MEMORANDUM

TO: Senator Dole

FROM: Randy Scheunemann

SUBJECT: Business Executives for National Security Remarks

You are scheduled to make brief remarks to the Business Executives for National Security's (BENS) Annual Washington Forum at 12:30 in the Cannon Caucus Room on Wednesday, May 4. Kerry spoke to the organizers; they expect brief informal remarks and hope for some time for questions.

BENS was formed in 1982 to bring the private sector and government together. While they have taken some "partisan" positions (e.g. opposition to nuclear testing), BENS is by large non-partisan. Their major policy priorities for 1993 are: 1) Review of Roles and Mission for the Defense establishment; 2) Base closings; 3) Defense conversion; 4) Nonproliferation; 5) Aid for defense conversion to the former Soviet Union.

I have drafted talking points for the event.

TALKING POINTS
"BENS" LUNCH

- YOU HAVE SPENT MUCH TIME AND EFFORT RE-THINKING THE U.S MILITARY ROLE IN THE POST COLD WAR WORLD.
- YOU HAVE WORKED TO ACHIEVE SAVINGS IN A NUMBER OF AREAS, SUCH AS BASE CLOSURE AND ACQUISITION REFORM.
- A BIG DEBATE IS BREWING NOW OVER THE CONTINUED PACE AND SCOPE OF DEFENSE SPENDING CUTS. "BENS" HAS BEEN AT THE FOREFRONT IN TRYING TO HAVE STRATEGY -- ROLES AND MISSIONS -
- DRIVE THE BUDGET PROCESS RATHER THAN THE REVERSE.
- IT TOOK SEVERAL YEARS AT THE END OF WORLD WAR II TO DEVELOP THE ARCHITECTURE OF THE COLD WAR ERA -- NATO, MARSHALL PLAN, THE IMF AND WORLD BANK. WE ARE NOW FACED WITH NEW CHALLENGES TODAY.
- I HAVE ARGUED THAT THE DEFENSE BUDGET HAS BEEN CUT ENOUGH -- A VIEW EXPRESSED BY PRESIDENT CLINTON IN HIS STATE OF THE UNION. WHILE WE CAN DISAGREE OVER SPECIFIC WEAPONS SYSTEMS AND PROGRAMS, WE SHOULD ALL AGREE THAT WE CANNOT ALLOW READINESS AND PREPAREDNESS TO DECLINE TO THE DANGEROUS LEVELS OF THE LATE 1970S.
- THE SOVIET UNION IS GONE, BUT A NEW WORLD ORDER OF INSTABILITY AND TURMOIL HAS REPLACED THE COLD WAR STRUGGLES. AND THERE ARE SERIOUS CONCERNS ABOUT THIS ADMINISTRATION'S FOREIGN POLICY LEADERSHIP.
- FOR EXAMPLE, IN NORTH KOREA A COMMITTED DICTATOR DEVELOPS A NUCLEAR WEAPONS PROGRAM, AND IN RESPONSE THE U.S. OFFERS NUMEROUS CONCESSIONS -- CANCELING JOINT EXERCISES, BILATERAL TALKS.
- FOR EXAMPLE, THE ADMINISTRATION APPEARS TO BE EDGING CLOSER TO MILITARY INTERVENTION IN HAITI -- DESPITE THE ADVICE OF PRESIDENT BUSH, AND PRESIDENT CLINTON'S RECENTLY RESIGNED SPECIAL AMBASSADOR.
- FOR EXAMPLE, IN BOSNIA THE ADMINISTRATION DEFERS TO A UNITED NATIONS-LED OPERATION WHICH HAS BEEN UNABLE TO PROTECT BOSNIA, AND SIMPLY SERVES AS AN EXCUSE FOR INACTION ON LIFTING THE ARMS EMBARGO OR UNDERTAKING SERIOUS AIR STRIKES.
- THERE ARE THE OTHER THREATS. THE PROLIFERATION OF WEAPONS OF MASS DESTRUCTION -- CHEMICAL, BIOLOGICAL, NUCLEAR -- AND THE ADVANCED MEANS TO DELIVER THEM ARE EXPANDING DRAMATICALLY. TERRORISM HAS REACHED U.S. SOIL IN THE WORLD TRADE CENTER BOMBING.
- SUCH NON-TRADITIONAL THREATS MAY REQUIRE A DIFFERENT RESPONSE THAN CARRIERS, AIR WINGS, AND ARMY DIVISIONS. BUT

THEY WILL REQUIRE U.S LEADERSHIP.

- THE CLINTON ADMINISTRATION IS SLOWLY LEARNING THAT WE CANNOT RELY ON THE UNITED NATIONS TO PROTECT OUR INTERESTS -- THAT WE MUST BE WILLING AND ABLE TO ACT UNILATERALLY TO FURTHER OUR INTERESTS.
- TO DO THAT REQUIRES A STRONG NATIONAL DEFENSE AND A STRONG NATIONAL ECONOMY -- GOALS WHICH "BENS" HAS DEDICATED ITSELF TO PURSUING.
- YOU HAVE ALSO BEEN INVOLVED IN ONE OF THE MOST IMPORTANT THREATS TO GLOBAL SECURITY ON THE KOREAN PENINSULA --

letter of invitation attached from Lyns Cobb
1. Would you be agreeable to speak (assuming your calendar permits) at a luncheon or in the afternoon on May 4th to the Annual Washington Forum of Business Executives for National Security (BENS). The Annual Forum and meeting of the Board of Directors attracts a very substantial audience of highly knowledgeable people on national security issues. The Chairman of BENS, Stanley Weiss, thinks you are terrific (as I told him you were), and would be delighted to offer you this platform for some serious remarks on national security issues.

2. On a more frivolous note, my good friend Jean Ferst tells me you will be in Atlanta on April 29th. Gus and I are joining her for the weekend as her guests at the Atlanta Opera Gala. She called your office to see if you might be able to stay over and be with us for the Gala on Saturday, the 30th, Of course, Elizabeth is invited as well.
I know Jean has asked Newt Gingrich and his wife. Jean has been Newt's major financial backer and political adviser for many years.

Incidentally, I am delighted to see you and Newt working so well together.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Dear Senator Dole:

Our Chairman, Stanley Weiss, had a chance to chat briefly with you last week at the lunch hosted by Pat Harrison. Stanley was very taken by your remarks; as he wrote you, however, I think he was also somewhat dismayed by the relative paucity of questions on national security issues. Maybe that's a sign of the changing times and concerns.

You may also recall that last summer when you and I spoke at Chautauqua, we discussed your observation that the closing military bases and the men and women--particularly from minority backgrounds--who are leaving the services as part of the drawdown should be viewed as important resources for rescuing our inner cities. BENS has proposed an ambitious project in this area, which we call "Human Security". If you have a chance I'd love to come by and talk to you about the concept. I've enclosed a brochure describing our idea.

Landon Rowland, who heads up our Kansas City group, and I would also like to ask you for a special favor. On May 4 we will hold our Annual Forum in Washington, beginning with a half-day at the State Department and concluding with a lunch and a panel session on the Hill. We would like to invite you to deliver a few remarks at the lunch. We know you have a very busy schedule so we would appreciate hearing from you as a keynote speaker or just having you drop by to greet the group and respond to a few questions from the audience. We anticipate that 100-150 members and friends will attend.

As you know, BENS is a national, non-partisan organization of business leaders working for a stronger, more secure America. We employ the expertise and leadership of the business community to pursue three major objectives:

- to prevent the proliferation of weapons of mass destruction;
- to promote effective and efficient defense planning, spending, and management; and
- to enhance national economic security through defense-related issues such as defense conversion and business involvement in the former Soviet Union.

I will call your office next week to follow up.

Sincerely,

1992 ANNUAL REPORT

LETTER FROM THE CHAIRMAN & PRESIDENT

During BENS' tenth year, we celebrated a decade of accomplishment. And identified many challenges for our future.

We wanted to ensure that our policy agenda was as relevant in the 1990's as it was to the 1980's. The debate over military roles and missions, the first since WWII, which BENS has championed, is a central security question. The issue of proliferation is ever more urgent, at a time when more than 20,000 nuclear weapons remain in Russia and three other former Soviet Republics. Loose nukes and bombs in a suitcase are not the stuff of Hollywood films, but real-world dangers to be addressed.

Defense transition is yet another key issue: What do we do without the pump priming of defense spending? How do we maintain a viable defense industrial base? What happens to those facilities — from bases to labs — in a new era? The BENS Special Report on defense conversion, published in 1992, offered the first thorough look at how companies are coping with defense downsizing.

After almost a decade of debate, we settled on a mission statement for BENS which lists engaging members as our primary purpose. We've held advisory and member meetings in every region. And we will continue to work to use the expertise of BENS members in developing our policy agenda and delivering our message to policy makers in Congress and the Executive Branch.

BENS has the best members of any organization - businessmen and women from across the country whose only special interest is making America safe and sound. And we are reaching out, through the media, to present the BENS agenda to a much broader audience. BENS has become an important source of information to the media on roles and missions, base closing, and defense conversion.

Now we look to the next ten years, to build a permanent watchdog organization - national, nonpartisan and working to secure America's future. With your help, we can do just that.

Sincerely,

Tyrus W. Cobb
President

Stanley A. Weiss
Chairman

Current and former BENS CEO's: Ty Cobb, Phil Lader, Larry Smith & Stanley Weiss

The Year in Review

Over the past year, BENS expanded opportunities for member engagement focused on its core issues, scored victories in Congress, developed new policy products, and raised its visibility in the media.

- BENS created steering groups composed of BENS members and experts for each of its core policy areas - defense policy and management, non-proliferation, and defense-related economic issues.

- BENS legislative victories included the Roles and Missions Amendment, Nuclear Test Ban Moratorium, Base Closing Amendment and Community Environmental Response Facilities Act, Exon-Florio Amendments, Industrial Base Amendments, Energy Policy Act of 1992, Resolution for a Joint Committee on Congressional Reorganization, the Freedom Support Act, Nunn-Lugar Amendments and AmerRus Amendments to dismantle nuclear weapons in the former Soviet Union.

- BENS members met with policy makers in Congress - Senator Richard Lugar, U.S. Rep. Dave McCurdy, Senator Bill Bradley - and from the Executive Branch - Secretary of Defense Dick Cheney, Ambassador Ronald Lehman, and Secretary of the Army Michael P. W. Stone. Regional events were held with Russian Ambassadors Lukin and Vorontzov, with John Kenneth Galbraith, Paul Kennedy, Lester Thurow, Jeffrey Garten, and other authors and commentators.

- BENS

produced a series of policy products for its members, the media, and the policy community: The Report of the BENS Commission on Fundamental Defense Management Reform; Rightsizing Through Responsible Downsizing: First Steps Toward Effective Industrial Base Policies; Weathering the Defense Transition: A Business based Approach to Conversion; Closing Excess Military Bases: Is the Process in Trouble?; Foreign Investments in Critical Industries: Where Do We Draw the Line?; Foreign Investments: Critical Industries and National Security; After the Cold War, How Much Defense Is Enough? Shaping Military Roles and Missions To Secure the Newly Won Peace and U.S. Agrees to Purchase Russian Uranium.

- BENS became the source of information to the media on key national security questions with appearances on national television including the MacNeil

Lehrer News Hour, op-ed pieces in national and regional papers, and news stories in publications including Newsweek, The New York Times, The Washington Post, the Wall Street Journal, as well as local and defense press.
