The Honorable Robert Dole
United States Senate
Washington, D. C.

Dear Bob:

As I assume my new duties here at the Republican National Committee, I am anxious to know how you feel about the services available to you through this office.

I have been talking with Bob Wilson and Bill Brock about working closely with the House and Senate Committees, and I want to do everything possible to provide the maximum support and full cooperation between us.

I am enclosing a brief questionnaire. Please fill this out and return to me. You will note that the return envelope is marked "personal." I will be reading each one of these letters myself and without your frank comments this effort might indeed be meaningless.

I'm looking forward to working with you as we prepare for the next election.

Please do feel free to come visit me at our Headquarters.

Yours very truly,

George Bush
