

Leweda —

I've been doing a lot of thinking lately and the more I think about it (that damn dirty trick you pulled on me) the madder I get. I was pretty mad when I first heard it but since then I have thought it out and I have come to the conclusion that that is the dirtiest trick any girl can pull on a boy. If you were going steady with J. L. Hog then you shouldn't have accepted me, and if, beings you did accept me, you haven't backbone enough to stick out a date, even if "your feet hurt" especially on the Junior-Senior Part. night then you are too damn stuck on him to have to worry about whether me or my friends think anything of you or not. There are a few ways a boy can pull a dirty trick on a girl & vice versa but you don't have to worry, because unlike some people I know

I think a little about friends and the future to pull them.
You would have been a hell of a lot more popular if you had been big enough to at least stuck out the date, or have really gone to bed, than to have me take you home and then have Hog come after you. So from now on you can just stop hitting me on the shoulder, and such and I won't waste time to hold my nose when you go by (although I'll suffer) and maybe sometime in the far distant future we can be friends. I'm in no hurry.
I have friends to chum around with who are decent and who won't treat me like "oh he's at least a good way to get to see a show now and then". Thanks for the lesson.
As ever - sucker
