presented Mr. Michel with the Citizen's Medal, the nation's second highest presidential award. Mr. Michel's alma mater honored him in 1961 with its Distinguished Alumnus Award. He currently sits on Bradley University's Board of Trustees. He also holds honorary doctorate degrees from Bradley, Illinois Wesleyan, Illinois College, Lincoln College, and Bellarmine College.

Politics in America says that Michel "has been the most impressive House leader of either party since Sam Rayburn." Likewise, the Almanac of American Politics calls him "a man of old fashioned personal decency..."

Mr. Michel is married to his college sweetheart, the former Corinne Woodruff of Peoria. They have one daughter, three sons, and three grandchildren. He will retire after his current term.

Keynote Speakers

Thomas S. Foley, Speaker of the House of Representatives

Congressman Thomas S. Foley's career in national politics began in 1965 when he was first elected to represent the State of Washington's Fifth Congressional District. From 1981 to 1987, he served as House Majority Whip, and Majority Leader until 1989. In that year, he was elected the 49th Speaker of the House. As Speaker, he is third in the constitutional line of progression for the presidency. A native of Spokane, Washington, and graduate of the University of Washington's Law School, Mr. Foley has distinguished himself through nearly three decades of public service. He is married to the former Heather Strachan.

Bob Dole, Senate Republican Leader

Senator Bob Dole's distinguished political career spans four decades, culminating in his current office of U.S. Senator and Senate Republican Leader. In between, he has twice been his party's presidential candidate, vice-presidential candidate, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, a member of the House of Representatives, and chairman of the Republican Party. Born in Russell, Kansas, in 1923, Mr. Dole was gravely wounded while serving in Italy in WWII. He was later decorated with two Purple Hearts and Bronze Star with Oakleaf Clusters. Mr. Dole is no stranger to Peoria. He was the keynote speaker at the Creve Coeur Club of Peoria's Washington Day Banquet in 1989. He is married to Elizabeth Hanford Dole, president of the American Red Cross. They have one daughter.

Jim Edgar, Governor of Illinois

Jim Edgar was inaugurated as the 38th Governor of Illinois in 1991, after winning wide acclaim and election-year endorsement from almost every newspaper in the state. As governor, he has been successful in downsizing state government while protecting funding for education, his top priority. Mr. Edgar began his career in government service in 1968 and served for eight years as a key aide to leaders in both houses of the Illinois legislature. He was elected to the House in 1976, and won election to two terms as Secretary of State beginning in 1982. While in that office, he gained wide recognition for his tough stance on drunk driving. Born in 1946, Mr. Edgar attended public schools in his native Charleston, and graduated from Eastern Illinois University in 1968. He is married to the former Brenda Smith and has two children.

The Creve Coeur Club Robert H. Michel Lifetime Achievement Award

A new tradition begins this evening with the inaugural presentation of the Creve Coeur Club Robert H. Michel Lifetime Achievement Award. Named in honor of Congressman Robert H. Michel, the award will be presented each year to an individual who has served this community above and beyond the expectations of normal, responsible citizenship. The award includes a cash contribution to a local charity.

A Peoria native and Creve Coeur Club member since 1952, Mr. Michel has faithfully supported the Club's goals for more than four decades. This new award will stand as a tribute to his many outstanding contributions to the Club and to the community.

SENATOR BOB DOLE

SALUTE TO BOB MICHEL

FEBRUARY 21, 1994

THANK YOU. IT'S A REAL
PRIVILEGE TO JOIN WITH
GOVERNOR EDGAR, SPEAKER
FOLEY, AND ALL OF YOU, IN SALUTING A MAN WE ARE ALL
PROUD TO CALL OUR "FRIEND."

IN FACT, BOB MICHEL IS LIVING PROOF THAT HARRY TRUMAN WAS WRONG WHEN HE SAID THAT "IF YOU WANT A
FRIEND IN WASHINGTON, BUY A DOG."

THE TRUTH IS THAT "IF YOU
WANT A FRIEND IN WASHINGTON, JUST GET TO KNOW BOB MICHEL."

I FIRST GOT TO KNOW BOB
MICHEL IN 1961, WHEN I CAME TO WASHINGTON AS A
FRESHMAN CONGRESSMAN FROM KANSAS.

BOB HAD ALREADY BEEN HERE A WHILE, OF COURSE.
FIRST, AS AN ADMINISTRATIVE ASSISTANT TO CONGRESSMAN
HAROLD VELDE, AND THEN AS

CONGRESSMAN VELDE'S SUCCESSOR.

AND IT DIDN'T TAKE TOO LONG FOR BOB AND I TO DISCOVER THAT WE HAD QUITE A BIT IN COMMON, BESIDES OUR FIRST NAMES.

BOTH OF US WERE FROM SMALL TOWNS IN THE MIDWEST-
-ALTHOUGH RUSSELL, KANSAS,

MAKES PEORIA SEEM LIKE NEW YORK CITY.

BOTH OF US SERVED IN THE ARMY DURING WORLD WAR II.

BOTH OF US WERE REPUBLICANS WHO BELIEVED IN COMMON SENSE PRINCIPLES
LIKE LOWER TAXES, LESS
SPENDING, LESS BUREAUCRACY, AND A STRONG AMERICA.

AND LATER, OF COURSE, WE WOULD SERVE TOGETHER AS REPUBLICAN LEADERS IN THE
HOUSE AND SENATE.

AND THERE'S SOMETHING
ELSE I'D LIKE TO THINK THAT
BOB AND I HAVE IN COMMON--
THE FACT THAT BOTH OF US
HAVE NEVER FORGOTTEN
WHERE WE CAME FROM.

DESPITE HIS MANY YEARS IN WASHINGTON--WITH HIS YEARS
AS A CONGRESSMAN SPAN NINE
PRESIDENCIES---BOB HAS NEVER BEEN OF WASHINGTON.

HE IS ALWAYS BOB MICHEL OF PEORIA.

I HAVE BEEN IN COUNTLESS LEADERSHIP AND WHITE HOUSE

MEETINGS WITH BOB, AND I CAN ASSURE YOU THAT YOUR CONCERNS ARE HIS CONCERNS.

HE ALWAYS CUTS RIGHT TO THE HEART OF AN ISSUE,
ASKING WHAT IT MEANS FOR THE PEOPLE OF MIDDLE
AMERICA...FOR THE PEOPLE OF PEORIA.

THERE'S A WORD THAT IS NOT VERY MUCH IN FAVOR
THESE DAYS--THE WORD
"POLITICIAN." AND THAT'S UNFORTUNATE. BECAUSE THERE ARE MANY OUTSTANDING
QUALITIES TO THE WORD
"POLITICIAN." AND EACH OF
THOSE QUALITIES DESCRIBES BOB MICHEL.

THERE'S A GREAT TRADITION IN WASHINGTON OF
"BORROWING" OTHER PEOPLE'S SPEECHES.

TONIGHT, I WANT TO BORROW SOMETHING THAT BOB
SAID HIMSELF SEVERAL WEEKS
AGO. AND I DON'T THINK BOB WILL MIND, BECAUSE HE BORROWED IT FROM RICHARD NIXON.

BOB AND I CO-HOSTED A
LUNCH HONORING PRESIDENT
NIXON ON THE 25TH ANNIVERSARY OF HIS INAUGURATION AS PRESIDENT.

DURING HIS REMARKS, BOB
QUOTED FROM A EULOGY THAT PRESIDENT NIXON GAVE IN 1969
FOR THE GREAT SENATOR
EVERETT DIRKSEN, WHO

ONCE SERVED PEORIA IN CONGRESS.

PRESIDENT NIXON SAID THAT EVERETT DIRKSEN WAS A
"POLITICIAN." AND HE SAID
THAT IF DIRKSEN WERE HERE,
HE WOULD OFFER THIS DEFINITION OF THAT WORD:

"A POLITICIAN KNOWS THAT MORE IMPORTANT THAN THE

BILL THAT IS PROPOSED, IS THE LAW THAT IS PASSED.

A POLITICIAN KNOWS THAT HIS FRIENDS ARE NOT ALWAYS HIS ALLIES, AND THAT HIS ADVERSARIES ARE NOT HIS ENEMIES.

A POLITICIAN KNOWS HOW TO MAKE THE PROCESS OF DEMOCRACY WORK, AND LOVES

THE INTRICATE WORKINGS OF THE DEMOCRATIC SYSTEM.

A POLITICIAN KNOWS NOT ONLY HOW TO COUNT VOTES,
BUT HOW TO MAKE HIS VOTE COUNT.

A POLITICIAN KNOWS THAT HIS WORDS ARE HIS WEAPONS,
BUT THAT HIS WORD IS ALSO HIS BOND.

A POLITICIAN KNOWS THAT ONLY IF HE LEAVES ROOM FOR DISCUSSION AND ROOM FOR CONCESSION CAN HE GAIN ROOM FOR MANEUVER.

A POLITICIAN KNOWS THAT THE BEST WAY TO BE A WINNER
IS TO MAKE THE OTHER SIDE
FEEL IT DOES NOT HAVE TO BE A LOSER.

AND A POLITICIAN--IN THE
DIRKSEN TRADITION--AND I ADD,
IN THE MICHEL TRADITION-- KNOWS BOTH THE NAME OF THE GAME AND THE RULES OF THE
GAME, AND HE SEEKS HIS ENDS
THROUGH THE TIME-HONORED
DEMOCRATIC MEANS."

BY BEING THAT KIND OF
POLITICIAN, BY BEING THAT

KIND OF MAN, BOB MICHEL BECAME THE LEADER OF OUR PARTY, AND ONE OF THE LEADERS OF OUR NATION.

I'M PROUD TO BE HERE THIS EVENING TO SAY "THANK YOU"
TO BOB MICHEL FOR OVER
THIRTY YEARS OF FRIENDSHIP
AND OVER THIRTY YEARS OF SERVICE TO HIS COUNTRY.

AND I'M ALSO PROUD TO BE HERE TONIGHT TO SAY "THANK YOU" TO YOU, THE PEOPLE OF
THE 11TH DISTRICT. THANK YOU
FOR VOTING 19 TIMES TO SEND US YOUR BEST. THANK YOU
FOR ALLOWING THIS GOOD AND DECENT MAN TO BE YOUR VOICE IN WASHINGTON.

RE: Lee Daniels Event

*Daniels has served as Illinois House Republican Leader since 1983, and served as President of the National Conference of State Legislatures in 1990.

*The Democrats control the Illinois House 67-51.
Republicans control the Senate 32-27.

*Event is a luncheon for approximately 75 area CEO's and business executives. Our contact said they're looking for 10-15 minutes of informal remarks, followed by a "discussion" period. A photo-op for attendees will follow.

Biography of LEE A. DANIELS (1994)

State Representative Lee Daniels, a Republican from Elmhurst, has served as leader of the Illinois House Republican delegation since 1983.

Throughout his tenure as Minority Leader, Daniels has developed successful plans to promote fiscally responsible state spending, provide for better schools and fight for property tax relief. In addition, Daniels led the battle to reform several mismanaged government and quasi-government agencies, including the Regional Transportation Authority and Chicago's McCormick Place trade center.

The hundreds of laws authored by Daniels include measures to assist the developmentally disabled, notably one to establish a first-in-the-nation trust fund to ensure adequate funding for long term care. His initiatives also include guarantees for the availability of health insurance. On a similar front, he sponsored a law that creates early intervention in the growing phenomenon of cocaine-addicted babies and infants. His work on the disabled's behalf has earned Daniels awards from several organizations, including the National Federation for the Handicapped, Chicago-based Community Awareness Unlimited, Illinois Association of Rehabilitation Facilities and Alliance for the Mentally Ill.

The suburbs have a strong advocate in Daniels, who has proposed numerous measures to improve safety and reduce noise at O'Hare International Airport. When torrential flooding hit Chicago suburbs in 1987, Daniels responded immediately, unveiling an extensive program to help ameliorate flood problems in the region.

Daniels supports people-oriented initiatives, including tax credits to businesses that provide employee day-care services and financial support to child-care centers that minimizes out-of-pocket costs to parents. His legislation to weed out frivolous medical malpractice lawsuits has helped curb skyrocketing health care costs. His leadership extends beyond traditional Republican issues, leading the movement to reform Illinois' welfare system through tougher child-support collection efforts and extending medical and day-care benefits for people who leave the welfare rolls to take a job.

Daniels has been recognized as a leader on the national level for his work on major issues that affect Illinois. He has served since 1977 in the National Conference of State Legislatures (NCSL), an organization dedicated to increasing the presence of state legislatures in our nation's capital. He has served in a variety of leadership posts in NCSL, concluding a term as president in December 1990. His long tenure with the National Republican Legislators Association earned Daniels the association's 1984 award as one of the country's ten top legislators and the 1991 Bill Brock Award for outstanding leadership. The awards were conferred on Daniels by Presidents Ronald Reagan and George Bush. He also is past president of the association.

Daniels is an attorney with the prestigious Chicago firm of Bell, Boyd & Lloyd. Born in 1942, he is a life-long resident of DuPage County. Before winning election to the House in 1974, he served 6 1/2 years as an elected member of the York Township Board of Trustees. He earned a law degree from John Marshall Law School and undergraduate degree from the University of Iowa. He and his wife, Pam, reside in Elmhurst. They have five children: Laurie, Rachael, Julie, Tom and Christina.

*12 ILLINOIS: EDGAR'S STATE OF THE STATE GETS RAPID RESPONSE
Gov. Jim Edgar (R) "used" his State of the State address
1/12 "as a blueprint for his re-election campaign." In what was "one of the most important political speeches of his career," Edgar "tried to combat Democratic charges that he has been little more than a caretaker during his first term." He proposed reform and initiatives "on such hot-button issues as education, welfare, health care, jobs and crime" but he "failed to provide a price tag for some of his plans." Edgar "delivered a pointed if unnamed slap" at Cook Co. Board pres. Richard Phelan (D) "in calling for damage-award limits for civil liberty cases": "I renew my call to bring sanity to a tort liability system that generates far too much money for a few millionaire lawyers who milk it." House Speaker Michael Madigan (D): "I would view this [speech] as a campaign document. ... Clearly part of the reason for doing it was to satisfy campaign needs" (Pearson, CHICAGO TRIBUNE, 1/13). "Despite rapid responses" from Edgar opponents, his speech "caught the Democratic contenders off guard."
Phelan's reaction: "I'll be doing the speech from up there next year" (Pearson/Kass, CHICAGO TRIBUNE, 1/13). CHICAGO TRIBUNE editorial: "The real test ... comes on [3/2] when [Edgar] unveils the final budget of his first term" (1/13).

CANDIDATES AGREE: Comptroller Dawn Clark Netsch (D) and businessman Jack Roeser (R) made "similar attacks" and accused Edgar of "budgetary 'shell games' that undermine school funding."
Roeser: "Edgar's claim to be a fiscally conservative manager of the people's money is patent nonsense" (Merriner, CHICAGO SUN-TIMES, 1/11). Primary 3/15.

HOTLINE 2/16/94**18 ILLINOIS: MOSELEY-BRAUN ATTY CALLS FEC AUDIT "GENERAL"

A wide-ranging FEC audit of Sen. Carol Moseley-Braun's (D) campaign finances that began 1/94 "follows months of questions and at least 17 letters" from the FEC requesting information about her campaign operation. Moseley-Braun atty Lou Vitullo confirmed the audit, but said there were "no suggestions of criminal violations." Vitullo "characterized the FEC's action as a 'general compliance' audit": "This is just another chapter of getting a handle on and fully executing the requirements of FEC law and successfully winding up a campaign." Vitullo said auditors are "examining contributions, expenditures and the use of 'debit cards' to pay some campaign expenses." The cards were issued to Moseley-Braun and to her campaign manager and ex-fiance, Kgosie Matthews, and allowed them to draw money from a campaign fund account. FEC files show that in '92 they withdrew $69,000 from the account, spending it on air fare, limousines, meals and accommodations at "luxury hotels," among other items. Moseley-Braun press sec. Lynette Moten "said each was connected to a trip to raise money for the campaign": "If you're having a fund-raising event, it's most convenient to stay at the hotel where the event is." Moseley-Braun campaign treas. Earl Hopewell told the FEC that hotel, meal and limo bills were noted in memos filed with the FEC and that "the memos more than met" FEC disclosure laws "because 'debit cards' do not require the same detailed disclosures as cash or credit card expenditures." An FEC spokesperson said FEC laws "requires receipts, invoices or canceled checks for any payments of $200 or more." Moseley-Braun's most recent campaign finance disclosure shows she plans to return $70,000 in donations "because they did not comply with federal law." In '93, Moseley-Braun spent nearly $80,000 on legal bills while trying to answer the FEC's questions, using firms in OH, DC and IL that specialize in campaign finance law. Her victory over Sen. Alan Dixon (D) in the 3-way '92 primary "marked the begining" of the "year of the woman," but questions about Moseley-Braun's campaign spending and "her relationship with Matthews plagued her campaign." Matthews was dropped as campaign treas. in '93, but atty Vitullo said "Matthew's departure was ... was not linked to the FEC audit" (Best, ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH, 2/16).

*9 ILLINOIS: AFTER MEDIA BLITZ, NETSCH CLOSES GAP WITH BURRIS
A CHICAGO TRIBUNE poll, conducted 2/3-6 by Market Shares Corp., surveyed 872 Dem likely voters, margin of error +/- 3%; and 603 GOP LVs; +/- 4% (2/13). Tested: AG Roland Burris (D), Comptroller Dawn Clark Netsch (D), Cook Co. Board Pres. Richard Phelan (D), Gov. Jim Edgar (R) and conservative activist Jack Roeser (R). Primary 3/15.

DEM PRIMARY	NOW	1/5-9	GOP PRIMARY	NOW
Burris	30%	39%	Edgar	82%	*
Netsch	28	14	Roeser	7
Phelan	13	16
Undecided	25	27

TRIB's Hardy writes Netsch's surge is a result of her campaign "having controlled the agenda and dominated the airwaves since mid-January." Dem voters "strongly approve of Netsch's proposal to raise the state income tax in return for more public school aid and property tax relief" and they consider her the "most honest" candidate on taxes and spending. Netsch "took a strategic risk" in proposing an income tax hike and airing a series of TV ads that "could have bankrupted the campaign if the strategy backfired." The "piece de resistance" of the strategy was a widely popular ad, produced by Saul Shorr, showing Netsch playing pool and portraying her as a "straight shooter" (2/13). CHICAGO SUN-TIMES' Neal reports results from an internal Netsch poll, conducted by the Feldman Group, are consistent with the TRIBUNE poll. The poll -- 800 Dem LVs 2/6-8, +/- 3.5% -- showed Burris with 32%, Netsch 31% and Phelan with 11%. Among Dems who have seen the Netsch ads, she is favored by 45%, with Burris at 27% and Phelan at 10%. Among Dems who haven't seen the ads, Burris is at 38%, Netsch at 14% (2/13). Phelan, noting the TRIBUNE poll was taken just as Netsch had finished a media blitz and he was about to begin one: "All the ... poll shows is that people like the game of pool" (Phelan release, 2/12).

HOTLINE 2/10/94**14 ILLINOIS RACES: 3/15 PRIMARY LOOMS

IL 05: Alderman Dick Simpson (D), who is challenging embattled Rep. Dan Rostenkowski (D), unveiled a new campaign poster that takes a "not-so-subtle jab" at Rosty's involvement in the House Post Office scandal. The poster simply says "Simpson vs Rostenkowski" -- with the "i" in Rostenkowski dotted with Rosty's picture on a stamp (CHICAGO SUN-TIMES, 2/9). Others: State Sen. John Cullerton (D) and Alderman Mike Wojcik (D).

IL 18: Ex-state Rep. Judy Koehler (R) filed a complaint with the Federal Election Commis., asking for an investigation into "possible violations of campaign finance law" by House Min. Leader Bob Michel's CoS Ray LaHood's (R). Michel is retiring and LaHood is running for the open seat. Koehler, from a release: "Since October, Ray LaHood has clearly been campaigning during working hours. He is also taking $108,000 a year in taxpayer's money. I have urged him to stop. Even though LaHood has stated he would step down, he refuses to do so." The release goes on, saying the complaint is "based on numerous campaign appearances by Ray LaHood during working hours. In addition, LaHood's recent report to the FEC through [12/31/93] failed to show any reimbursement to his Congressional office for expenses such as phone calls and travel related whole or in part to his campaign." Koehler: "It is inconceivable that Ray LaHood did not make a single phone call on campaign business in the three-month period since his announcement ... If he did, he is in violation of campaign finance law" (Koehler release, 2/10).

Remarks

We will be focusing Lee's remarks on the House Republicans efforts for business. I will be getting our business brochure from the printer that will detail our past and future legislative initiatives.

We will discuss the "natural" partnership between the House Republicans and business in Illinois, the need for a majority and the strides we could make in legislative proposals with control of the agenda.

We will be distributing our brochure and other visuals to bring our point home. We will not make a financial pitch during this meeting.

Illinois House Details/Statistics

118 House Members
51 Republicans
67 Democrats

- We need 9 seats to win the majority
- In 1992 we were 4,949 votes short of a majority (these votes spread statewide in the 9 district needed to win the majority)
- We lost a seat in Champaign, Illinois by 34 votes. We were this close in a district where students at the University of Illinois came out to vote for Clinton and Senator Carole Moseley Braun
- We are in the districts early this cycle and are working with local GOP leaders to forge cooperation throughout the state

Senator Dole's Remarks

I attended a breakfast with the Senator last year where he discussed what was happening in Washington, the difference in policy direction since the administration change and other inside information while allowing for discussion. I believe this format was successful and the business leaders like the opportunity to discuss policy.

As a part of his formal comments, it would be appropriate to discuss some of the following issues since he has great experience in these areas:

- Natural partnership with business
- How the Republicans on a national level believe the business community is important to the health of our country (NAFTA, Health Care Reform, etc.)
- The difference in policy direction and success (majority vs. minority)

Other Information

- I am working on having certain press representation, I will send a list of those attending and the paper they represent.
- We are currently making follow-up calls for the event. I will have a tentative list w/addresses for you on Thursday.
- I will have a photographer.
- We will be having a regular lunch, (soup/entre) please let me know if there are any special requests for the Senator.
- Please give me a call about travel details so that I can arrange pick-up.
- If there is anything else you need from me, I would be happy to help out.

he road which led to Wahl Clipper Corporation becoming the world's leading manufacturer of electric hair clippers began when Leo J. Wahl experimented with an electromagnetic motor in 1911.

On October 14, 1919 Wahl applied for patents and Wahl Manufacturing Company was born. The unique product was the first practical clipper with the drive motor in the hand, rather than driven through a flexible shaft from a remote motor. The new Wahl Model 66 was easier to use and sold for half the price.

ORIGINAL CLIPPER PATENTED IN 1919

In the early 1940's, the company installed its own plastic molding presses and continued to expand this critical in-house manufacturing capability. With the addition of various technologies, Wahl grew as a vertically integrated manufacturer.

Always an innovator, Wahl was first with many new and revolutionary products...a tradition that continued in the family after his death in 1957. Among them are a variety of corded and cordless hair clippers, hair trimmers, facial hair groomers, hair dryers, shear sharpeners, a concentrate mixer, shears, brushes and combs- many of them years before their time.

RE: Status of trade with China - Dumping

URGENT!!!

Dear President Clinton:

This is a follow up of my letter dated May 28, 1993 to which I am still awaiting action.

We are a 74 year old manufacturer of portable electrical tools with 560 employees located in Illinois. We are one of three manufacturers of hair clippers in the United States. Our products compete with products from all over the world. In 1991 we received the Presidential "E" Award for excellence in exporting. I respectfully request you review the facts regarding certain trade with China.

Last April, I returned from a business trip through factories in Southern China. Growth of new factories is absolutely unbelievable. Foreign companies have been encouraged to invest and build factories on leased government land, use the capable Chinese workers at an average cost of $70.00 a month and pay little or no tax on profits, as long as they export everything out of China. When a hair clipper is produced in these factories, it is exported to Hong Kong and as a transparent movement, on to the U.S.A., paying only 4.2% duty to enter our commerce. If this company attempted to sell their product to the Chinese population, they must first try to get a special permit and then pay a tax of 190% to the government. Therefore, the type of product we manufacture is not available from these factories to the Chinese population.

Our efforts to export to China have been unsuccessful because of the permit required and the duty charge reported to be between 80% and 190%.

Isn't it "dumping" when a Chinese made product is available in the U.S. at less than half the price of the same product in China? Shouldn't your Commerce Department be made aware of this situation?

The actual facts in our company's case are: A large U.S. sales organization has taken samples of our core products to China and with technical support from the U.S. they have set up at least two manufacturers who have been producing very low cost copies of our product complete in it's package. They are flooding the U.S. with these products, taking jobs away from our employees.

My first letter included articles telling of the unbelievable growth particularly in factories in the 63 million person Quandung Providence of China, north of Hong Kong's new territories. Wages and all costs of manufacturing are even lower for workers outside of the zones north of Shenzhen. Note that the Chinese economy that was growing at a rate of 12.6% is now reported growing at 14%, by far the fastest in the world.

I understand that the signed Most Favored Nation Executive Order stipulates that "the United States will vigorously enforce laws barring unfair trading practices".

The attached "US Merchandise Import Trade" report gives you a good place to start since it shows import declared value of Electric Hair Clippers and Hair Trimmers (which includes freight and insurance) to be $5.17 each. A report also from the Department of Commerce on "US Merchandise Export Trade" shows exports to China to be negligible, but to other countries to be an average of $15.76.

We request that you immediately instruct the Commerce Department to investigate, and should they confirm these facts, they at least put hair clippers and hair trimmers on the list of products with targeted sanctions subject to a compensating high duty rate. Further, you should realize, if action is not taken quickly, virtually all U.S. small appliance manufacturing jobs will be moved to China and usurped by millions of new government protected Chinese workers. I'll put our hard working employees up against any in the world, but they want a fair shake on an even playing field.

Thank you for your time and consideration in this matter.

Sincerely,

WAHL CLIPPER CORPORATION

John F. Wahl
President & C.E.O.

JFW:skj

NOTE: The Mexican government, on April 15, 1993 recognized the dumping of many Chinese manufactured small electrical products in the Mexican market. According to the "Diario Oficial" of that date, (the Mexican equivalent of the Federal Register) the new duty rate for products in categories 85.01 to 85.48 is now 129%.

LOOKING TOWARD TOMORROW

Wahl Clipper Corporation maintains a world leadership position because of an intimate knowledge of hair cutting tool design and manufacturing, a heritage that has been handed down through the Wahl family. A deep, personal family involvement continues into the third generation, providing both continuity and leadership.

Wahl has enjoyed over 20 consecutive years of sales growth with a rapidly expanding international customer base. Looking toward tomorrow, our goal is continued growth from ongoing efforts to advance leading edge engineering technology and develop new and improved products that exceed customer expectations.

Over 20 Years of Sales Growth

As an aggressive and innovative international marketer, Wahl is dedicated to identifying trends and specific customer needs, then satisfying those needs by providing world class products at the lowest possible cost...quality "Made in the U.S.A." Wahl products.

Helping to ensure continued success are Wahl's greatest asset—its hard-working, loyal employees. The tradition of the past continues with an unyielding commitment to excellence.

JOHN F. WAHL
PRESIDENT AND C.E.O.

CAPABILITY THROUGH INNOVATION

A longtime pioneer in the design and development of haircutting products, the Wahl of today typifies the spirit of meeting market demands through quality, innovative products and services. We look forward to being an integral part of its future development.

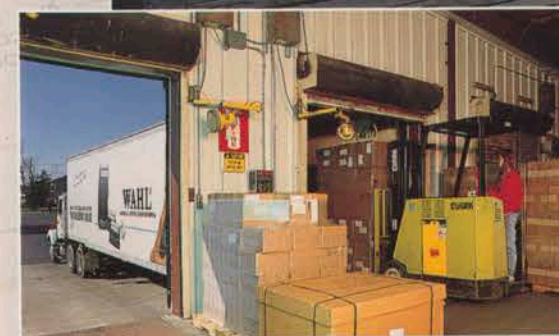

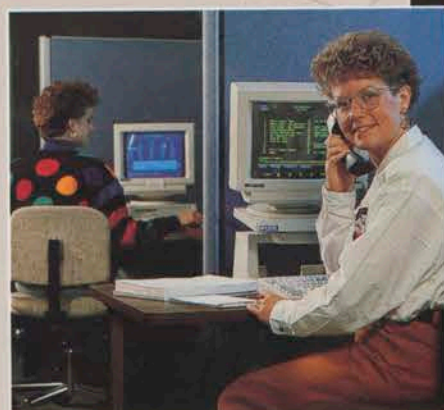

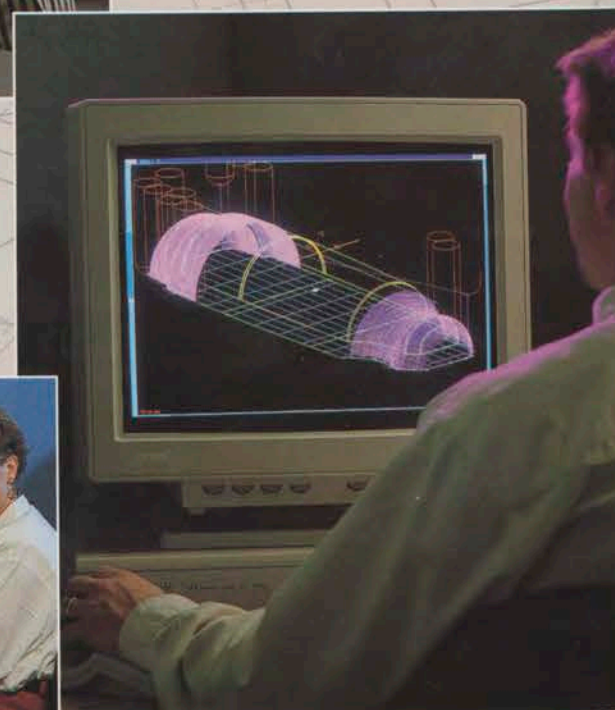

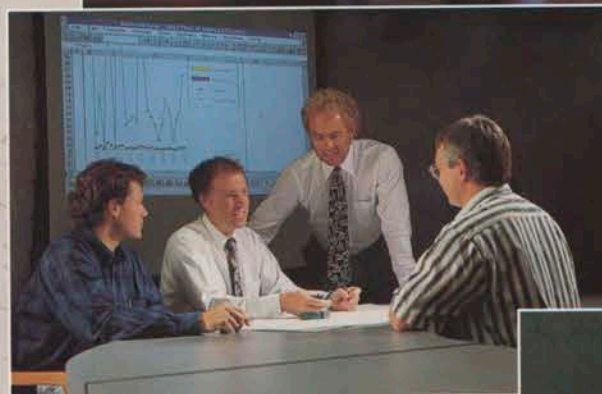

From its inception, Wahl has maintained a solid pattern of growth while maintaining an equally solid pattern of research and technical development. Wahl continually challenges the technological frontiers to forge advances in what is often virgin territory. Experience, a hands-on team approach and state-of-the-art design/inspection and manufacturing equipment makes it all possible.

Our integrated, continuous flow manufacturing, combined with efficient world wide sourcing, ensures production continuity. Stringent quality control standards are maintained throughout the entire process. Customized manufacturing, production and assembly allow for quick response to specific product and package needs.

At Wahl, major investments are constantly being made in plant expansion, upgrading, computerization, people skills and training. This, along with our often proprietary process, allows us to bring you quality products always at the leading edge of technology.

An essential part of our customer relationship is the continuing program of providing specialized services to assure satisfaction and maintain lasting business relationships. Spearheading our customer-first philosophy is a staff of experienced employees. Wahl's service responsibility is based on the fundamental concept of providing each customer with whatever degree of resources and support they need.

SERVING OUR VALUED CUSTOMERS

By the end of 1920, a new company named Wahl had supplied over 1000 electromagnetic hair clippers to barbers all over the United States. For over 75 years professional barbers and hairdressers have relied on Wahl to provide the very finest in hair cutting tools. We've refined the early electromagnetic clipper technology first developed by our founder, Leo J. Wahl and expanded our product lines to include a variety of small and powerful corded and rechargeable hair clippers and trimmers.

Always the innovator, Wahl was the first company to bring a cordless rechargeable trimmer to market. These innovations along with numerous other advances in hair cutting technology continue to make Wahl the professional's choice for quality products.

Traditionally a commercial item, quality Wahl products have quickly invaded the consumer market through department stores, mass merchandisers and discount chains. Products such as corded and cordless rechargeable hair clippers, beard and mustache trimmers, massagers, electric shavers and clippers for large animals and pets have made Wahl a household name. As a true, market-driven company, Wahl has thoroughly researched the customer to meet increased demands for "value-based" products. Along with innovations in product, packaging, merchandising and advertising support, Wahl's goal is to provide quality, long lasting products at affordable prices.

Using the rechargeable battery technology we developed, Wahl invented and produced the world's first successful cordless rechargeable soldering iron in 1971. This spawned a new Electronics Division which today supplies technicians with a variety of products in the industrial marketplace.

1958

The company completes its move to its present location at North Locust Street.

1991

Wahl awarded the Presidential "E" Award for excellence in exporting.

I respectfully request you review the facts regarding certain trade with China.

Last April, I returned from a business trip through factories in Southern China. Growth of new factories is absolutely unbelievable. Foreign companies have been encouraged to invest and build factories on leased government land, use the capable Chinese workers at an average cost of $70.00 a month and pay little or no tax on profits, as long as they export everything out of China. When a hair clipper is produced in these factories, it is exported to Hong Kong and as a transparent movement, on to the U.S.A., paying only 4.2% duty to enter our commerce. If this company attempted to sell their product to the Chinese population, they must first try to get a special permit and then pay a tax of 190% to the government. Therefore, the type of product we manufacture is not available from these factories to the Chinese population.

Our efforts to export to China have been unsuccessful because of the permit required and the duty charge reported to be between 80% and 190%.

Isn't it "dumping" when a Chinese made product is available in the U.S. at less than half the price of the same product in China? Shouldn't your Commerce Department be made aware of this situation?

The actual facts in our company's case are: A large U.S. sales organization has taken samples of our core products to China and with technical support from the U.S. they have set up at least two manufacturers who have been producing very low cost copies of our product complete in it's package. They are flooding the U.S. with these products, taking jobs away from our employees.

My first letter included articles telling of the unbelievable growth particularly in factories in the 63 million person Quandung Providence of China, north of Hong Kong's new territories. Wages and all costs of manufacturing are even lower for workers outside of the zones north of Shenzhen. Note that the Chinese economy that was growing at a rate of 12.6% is now reported growing at 14%, by far the fastest in the world.

I understand that the signed Most Favored Nation Executive Order stipulates that "the United States will vigorously enforce laws barring unfair trading practices".

The attached "US Merchandise Import Trade" report gives you a good place to start since it shows import declared value of Electric Hair Clippers and Hair Trimmers (which includes freight and insurance) to be $5.17 each. A report also from the Department of Commerce on "US Merchandise Export Trade" shows exports to China to be negligible, but to other countries to be an average of $15.76.

We request that you immediately instruct the Commerce Department to investigate, and should they confirm these facts, they at least put hair clippers and hair trimmers on the list of products with targeted sanctions subject to a compensating high duty rate. Further, you should realize, if action is not taken quickly, virtually all U.S. small appliance manufacturing jobs will be moved to China and usurped by millions of new government protected Chinese workers. I'll put our hard working employees up against any in the world, but they want a fair shake on an even playing field.

Thank you for your time and consideration in this matter.

RE: Status of trade with China - Dumping

URGENT!!!

Dear President Clinton:

This is a follow up of my letter dated May 28, 1993 to which I am still awaiting action.

We are a 74 year old manufacturer of portable electrical tools with 560 employees located in Illinois. We are one of three manufacturers of hair clippers in the United States. Our products compete with products from all over the world. In 1991 we received the Presidential "E" Award for excellence in exporting. I respectfully request you review the facts regarding certain trade with China.

Last April, I returned from a business trip through factories in Southern China. Growth of new factories is absolutely unbelievable. SUBJECT: ag update

A supply and demand report came out Thursday which was uneventful. Markets were mostly up this week. Wheat was strong due to the Chinese announcement that they would buy 10 million tonnes of wheat from the world market in 1994-95. Some speculated the U.S. would provide as much as 4 million tonne of their demand. Approximately 15% of last years wheat crop has not been sold. Some farmers are starting to sell new crop wheat at around $3.10 which is a good price. Brazil expects a good bean crop and consequently, beans were down. The prices below reflect price activity since last Thursday and are an average price.

WHEAT	$3.38	up 6
CORN	$2.80	up 4
BEANS	$6.47	down 1
MILO	$4.55	up 11

BUDGET

Attached is a memo with highlights on USDA's budget.

FOOD SAFETY

The show 48 Hours did a segment Wednesday night regarding the safety of the nations food supply. Essentially, the show concluded America's food supply is not safe. You have not received any calls regarding the show. Meanwhile, the Senate Ag committee held a hearing on Thursday to discuss the Food Safety Inspection Service and it was reported that FSIS can do better. Some of the Administration's panelist layed blame on past USDA officials for not doing a better job on food safety. The fact remains that America has the safest food supply in the world.

MISC.

Lynn Rundell was hired as the new Executive Vice President of the Kansas Association of Wheatgrowers. The headquarters will be moved from Hutchinson to Topeka. Lynn was with Kansas Farm Bureau in Membership Services and before that taught Vo-Ag at Jackson Heights High School.

Kansas won the lawsuit with Colorado regarding water for the Arkansas River in Southwest KS. It will still be another 4 years before the issue is settled. Kansas will now go after Nebraska to claim water loss from Northcentral KS.

MEMORANDUM

TO: Senator Dole
FROM: Randy Scheunemann
SUBJECT: Dictators Appeased, Thugs Emboldened

DICTATORS APPEASED

Hafez al-Assad (Syria)
Kim il-Sung (North Korea)
Slobodan Milosevic (Serbia)
Le Duc An (Vietnam)

THUGS EMBOLDENED

Mohammed Aided (Somalia)
Raoul Cedras (Haiti)
Gerry Adams (N. Ireland)
Humberto Ortega (Nicaragua)

DICTATORS APPEASED

PRESIDENT HAFEZ AL-ASSAD (Syria): Assad leads "rejectionists" in opposing Middle East peace, harbors terrorists, slaughters his own people, illegally occupies a sovereign state, and traffics in narcotics. On December 6, 1993, the Clinton Administration approved the transfer of three 737 jet aircraft to Syria. On January 16, 1994, President Clinton met President Assad in Geneva - - thereby providing a global stage for Assad -- and received only vague assurances on the peace process.

PRESIDENT KIM IL SUNG (North Korea): Kim Il Sung (aka the "Great Leader") invaded South Korea in 1950, sent assassination teams to murder South Korean officials, blew up a Korean civilian airliner killing 115 people, severely represses his own people, and pursues a nuclear program in defiance of the international community. After North Korea announced it was abrogating the Nuclear Non-Proliferation Treaty, the Clinton Administration offered to: cancel military exercises; limit inspections required by the NPT for North Korea's convenience; other undisclosed concessions to improve relations.

PRESIDENT SLOBODAN MILOSEVIC (Serbia): Milosevic and his gaggle of goons (Karadzic, etc.) have perpetrated genocide against Bosnian Muslims, resulting in 200,000 deaths. The Clinton administration has temporized, issued unfulfilled threats, and considered lifting sanctions against Serbia while maintaining the arms embargo on Bosnia and pressuring Bosnia to accept an unjust, unviable peace.

LE DUC AN, et. al. (Vietnam): The Vietnamese military dictatorship rules with an iron fist, and continues to withhold information and remains on American POW/MIAs which it could readily turn over. The Clinton Administration rewarded Vietnam on February 3, 1994 by lifting a 30 year old trade embargo, and establishing a diplomatic presence as a step toward normalization.

THUGS EMBOLDENED

Mohammed Aideed (Somalia): The killing of 18 Americans on October 3, 1993 by Aideed's forces led to the announcement of American withdrawal by March 31, 1994. In December 1993, in a shocking turnaround, U.S. military aircraft was ordered by the State Department to fly Aideed to Ethiopia for a conference.

Raoul Cedras (Haiti): Cedras' dockside thugs prevented a (ill-considered) U.S. mission under U.N. command from landing in Port au Prince on October 11, 1993.

Gerry Adams (Northern Ireland): Despite the views of the Attorney General, Secretary of State, and British Prime Minister Major, Clinton issued a visa on January 30, 1994 to Gerry Adams, leader of the I.R.A.'s political wing (and reputed strategist of its terror campaign), without requiring the kind of renunciation of violence that Arafat or Mandela have made. Reportedly, domestic considerations (i.e. currying favor with Kennedy, Moynihan and Dodd) tipped the balance.

Humberto Ortega (Nicaragua): Ortega and his Sandinista cronies murder and steal with impunity. Despite unfulfilled promises to the Clinton Administration on human rights, civilian control, and confiscated properties, $40 million in assistance was released in November 1993.

FEBRUARY 16, 1994

TO: SENATOR DOLE

FROM: MIRA BARATTA

SUBJECT: BRIEFING ON U.N. OPERATIONS/ NATO AIR STRIKES IN BOSNIA

The administration came up to brief today on U.N. peacekeeping, but spent most of the time answering (or trying to answer) questions about the arrangement between the U.N. and NATO on air strikes. The bottom line is that while an ultimatum and air strikes to enforce the ultimatum are a good idea in theory, the arrangements for implementation are so muddled, and the potential targets so limited, that it is doubtful that air strikes can or will be implemented in the event of a violation. Indeed, this arrangement is a recipe for inaction. So, while you can continue to support the idea of airstrikes, you need to cast doubt on the wisdom and viability of this arrangement.

What constitutes U.N. "control" of heavy weapons?

You may have seen some of the articles today which claimed that the Bosnian Serbs had placed some of their heavy weapons in Serbian barracks under unarmed UNPROFOR guard. There were also reports that the U.N., with the U.S. in concurrence, would not require that all heavy weapons be withdrawn and placed under U.N. "control", but that they could remain under Serbian control if they are not loaded or aimed at Sarajevo. When pressed, the administration was unable to provide a definition of U.N. "control" of heavy weapons. We were told that the NATO commander and the U.N. commander are in close touch on this matter, and that the U.S. was willing to give UNPROFOR some "flexibility."

What is the administration's reaction to UNPROFOR Commander Rose's statement that Bosnian Serbs had "legitimate concerns" regarding Bosnian troops taking advantage of the ceasefire with by moving their infantry?

The Bosnian Serbs are calling for Bosnian government infantry to be withdrawn to their barracks. Commander Rose's comments referred to that demand. Administration officials said that they supported the U.N., but when pressed, admitted that troop movements are not included in the ceasefire. Clearly, the U.N.'s approach is one of moral equivalence -- placing the Bosnians on the same level as the Serbs -- and it is possible that the U.N. will press the Bosnian government on this matter. Whether or not airstrikes would be requested by UNPROFOR if Bosnian government troops took advantage of the ceasefire and used their infantry to punch through and relieve the stranglehold of their city is unclear, but possible, in light of Rose's comments. Nevertheless, troop movements are not covered in the NATO communique which authorizes airstrikes against violations involving weapons in the demilitarized zone or attacks against "civilian" targets in the city upon U.N. request.

How will the U.N. and NATO implement the decision on air strikes if there is a violation of the NATO ultimatum?

The administration's view is as follows: NATO gave its authorization/approval for air strikes in the communique of February 9th, however, the U.N. has not yet given its authorization for airstrikes. That authority rests with the Secretary General, who in turn has delegated his authority to Yasushi Akashi, his envoy.

There are two things that can trigger a NATO air strike: (1) heavy weapons in the exclusion zone not under U.N. control after the deadline expires; or (2) the shelling of Sarajevo. If after NATO's 10 day deadline expires heavy weapons are found in the exclusion zone -- by either NATO or UNPROFOR -- then either the UNPROFOR Commander or the NATO commander can go to Akashi to request air strikes, and Akashi will either authorize or not authorize air strikes against the weaponry in violation or another agreed upon target. According to the NATO communique which reflects the Secretary General's letter of February 6 requesting NATO authorization for air strikes, NATO can also launch air strikes at the request of the United Nations (read Akashi) against artillery or mortar positions which are determined by UNPROFOR to be responsible for attacks against civilian targets in that city.

NATO/U.N. agreement is needed on actual targets which will probably be very limited; in other words, NATO will not be bombing supply depots outside the exclusion zone. Administration officials talk about NATO "coordination" with UNPROFOR, but their definition of "coordination" appears to be consensus. Although the administration denies it, the U.N. still appears to have a veto even after the first air strike. Moreover, if there is disagreement between the U.N. and NATO on who is responsible for a violation, or what the target of a strike should be, we could see a de facto extension of the deadline while they iron out their differences.

I spoke to Senator Mitchell's staff today and they are working on a draft S.Res or S.J. Res. on this issue. We need to be very careful, however, that we don't endorse this U.N./NATO arrangement and the moral equivalence between the victim and the aggressor, the NATO communique reflects. I should have a draft from them by tomorrow morning.

DECISION BRIEF
For Immediate Release

No. 94-D 18
10 February 1994

'HOLD EVERYTHING': SENATE'S DEFERRAL OF ACTION ON TALBOTT SHOULD FOCUS NEW ATTENTION ON HALPERIN

(Washington, D.C.): The U.S. Senate today agreed to postpone floor debate on the controversial nomination of Strobe Talbott to become Deputy Secretary of State until after the upcoming congressional recess. By so doing, the Senate has afforded critics not only a important new opportunity to contest this appointment. It has also provided a focus for revisiting unfinished business concerning an even more deplorable presidential appointment -- that of Morton Halperin to become a Senior Director for Democracy at the National Security Council.

Every Administration utilizes different bureaucratic arrangements to develop national security policy. Some prove more conducive to maintaining a strong defense posture and effective foreign policy than others. Rarely, however, has there been an Administration as ill-equipped and ill-disposed to such priorities as the present one.

This is due in no small measure to the disproportionate influence enjoyed by the Clinton National Security Council and State Department. As a practical matter, the Pentagon is being relegated to the back-benches of security policy-making, a phenomenon greatly exacerbated by the ascension of a technocrat as Secretary of Defense. Consequently, concerns about the judgment and policy recommendations of the personnel assigned to the NSC and State Department take on increased importance and require intensified scrutiny from the Congress and the public.

Talbott Does Not Pass Muster

Unfortunately, Strobe Talbott's judgment about major security policy issues has been seriously flawed for many years, notably with respect to his reflexive deference to the Soviet Union and contempt for Israel. Over the first year of the Clinton Administration, moreover, Talbott has been closely associated with policy recommendations that have reduced American power and influence in the world and led to serious reverses for U.S. interests overseas.

In addition, Talbott's commitment to genuine democracy is -- to put it charitably -- a "sometime thing." It is bizarre, and possibly dangerous, to reward such an individual with a position of enormous responsibility in the American government.

Mort Halperin: Cut From the Same Cloth

Even more appalling is the prospect that an individual with Dr. Halperin's dubious judgment, deplorable record of misbegotten policy recommendations and general untrustworthiness might be permitted to continue to contribute to Clinton security decisions. This is especially so given that he will now be doing so from a position whose activities are largely concealed from public scrutiny and congressional oversight.

Center for Security Policy
Decision Brief

Page Two
10 February 1994

In fact, the Center for Security Policy believes that the implications of President Clinton's appointment of Morton Halperin to such a post on the National Security Council are so grave as to require an immediate reopening by the Senate of lines of inquiry broken off when Dr. Halperin asked that his nomination to become an Assistant Secretary of Defense be withdrawn. These include the following issue areas:

- o Halperin's lack of candor: Halperin reinforced Senators' apprehensions about his truthfulness repeatedly in the course of his nine-hour hearing before the Senate Armed Services Committee last November. Indeed, Sen. Trent Lott (R-MS) established that Halperin had dissembled to the Committee in declaring in response to written questions that he had taken no personnel actions while awaiting confirmation. In fact, he had done so on at least one occasion.<sup>1</sup>

Even the Armed Services Committee's influential chairman, Sen. Sam Nunn (D-GA), was moved to express deep skepticism about Halperin's representations after listening to Halperin try to explain away his repeated, categorical denunciations of covert operations: "Nobody reading this article would ever conclude that you had exceptions to [your stated opposition to these operations]. It just goes on and on about secrecy and the covert operation, and I think that is what causes so many people a problem."

- o Halperin's pattern of dissembling: As with his implausible explanations of his position on covert operations, Halperin was reduced again and again to asserting that the clear meaning of his published writings and public statements was being misunderstood or misconstrued. After listening to this absurd contention repeatedly, an exasperated Sen. Lott finally responded by saying the problem was not that Halperin's views were being misperceived, but rather that they were being understood too well.
- o Halperin's disregard for government policies and regulations: Sen. Nunn also established that Halperin had, while awaiting confirmation, routinely conducted himself in a manner flagrantly inconsistent with government-wide regulations, Defense Department procedures and the Committee's explicit direction regarding pre-confirmation activity. Although Halperin testified that "Since May, I have been scrupulous in following the expanded guidelines provided by the General Counsel of the Department," there is ample evidence to the contrary.

As a matter of fact, Halperin's behavior on this score is the subject of an ongoing official investigation by the Defense Department's Inspector General. The conclusions of that investigation should be made public forthwith.

- o Halperin's misrepresentations concerning his involvement with a notorious traitor, Philip Agee: During the hearing, Halperin egregiously misrepresented his relationship with Philip Agee, the CIA turncoat who made a career out of revealing the identities of U.S. covert operatives. At one point, Halperin declared that he had had no personal or professional relationship with Agee apart from once testifying on his behalf at a British deportation hearing.

- more -

<sup>1</sup> Halperin's reply to the Senator was instructive: "It is my signature. I did sign it. I do not recall it. And I would certainly characterize it as inconsistent with the directives, and I think it falls within the category of actions which I now understand exceeded the authority and appropriate behavior of a consultant."

In fact, Halperin and Agee had several connections, not the least being the involvement of Agee's CounterSpy Magazine as a member of the Steering Committee of the Campaign to Stop Government Spying, an organization chaired by Morton Halperin. Such associations -- and what they say about Halperin's judgment -- clearly make him unsuited for a sensitive position at the NSC.

- o Halperin's misrepresentations concerning his role in the 'Pentagon Papers' Affair: No less disingenuous was Halperin's flat assertion to the Committee that he had nothing to do with the disclosure by Daniel Ellsberg of highly classified materials concerning the Vietnam war. At the very least, Halperin was aware that Ellsberg -- who was living in his house for part of the period in question -- was leaking information about the Pentagon Papers, and did nothing to stop it. Halperin went on to spend over five months leading a team of 40 lawyers in defending Ellsberg against federal prosecution for this leak.

This was hardly the only incident in which Halperin's handling of classified information was a matter of concern. In fact, he was repeatedly investigated during his previous stint of government service in connection with leaks of such information -- and was suspected of routinely doing so by those responsible for safeguarding that data. Insofar as a position on the Clinton NSC staff would give Halperin access to extremely sensitive data, past concerns about his protection of classified materials take on new relevance.

- o Halperin's dubious policy recommendations: It appears that the Clinton Administration cynically manipulated the Senate Armed Services Committee's access to official documents bearing on the Halperin candidacy so as to prevent them from being properly considered as part of the advise-and-consent process. For example, many of these documents -- which had been sought by the Committee for weeks -- were only made available to it at 9:00 p.m. the evening before Halperin's hearing.

When, despite this sandbagging, Sen. Dirk Kempthorne (R-ID) closely questioned Halperin about improper actions or questionable policy recommendations apparently revealed by these (as-yet-unreleased) documents, Halperin was reduced to promising to provide formal responses and explanations for the record. To date, none of the promised materials has been made public. They should be before Halperin is permitted to spend one more day on the government payroll taking further official actions and making still further policy recommendations.

- o The holes in Halperin's biography: A particularly troubling aspect of the Halperin candidacy to hold high office is the fact that he formerly led such dubious organizations as the Campaign to Stop Government Spying, the Campaign for Political Rights and the Project on National Security and Civil Liberties. No less disturbing is his failure to mention those past incarnations in the biography circulated on his behalf by the Pentagon. The question must be asked: Could he have been similarly selective in submitting information required to obtain a security clearance and access to highly sensitive information?
- o Halperin's apparent ethical misconduct: There is also evidence that Halperin may have engaged in unethical behavior while awaiting Senate confirmation to the Defense Department job. It has been reported in the press that an individual who played a prominent role as an advocate for the Halperin candidacy for that position, Arnold Kanter, was awarded an $82,000 contract last May to do some work at the RAND Corporation on peacekeeping and related policy issues. The awarding office at the Pentagon was none other than Morton Halperin's Democracy and Peacekeeping shop. What is more, Kanter had two other contract proposals worth $860,000 pending with the Democracy and Peacekeeping organization during the period of his advocacy on Halperin's behalf.

Center for Security Policy

Unsuitable for Any National Security Position

Had Morton Halperin's nomination papers been returned to the Senate Armed Services Committee when the Senate reconvened last month, it is clear that this nominee would not have been confirmed. Among the judgments made of Mr. Halperin by senior members of the Committee were the following:

- o Sen. Thurmond: "In the case of Mr. Halperin, there is a compelling prima facie case that he is unsuited for any position in the Pentagon....The cumulative weight of his long record persuades me and many others, including some in his own party, that he is a man of deeply flawed judgment....Mr. Halperin has not created an impression of reliability or trustworthiness. He has given evasive, incomplete, misleading, and disingenuous answers to our questions."
- o Sen. McCain: "Our concerns do not arise out of personal, ideological, or partisan political differences. Rather they are the result of profoundly disturbing questions about Dr. Halperin's judgment, his credibility, and his suitability to hold a position of responsibility dealing with the national security policy of the United States."
- o Sen. John Warner (R-VA): "I do not perceive in you a real solid center of gravity, or to put it in the way of a sailor, you do not have a centerboard. You just do not have something that keeps you right on a true course. You swing back and forth. Depending on the wind that blows, you move. And it seems to me that that legitimately puts in question your qualifications to take on these responsibilities for the welfare of the men and women of the Department of Defense."
- o Following the resignation announcement of Secretary Les Aspin, Sen. Nunn intimated a distinct lack of enthusiasm for resuming consideration of the Halperin nomination when he told a 16 December press conference that he would expect that "the new Secretary of Defense would want to select some of his own people."

The Bottom Line

While the outright defeat of Strobe Talbott's nomination is warranted, at the very least Senate action on it should have been delayed as long as Halperin remains on the government payroll. By so doing, conscientious Senators would simultaneously have limited the damage the former could do -- while creating new leverage clearly needed to prevent the latter from being able to do any at all.

With its decision to postpone debate on the Talbott nomination -- but to set a time certain for on 22 February for conducting it -- however, the Senate has at least given its members and their constituents a fresh opportunity to review both men's judgment, records and conduct to date. For the country's sake, we can only hope that such a review does indeed occur, and spares us further government disservice by Strobe Talbott and Morton Halperin.

M E M O R A N D U M

TO: SENATOR DOLE
FROM: DENNIS SHEA
SUBJECT: MEETING WITH LABOR COMMUNITY

As you know, you are scheduled to meet with "members of the labor community" during your trip to Ft. Lauderdale. According to Fred Devine, one of the organizers of the event, the meeting will also include 1) a contingent of money managers, and 2) management representatives.

Devine is the President of the Carpenters Union. The leadership of the Carpenters Union is dominated by Irish-Americans. Devine says that he was Chairman of Labor for Reagan/Bush '84.

Senator Kassebaum's staff says that the Carpenters Union endorsed Alf Landon in his Presidential bid.

I don't expect the conversation to focus exclusively on labor issues.

1. NLRB Nominations/William Gould and Charles Cohen. As you know, the nomination of William Gould to be Chairman of the National Labor Relations Board has been reported by the Labor Committee. In committee, all Republicans voted against the nomination, except Senators Jeffords and Durenberger who voted "present." Senator Kassebaum intends to use the floor debate to highlight some of Gould's more radical positions.

As you know, President Clinton has nominated Washington lawyer, Charles Cohen, to fill the Republican vacancy on the NLRB. Cohen is 48, a partner at Ogletree, Deakins (which has been labelled a union-busting firm by the AFL-CIO), and a former staff attorney at the NLRB. He is a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh Law School.

The bottom line: Gould will be confirmed, but only after his record has been fully explored and publicly exposed.

Some controversial positions taken by Gould:

- * supports the striker-replacement bill; opposes the permanent replacement of economic strikers (Carpenters Union very probably supports Gould's position)
- * supports the elimination of the secret ballot in union certification elections

2. Striker Replacement. The striker replacement bill has passed the House. It has also been reported by the Senate Labor Committee. At this time, it appears we have the votes to block cloture.

In 1992, cloture was defeated by a vote of 57-42. The following five Republicans voted to invoke cloture: D'Amato, Hatfield, Packwood, Specter, and Stevens. The following five Democrats voted against cloture: Boren, Bumpers, Hollings, Pryor, and Sanford. Stevens has made noises that he would be willing to switch his vote.

Talking Points

- * If America is to succeed in an increasingly competitive world, it's critical that labor and management work together.
- * The Republican Party is an inclusive party. There are thousands of union members across the country who are good Republicans. Nevertheless, the Republican Party must do a better job of reaching out to those in the labor-union movement.

CREDIT STANDARDS ADVISORY COMMITTEE

PURPOSE/BACKGROUND:

The Credit Standards Advisory Committee was established by public law on August 9, 1989 to review credit standards and lending practices of insured depository institutions and the supervision of such standards and practices by the Federal financial regulators; to monitor credit standards and lending practices of insured depository institutions; and to prepare written recommendations for the Federal financial regulators.

MEMBERSHIP:

ELEVEN Members, as follows:

Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, or designee;
Director of the Office of Thrift Supervision, or designee
Chairperson of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, or designee;
Comptroller of the Currency, or designee
Chairman of the National Credit Union Administration, or designee;

SIX appointed by the President, who are knowledgeable with the credit standards and lending practices of insured depository institutions, no more than three of whom shall be from the same political party.
(Bi-partisan)

TERM:

Members appointed by the President shall serve at the pleasure of the President.

MEETINGS:

The Board meets quarterly.

COMPENSATION:

No compensation. Members may receive expenses.

DEMOCRAT DRAFT RESOLUTION ON BOSNIA

S.J. Res.

Joint Resolution

To express the Sense of the Senate in support of the use of United States airpower to implement the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) exclusion zone around the city of Sarajevo.

Whereas:

(1) the twenty-two month long siege of Sarajevo has had the effect of brutalizing the largely innocent civilian population of that city and the artillery bombardment has had a devastating effect on the very fabric of existence;

(2) among the latest acts of senseless violence against innocent civilian victims of war in Bosnia-Herzegovina was a mortar shell that fell on a table in an outdoor market in Sarajevo, claiming the lives of 68 people and wounding hundreds more;

(3) the war in Bosnia-Herzegovina, and against the city of Sarajevo, has claimed tens of thousands of lives and forced hundreds of thousands of Bosnians to become refugees;

(4) United Nations Security Council Resolution 836 adopted June 4, 1993, authorized the use of airpower in reply to bombardment against safe areas including Sarajevo, and on February 9, 1994 the North Atlantic Council authorized the use of airstrikes to end the siege of Sarajevo;

(5) it is in the security and humanitarian interests of the European nations and the United States to act decisively through the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, to establish and enforce an exclusion zone around the city of Sarajevo, in order to prevent the shelling of civilians residing there;

Therefore, be it resolved that,

(A) The Senate supports and approves of the decision by the president to join with our NATO allies in implementing the decision taken by the North Atlantic Council of NATO on February 9, 1994 to use NATO nations' airpower in the Sarajevo region of Bosnia-Herzegovina for the purposes of:

(1) Identifying heavy weapons (including tanks, artillery pieces, mortars, multiple rocket launchers, missiles and anti-aircraft weapons) that have not been withdrawn, or regrouped and placed under the control of the United Nations Protection Forces (UNPROFOR), from an area within 20 kilometers of the center of Sarajevo (the NATO exclusion zone) by February 20, 1994, and excluding an area within two kilometers of the center of Pale;

(2) Conducting airstrikes sufficient to eliminate heavy weapons, along with their direct and essential military support facilities, of any of the Parties found within 20 kilometers of the center of Sarajevo, other than weapons turned over to the control of UNPROFOR, beginning February 21, 1994;

(3) Effective immediately, conducting airstrikes against heavy weapons in or around Sarajevo, including any outside the exclusion zone which are determined to be associated with attacks against civilian targets in Sarajevo;

(4) Initiating air attacks to suppress air defenses that represent a direct threat to NATO aircraft carrying out the above operations; and

(5) Providing close air support to protect the safety of the United Nations Protection Force (UNPROFOR) and facilitate the delivery of humanitarian assistance in Bosnia-Herzegovina.

(B) United States Armed Forces assigned to NATO for the conduct of the above air operations retain the prerogative to take all necessary and appropriate action for self-defense.

(C) The President is requested and encouraged to communicate to the warring parties to the conflict in Bosnia-Herzegovina that the United States Senate fully supports his use of American airpower, in concert with that of our allies, to effectively implement the decision of the North Atlantic Council of NATO.

(D) Should the Bosnian Serbs and Croats refuse to negotiate an immediate and effective political settlement to the crisis in Bosnia-Herzegovina, the President should seek the immediate lifting of the international arms embargo as it applies to that country, and should provide appropriate military assistance to the Government of Bosnia-Herzegovina upon receipt from that country of a request for assistance in exercising its right of self-defense under Article 51 of the United Nations Charter.

(E) Should the Administration consider further commitments or military action in the region of the former Yugoslavia, beyond support of the NATO decision of February 9, 1994, the President is encouraged to build a solid national consensus as a foundation for any such commitments or actions, by seeking early and prior support of the Congress. Such a request should include:

(1) an explanation of the United States interests involved in such commitments or actions;

(2) the specific objectives of the commitments or actions;

(3) the likely duration of the operation;

(4) the size, composition, command and control arrangements, rules of engagement, contributions of allied nations, and other details of the force needed to meet the objectives; ;

(5) specific measurements of success, particularly the end point of the U.S. involvement, and what follow-on security arrangements will be needed;

(6) an estimate of financial costs, including burdensharing arrangements, and non-financial costs as can be determined.

FABRIZIO, MCLAUGHLIN POLL COMPARES DOLE, KEMP, OTHERS KEMP "EMPOWERMENT" RHETORIC "BACKFIRING?;" DOLE THE INSIDER

ALEXANDRIA, VA -- A survey released today by the Republican polling firm Fabrizio, McLaughlin & Associates shed new light on Republican attitudes toward likely G.O.P. contenders for the Republican nomination in 1996.

The survey of 1,000 adults (margin of error +/-3.1%) was conducted from February 4-9. The Republican sample represented 306 of those surveyed (margin of error 5.6%). When asked who would be their "first choice for the 1996 Republican Presidential nomination," Senator Dole ranked first among G.O.P.ers with 25.8%, Jack Kemp was second with 19%, Dan Quayle third with 12.4%, Pat Buchanan took fourth with 4.9%, Dick Cheney polled fifth at 3.9%, Carroll Campbell sixth at 2.3%, Phil Gramm seventh at 1.6%, Bill Weld and Tommy Thompson shared eighth at 0.3%. Twenty-nine percent of Republicans polled were undecided.

Fabrizio said that one of the fascinating discoveries in the poll was the comparison between front-runners Dole and Kemp.

When asked who "is most committed to reducing the size and cost of government," 38.6% chose Dole, 19.9% said Kemp. When asked who "is more likely to support higher taxes and more government spending," Dole scored 19.3% to Kemp's 24.5%. Respondents were also asked which of the two "is most like Ronald Reagan." To this question, 32% said Dole, 20.9% chose Kemp. When asked which "is a conservative," 38.6% chose Dole, 19.6% said Kemp. Thirty-nine percent of Republicans surveyed said Dole "best represents my views and beliefs" vs. 18 percent who chose Kemp. On leadership, 47.7% said Dole "is best able to lead the G.O.P." compared to 20.6% who chose Kemp. On the question, "who is a Washington insider," 43.8% chose Dole to Kemp's 8.5%.

"These results are a bit telling because Senator Dole has never been strongly affiliated with the conservative wing of the G.O.P., while Kemp has. And while the tax question hurt Senator Dole in his 1988 Presidential primary bid, he still out-polls Kemp on the tax question. These results could be Republicans reacting to Kemp's 'empowerment' rhetoric which is being understood as a code word for 'big government.' But while these results appear to be positive for Dole, he is overwhelmingly viewed, in comparison to Kemp, as a Washington insider. If Kemp is able to garner the anti-Washington sentiment within the G.O.P. and recast Dole as a 'go-along, get along' Republican, Kemp could even the playing field, Fabrizio concluded.

WEEKLY ECONOMIC REPORT

by
David F. Taylor

Executive Summary

President Clinton sent Congress his first complete budget last week. After years of having Democrats declare Republican budgets "dead-on-arrival," Republicans called Clinton's FY 1995 Budget "missing-in-action" because it excluded welfare reform and most of the Clinton Health Plan.

One day after Clinton's budget arrived, Robert Reischauer, Director of the Congressional Budget Office, released CBO's analysis of the Clinton Health Plan. CNN's Bernard Shaw characterized the impact of the CBO Report as follows: "Clinton's effort to portray his health care reform plan as a deficit cutting private insurance program took it on the chin today and the Congressional Budget Office delivered the punch." (Inside Politics, 2/8)

The report contains two devastating findings: 1) "For the six-year period from 1995 through 2000, though, the Administration's estimates indicate that the proposal would reduce the deficit by about $60 billion [$59 billion to be precise]. In contrast, CBO estimates that the deficit would increase by more than $70 billion [$74 billion to be precise] over that period." The main difference between the OMB and CBO estimates is the projected cost of the mandated premiums. CBO's cost estimates are approximately 15% higher than OMB's. 2) "CBO concludes that [the Clinton health plan] would establish both a federal entitlement to health benefits and a system of mandatory payments to finance those payments that represents an exercise of sovereign power. In administering the proposed program, regional alliances, corporate alliances, and state single payer plans (if any) would operate primarily as agents of the federal government. therefore, CBO believes that the financial transactions of the health alliances should be included in the federal government's accounts and the premium payments should be shown as governmental receipts rather than as offsets to spending." (CBO Analysis of the Administration's Health Proposal, 2/8)

Although Reischauer was careful to avoid using what he calls "the T word" in describing the employer-mandated premiums in the Clinton plan, he leaves little room for the Administration to maneuver. The President's FY 1995 Budget contains the following definition of governmental receipts: "These are collections that result primarily from the Government's exercise of its sovereign power to tax or otherwise compel payment."

On the trade front, President Clinton owes much of his success in 1993 to his predecessors. Bush and Reagan did most of the spade work on GATT and gave Clinton a completed NAFTA agreement. Bilateral trade negotiations with Japan mark the first real opportunity for Clinton to establish his own trade policy. Even though the stand-off with Japanese Prime Minister Hosokawa over "numerical targets" may be politically popular in the short-run, it also increases the potential for a trade war with Japan, one that the Japanese do not appear to be afraid to wage. Clinton's insistence on targets suggests that his definition of "free trade" includes a big dose of government intervention that could hurt U.S. consumers and exporters in the long run.

Recent Economic News

- After 9 consecutive monthly increases, retail sales slumped 0.5% in January. Most economists attribute the decline to severe winter weather and the earthquake in southern California. (2/11)
- Producer prices increased 0.2% in December, as gasoline prices rose 6.5% after declining 5.3% in November and 8.5% in December. Over the past 12 months, the producer price index increased 0.2%. (2/11)
- While the unemployment rate rose to 6.7% in January, most economists agreed that the increase was due to a change in the way the Labor Department measures unemployment. Initial unemployment claims dropped 47,000 for the week ending February 5th. (2/10)

Reactions From the White House and Capitol Hill

- When it became clear that Japanese Prime Minister Hosokawa would not accept US demands for "numerical targets" to measure progress in opening up Japanese markets to U.S. exports, President Clinton decided to reject a "cosmetic" trade agreement with Japan. The decision had reopened the rift within the Democrat party on trade issues and increased pressure from Congressional Democrats for the President to impose new trade sanctions against the Japanese. Sozaburo Okamatsu, Japan's Vice Minister for International Trade said, "I don't think that the United States will impose sanctions soon, but if they do, we will break off the framework agreement." (L.A. Times and Reuters, 2/12)
- In testimony before the Senate Budget Committee, Council of Economic Advisers Chairwoman Laura Tyson sharply criticized the balanced budget constitutional amendment. Tyson said that the amendment would "put the economy through the proverbial wringer and cost millions of jobs." Tyson said that an amendment requiring a balanced budget by 1999 would lower real economic output in 2000 by $85 billion and cut 2.5 million jobs from the economy, pushing the unemployment rate up 2 full percentage points. Senator Simon's calls for a balanced budget by 2001. (AP, 2/10) Treasury Secretary Bentsen, a one-time proponent of the balanced budget amendment, said that he has changed his mind because the economy has improved. When he voted for the amendment, Bentsen said, "I didn't see the political will" of the administration or Congress to get the deficit under control. (Gannett News Service, 2/11)

Comments on the Clinton Budget

- In Saturday's GOP Response to the President's weekly radio address, Rep. John Kasich said, "All of us are happy that the economy is improving and that more Americans have jobs.... But, no matter who takes credit for the improving economy, the fact is that these better times present a golden opportunity for Congress and the president to attack the size and scope of government and make the real changes that Americans have sought for years." (Federal News Service, 2/12)
- Columnist E.J. Dionne writes, "Clinton's strategy has been to split the anti-deficit constituency. Clinton will never win many votes from the anti-government crowd--they form the heart of the Republican Party. But he can win over those who want the government to do things for them and behave more efficiently. The health care and job training components of the Clinton program send the message that government will help the middle class. Last year's deficit reduction plan, along with welfare reform and "reinventing government" is aimed at convincing doubters that Clinton cares about efficiency as much as Perot says he does." (Washington Post, 2/8)

FEATURE -- Health Care

- On the day CBO's Report on the Clinton Plan was released, President Clinton met with congressional Democrat leaders and urged them to speed up legislative work on health care reform. Ways & Means Chairman Rostenkowski has reportedly promised to get a bill out of the Health subcommittee "before the Easter recess" and try to have the full committee complete its work "by Memorial Day." Energy & Commerce Chairman Dingell has set a March 4 deadline for action in the health and environment subcommittee of his panel. (Washington Post, 2/10)
- Economist Paul Merski, Director of Citizens for a Sound Economy writes that CBO's report "confirmed that Mr. Clinton's proposed health care plan is the largest entitlement program ever--25% larger than the current Social Security system. By the year 2004, the president's health reform will cost $100 billion more than Social Security will cost in that year." (Wall St. Journal, 2/9)
- According to a new study by DRI/McGraw Hill Inc., "adoption of the Clinton health care plan, complete with spending caps, would slow down growth in real GDP and eliminate more than 900,000 jobs--nearly half of all the jobs created in 1993." The Study estimates that the plan would increase spending for medical services by $82 billion by 2000. This increase would pump up inflation and interest rates and slow the economy. The Clinton Plan would increase the federal deficit by a projected $113 billion in 2000. (The Bond Buyer, 2/10)

- A new Brookings Institution study by Henry Aaron and Barry Bosworth analyzes "key facts of the Clinton health plan" and finds that it would "lower health care costs for manufacturers, while lifting them for construction companies, retailers and other service-sector employees." Industries already providing health coverage to their employees would benefit under the Clinton plan because their insurance rates would fall 35% or $1,349/worker. But retailers, who currently don't provide insurance for many of their employees, would see their costs rise 165% or $1,301/worker. (Health Line, 2/9)

What Other People Are Saying About the Economy

- Reviews on the Fed's decision to raise short-term interest rates are mixed. Robert Brusca, chief economist with Nikko Securities, says that the Fed had to act now, before Greenspan delivers his semiannual report to Congress on February 22nd, or wait several months. Brusca contends that raising rates immediately before or after this report would cause "an uproar." (BNA, 2/14) David Shulman, chief equity strategist at Salomon Brothers, says, "The market has assumed for 5 years that the Fed would provide the liquidity to push stocks higher. This is a sea change. It's the end of the market relying on the Fed to provide that liquidity." Mickey Levy, chief economist at NationsBank, has a different view. Levy says, "The Fed action is a clear sign it means business about keeping inflation low, and low inflation paves the way for sustained economic growth." (Wall St. Journal, 2/7)
- Outgoing Fed Governor Wayne Angell is reportedly concerned about the Federal Reserve's recent move to raise interest rates. Angell has long advocated targeting the dollar to a standard basket of commodities. In December, Angell argued for an immediate half-point increase based on the price of gold. His biggest concern about the Fed's latest move is that there has been no clear signal of how it plans to measure inflation in the future. Lack of a signal leads to market uncertainty which could in turn cause long-term interest rates to rise and threaten the recovery. (Washington Post, 2/10)

Polls

- The latest CNN-Time Poll shows more than two-thirds of those surveyed think Congress should change the Clinton plan before passing it. (CNN, 2/14)
- The latest ABC/Washington Post Poll showed that while 51% approve of the Clinton Health Plan, 82% are satisfied with the quality of care they now receive. 59% are not worried about getting the care they need and 61% are satisfied with the cost of their own care. 67% worry that their future health care costs will "not be taken care of." The participants in the poll were asked, "Would you support (A) a health insurance system that provides coverage for all Americans, but limits your choice of doctors unless you're willing to pay more; or (B) a health insurance system that does not limit your choice of doctors, but also does not provide universal coverage for all Americans." 61% chose option A. 35% chose option B. (Health Line, 2/10)

- A recent Newsweek Poll, conducted 2/3-4, found that 79% of those polled thought there was a health care crisis in this country. (Newsweek, 2/7)

Different Health Care Reform Proposals	Approve	Disapprove
Universal health insurance for all Americans	73%	20%
Require Employers to Pay Most Costs of Coverage	51	41
Limit Tax Deductions to Only Basic Health Insurance	44	36
Insurance Must Be Available for Those with Pre-existing Conditions	86	10
Health Cooperatives Should Bargain for the Best Price on Care and Drugs	73	16
Gov't Regulate Cost of Care and Drugs	57	36

Quotable

- NBC's Tim Russert: "It's dead. The Clinton plan is dead." (Today, NBC, 2/9)
- President Clinton commented on the CBO report, "We'll fix that, that's not a problem. No serious person out there in the real world would be troubled by that." (Health Line, 2/9)
