Dear Senator Dole:

I am writing on behalf of the Soap and Detergent Association ("SDA"), which will hold its mid-year meeting in Washington on May 24-26, 1994, to invite you to give informal remarks at a dinner scheduled for Tuesday, May 24, 1994, at the U.S. Navy Memorial.

By way of background, you should know that the Soap and Detergent Association is a national trade organization founded in 1926, with headquarters in New York City. Its 138 member companies include such consumer giants as The Proctor & Gamble Company, Colgate-Palmolive Company, and Lever Brothers Company. In addition to a number of smaller soap and detergent suppliers such as Dow, DuPont, Monsanto, and many others. SDA's member companies produce over 90 percent of the cleaning products sold in the United States to households, institutions and industries. Baker & Hostetler serves as general counsel to the Association.

The Soap and Detergent Association members would be greatly honored if your schedule would permit you to join them on this occasion. The event will begin with a reception at 6:30, followed by dinner at 7:30. Recognizing the demands on your time, your remarks could be delivered before, during, or after dinner. We would expect approximately 100 company representatives and SDA staff to be in attendance that evening.

Please let me know if you need additional information.

Respectfully,

Richard A. Hauser
