June 7, 1995

Dear Bob,

It was very kind of you to participate at the bust unveiling, and you were courageous to speak so favorably of my political and military service to the nation. The news media are still as hostile and vindictive as ever where I am concerned, and for a presidential candidate to say a kind word about Spiro Agnew could not have been a plus in their minds. But Bob Dole has never let the newsies make up his mind for him, and that is one reason he has earned so much respect.

I enjoyed our brief conversation at the reception, and my family, children and grandchildren were honored to meet you.

As you embark on the very difficult and tiring task of running for the presidency, we wish you well. If there is anything I can do assist, please let me know.

Warm personal regards.

Sincerely,
