

Has Bub left for the Army yet. If he hasn't tell him goodbye for me and wish him luck.

Dear Polks:

Believe it or not I'm finally writing home. I should have written sooner but I've been so busy trying to get started right in school. Thanks for everything you sent last week; I've still got the "shoe string potatoes" I think every boy in the house had something out of the deal. Mom, Bob, Linn, told me that anytime you felt ambitious that you could make some more of those gingerbread cookies. He really thought they were good. I didn't see our add in the paper about the house. ~~How~~ Is it still vacant or is it occupied? I think Bud's coming to Russell this week-end to try and borrow money. I may come with him if I can. ~~How~~ sister getting along in her home affairs.

Tell her I still think Harold would ~~be~~ make the best husband. & That ~~it~~ is if he ever asks her to marry him.

Am taking Zoology, Sermon II, Rhetoric II and World at War; this semester. All my classes are in the morning so that I can start ~~working~~ working afternoons next week. We've changed roommates again and I'm rooming with Phil Cordas, a boy from Fredonia. He's a damn swell fellow. I ought to get a lot of studying done. I didn't see any of the kids that were down for the debate tourney Saturday but I heard that one last.

Well there's not much more to write except that you can tell the kids that I sure appreciated their telegrams. I guess they must have sent two ~~of~~ of them ~~because~~ because when I came home from the show I had two telegrams with the same message and signatures. Goodbye, Write Love Bob.
