Dear Sir:

Not very much news, but I thought I would drop you a few lines anyway. I received a package today, the first since last May, I think I know why they haven't been coming through, all that was left of this was a small lot of cheese and a lot of powder, and some string that was tied around what was the remain of a lot I don't know what was in the package when you mailed it but I have told you what I received, so check and see what was lost or borrowed by some one along the way. I hope none of my films or pen or watch was in it, because if it were it's gone. If you want to send me something again please send it in one of those round tin cans, that look like a cake can, and it at least won't get muffed or torn, or even a small wooden box, because they really become something more gone but I am not sure if that's helpful so long for now

Yours honestly
Joseph Dole
